GREEN REPORTS ON TAX CUTS IN TALK TO PUBLIC

20 Millions Saved in First Half Year.

Springfield, Ill., July 2 [Special].—Gov. Dwight Green, after six months in office, tonight gave an account of his stewardship to the voters of Illinois.

Gov. Green.

Detailing by radio the accomplishments of his administration, together with achievements of the legislature, which adjourned yesterday, the governor made this report:

1. Taxes have been reduced.
2. The budget has been balanced for the next two years.
3. Operating appropriations have been reduced 20 million dollars.
4. A new parole system, bringing judges and state officials into closer coöperation, has been adopted.
5. Private capital has been authorized to redeem unhealthy slum areas.
6. Progress has been made in eliminating governmental waste.

Public to Get Benefit.

The governor emphasized the reduction of the sales tax from 3 to 2 per cent, which became effective yesterday, but noted that trouble is being encountered in getting merchants to pass on the saving to the taxpayers.

"I assure you," he promised, "that I will do everything in my power so those who must pay the sales tax will receive the full benefit of this saving of 1 cent out of every dollar they spend. I am sure the retailers will cooperate with us in achieving that result."

Prefacing a detailed explanation of the source and disposition of tax money, the governor told his listeners: "Government is a business, and the people are the stockholders. They are entitled to know how their money is being spent, and for what."

After thanking the legislature for its efforts, which he said were as satisfying as could be expected under a two party system, the governor addressed himself to the taxpayers as follows:

Defines an Appropriation.

"To gain a clear picture of the state's financial situation, it is necessary to understand what is meant by an appropriation. In plain language, it is an authorization by the legislature to spend certain money out of the treasury. Under our constitution, nothing can be spent except under the authority of an appropriation.

"In the state treasury, the funds may be classified into three general divisions.

"First, those which are derived from direct taxes paid by the people of our state.

"Second, those funds paid by the people for special services, such as motor vehicle and gas taxes which come from automobile users and fishermen and hunters who pay licenses. These funds, under the law, can be used only for service which benefits those who paid those special taxes.

"Third, those funds which come from the federal government at Washington.

Relief for State Taxpayers.

"In the first classification of funds, namely, those that are derived from taxes paid by the people, the total appropriations made by this general assembly for the coming two years are 20 million dollars less than those made by the legislature two years ago. Thus the funds which directly touch the pocketbooks of the people of our state are reduced by that amount, or 10 million dollars a year.

"In the second class of funds, those which come from specialized groups, the total amount appropriated is approximately the same as it was two years ago.

"The third class of funds, those which we receive from the federal government and which cost the people of Illinois nothing in state or local taxes, are increased 20 million dollars over two years ago. This means that we are receiving from

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

TRIBUNE COUNTS EARLY BALLOTS FROM 19 WARDS

Only 22d in Favor of Fighting.

No stamps should be placed on ballots mailed in The Tribune war poll. The Tribune will pay the postage on all ballots. All a voter in the war poll has to do is to mark his or her ballot and mail it.

BY PERCY WOOD.

First returns from THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S war poll last night disclosed a sentiment approximately three to one against American participation in the European conflict. The first mail bags contained 1,713 replies to the question: "Shall the United States Enter the War to Help Britain Defeat Hitler?" The initial results follow:

Yes: 413, or 24.1 per cent.
No: 1,285, or 75.0 per cent.
Spoiled or unmarked ballots totaled 15, or .9 of 1 per cent.

These votes were cast by Chicagoans scattered thruout 19 of the 50 wards and were part returns from the 50,000 postcard ballots sent out in the first mailing. Every 10th voter on the official registration lists of Chicago, Cook county and the nine election board cities in downstate Illinois has or will receive a ballot, on which postage is prepaid. It is necessary for the recipients only to mark an X in the square opposite the answer they choose to give and mail the self-addressed card to have the ballot counted.

Seek to Reach 257,484.

By selecting every 10th voter, the poll seeks to reach 227,484 citizens in Chicago and the rest of Cook county, and 30,000 voters in the following downstate cities: Cairo, Bloomington, Springfield, Rockford, Aurora, Peoria, East St. Louis, Danville, and Galesburg.

Mailing of ballots has been continuous since Monday. The last of the approximately 257,000 ballots will go into the mails today.

All except 15 of the cards received yesterday were correctly marked, but a number of ballots contained comments, which, while not solicited, were counted in all cases in which the X was properly placed. These comments showed the depth of feeling on the part of the authors.

Invite Two Groups to Watch.

Because the poll aims to sample the relative strength of noninterventionist ad interventionist opinion, representatives of organizations promoting both points of view were invited to examine the poll machinery and to watch the mailing of ballots and tabulation of returns.

A CHILI CHEF FINDS HE NEEDS ALUMINUM IN THE DAY'S WORK

Representatives of civic organizations, lodges, and labor unions met with the Chicago commission on national defense in the city council chambers yesterday and promised to aid the nation-wide drive to collect old aluminum pots and pans.

Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, vice chairman of the commission, said the city will be divided into 80 sections for the collection drive from July 21 to 26. The old aluminum is to be piled in a great mound, probably in Grant park.

Newspaper photographers had been invited to the meeting and as it progressed cooks and press agents appeared miraculously from two large downtown hotels. They rushed in with armloads of pots and pans. Hodes said all useless utensils would be gladly accepted. So the photographers went to work as the cooks and press agents smiled.

When the meeting adjourned one of the cooks was found loitering in an ante-room. "What are you waiting for?" he was asked.

"I've gotta have my pot to make chili tonight," he replied.

Sues Joe Louis for Divorce; Hit Me, Says Wife

Joe Louis Barrow—or plain Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion of the world—was sued for divorce yesterday by Marva Trotter Barrow, 25 years old, whom he married in 1935 just two hours before knocking out Max Baer in New York City.

The suit, filed in Circuit court, charges extreme and repeated cruelty and alleges that Joe struck his wife "a violent blow in the mouth" last Jan. 2, and on April 19, the day she left him, struck her in the face and stepped on her ankle.

The bill states that Louis has real estate in Detroit and Chicago valued at $400,000 and an equal amount in personal property. It asks temporary alimony, lawyers' fees, permanent alimony, and restoration of Mrs. Louis' maiden name.

A Busy Champion.

It fails, however, to disclose what Mrs. Louis says is the real trouble: Joe is too busy defending his title [18 times in four years] and playing in golf tournaments to pay the attentions to a wife that a husband should.

"I'd like my husband to myself once in a while," she said last night in her apartment at 4320 Michigan avenue.

Mrs. Louis, who was a Chicago stenographer when Joe met her six years ago, did not appear to be deeply concerned by her marital troubles, but insisted that she wasn't "taking it lightly."

"I told Joe I was going to divorce him when he was in Chicago Saturday to get his wrist X-rayed," she said. "He was noncommittal and seemed to think I didn't mean it."

Here the telephone rang and Joe's mother, Mrs. Lily Brooks, called from Detroit. While Mrs. Louis talked with her, a woman friend said that Joe and his wife actually were "very much in love."

Sees a Reconciliation.

"They were born under the same sign," she said. "Both in May. And both of them are very stubborn. It's not really Joe; his manager does the thinking for him. There probably will be a reconciliation."

Mrs. Louis returned to say that Mrs. Brooks had been hysterical and that "everybody seemed upset." Mrs. Louis said she had told her mother-in-law she had done her best to save the marriage.

Joe, reached in Detroit, denied that he had struck his wife, but said he would not contest the divorce. He promised to be in Chicago Saturday in time for a conference with his wife's attorney. The champion will compete in a golf tournament in Pittsburgh today.

"NO WAR"

In a speech to the nations of the western hemisphere on Oct. 12, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"The clear facts have been stated over and over again. This country wants no war with any nation. This hemisphere wants no war with any nation. The American republics are determined to work in unity for peace just as we work in unity to defend ourselves from attack.

"We arm to defend ourselves. The strongest reason for this is that it is the strongest guarantee for peace."

LONDONER SUGGESTS PARLIAMENT SEAT FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—An honorary seat in the house of commons and an honorary membership in the British empire were suggested today for President Roosevelt by W. E. Rice, prominent London Rotarian.

Rice said Prime Minister Churchill should invite Mr. Roosevelt to accept the honors July 4 to lend "special significance" to the celebration of "Interdependence day."

Japan Decides to Keep Out of Nazi-Red War

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, July 2.—The decision of today's conference of the nation's supreme leaders, held in the presence of Emperor Hirohito, to take no part in the Russian-German war at present, but to watch developments, was cheered on all sides.

Emperor Hirohito.

Japan is a member of the axis but also has a friendship pact with the soviet.

Matsuoka Admits Gravity.

Matsuoka said that Japan does not consider the soviet-German war a matter purely affecting two nations, but one which is likely to have a grave bearing on Japan. He added that the nation would prepare meanwhile to meet any eventuality.

Even before today's announcement, the Diplomatic Review, a bimonthly publication which enjoys the support of the foreign office, said that it was up to Japan to "complete establishment of a new order in East Asia before she steps into any other affair."

Hint Blockade Proposed.

CHUNGKING, China, July 2 (AP).—There were rumors here today that Adolf Hitler's price for yesterday's axis recognition of the Japanese-sponsored Nanking government was a Japanese blockade of Vladivostok, Siberia. It was predicted that the blockade against that port, Russia's most important on the Pacific, would begin soon. Chinese reports said Japan had started transferring troops to Manchukuo and that all Germans here were expected to leave for French Indo-China.

Asks 'Scorched Earth' War to Beat Germans

MOSCOW, July 3 [Thursday]—(AP).—Josef Stalin, soviet premier and chairman of the state defense council, today warned his people by radio that they were gravely menaced by a sweeping Nazi advance into Russia and demanded a vast "scorched earth" and guerrilla system to help defeat the Germans.

"A grave danger overhangs our country," he said.

Telling this nation's millions that German troops had captured Lithuania and a considerable part of Latvia and were inside White Russia and the Ukraine, Stalin suggested this plan to defeat the invaders:

Organization of guerrilla or militia fighting units to help the regular Red army by behind the lines looting and sabotage; destruction of all foodstuffs and equipment likely to fall into German hands, and the removal of all cattle and available transport to the rear; the setting of huge forest fires to slow the Nazi march.

A Reminder of Napoleon.

He declared Hitler would suffer the same defeat Napoleon and Kaiser Wilhelm met, but sought to arouse the nation to its danger in the immediate future.

He said that Germany had gained "a certain advantageous position for her troops for a short period" by attacking the U. S. S. R., but she "has lost politically by exposing herself in the eyes of the entire world as a bloodthirsty aggressor."

Soviet Russia, he said, had made a tremendous political gain "that is bound to form the basis for development of decisive military successes of the Red army in the war with Fascist Germany."

Among other things, he said, "all the finest men and women of Europe, America, and Asia" were included with those who sympathized with the soviet government.

Recalls Churchill Speech.

"In this great war," Stalin said, "we shall have loyal allies in the peoples of Europe and America. Our war for the freedom of our country will emerge with the struggle of the peoples of Europe and America for their independence, for democratic liberties. It will be a united front of peoples standing for freedom and against enslavement and threats of enslavement by Hitler's Fascist armies.

"In this connection the historic utterance of British Prime Minister Churchill regarding aid to the soviet union and the declaration of the U. S. A. government signifying readiness to render aid to our country, which can only evoke a feeling of gratitude in the hearts of the peoples of the soviet union, are fully comprehensible and symptomatic.

"Our cause is just. The enemy must be crushed. We must win."

Measures for Defense.

In outlining measures to be taken in defense of Russia, Stalin said:

"We must strengthen the Red army's rear, subordinating all our work to this cause, all our industries must be got to work with greater intensity to produce more rifles, machine guns, artillery, bullets, shells, airplanes; we must organize the guarding of factories, power stations, telephonic and telegraphic communications, and arrange effective air raid precautions in all localities.

"We must wage a ruthless fight against all disorganizers of the rear, deserters, panic mongers, rumor mongers, exterminate spies, diversionists, enemy parachutists, rendering rapid aid in all this to our destroyer battalions.

Hints Purge of Cowards.

"All who by their panic mongering and cowardice hinder the work of defense, no matter who they are, must be immediately hailed before a military tribunal.

"In case of a forced retreat of Red army units, all rolling stock must be evacuated, the enemy must not be left a single engine, a single railway car, not a single pound of grain or a gallon of fuel."

Discussing eventualities of the war, Stalin said:

"History shows that invincible armies do not exist and never have existed. The army of Napoleon was considered invincible but he was defeated finally by Russian, English, and German troops. The German army of Wilhelm II. also was considered invincible during the first imperialist war. Nevertheless it submitted several times to defeats inflicted by Russian and Anglo-French troops and finally was crushed by Anglo-French troops."

Stalin defended his course in having made a nonaggression pact. He said that in the cause of peace "we could not refuse such a pact even to such monsters as Hitler and Ribbentrop [Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister]."

NAZIS NEARING LENINGRAD IN THREE THRUSTS

Red Corps Reported in New Trap.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, July 3 [Thursday].—German forces today penetrated the old line of defenses on the Estonian-soviet border and attacked Pskov, Russia, whose capture is expected hourly. Pskov is at the southern end of the large Lake Peipus [between Estonia and Russia] and is less than 175 miles from Leningrad.

[Three German drives apparently were directed at Leningrad, Russia's second largest city. One was the thrust at Pskov. The Germans have reached the gates of that city. Another was from Finland on the Karelian isthmus about 75 miles northwest of Leningrad, and the third thru Riga and along the Latvian and Estonian coasts. The Pskov drive apparently had carried thru from Dvinsk in southeastern Latvia.]

The soviet army's Baltic corps is trapped in the area between Pskov and Riga. The German troops which yesterday passed thru Riga, the capital of Latvia, today were making rapid progress toward the Estonian frontier on the Gulf of Riga.

In a Smaller Pocket.

Some of the Russian units were trapped in a smaller pocket formed by the triangle of Libau and Windau, on the Baltic sea, and Riga. The column pressing northward from Riga is heading toward Tallinn, the capital of Estonia, and Baltiski, the important naval base which guards the south arm of the Gulf of Finland—opposite Hango naval base in Finland.

Lake Peipus confines the retreat of the Russian divisions within Estonia to a narrow strip of land between the northern end of the lake and the Gulf of Finland. Near Narva, on this strip, the bridges have been dynamited by the Estonians and guerrilla bands are inflicting losses upon the Russians.

The road to Pskov runs for many miles thru a peat bog and was heavily mined by the Russians. The Germans were delayed while pioneer detachments repaired the road, so that heavy army tractors could pass over it.

Fight on Old Battleground.

Pechori, Estonia, an ancient Russian monastery town to the west of Pskov, an old battleground of the Slavs and Baltic nations, again is the scene of a conflict whose echoes could be heard many miles away in the university town of Tartu. There Estonian students and insurgents were fighting and harrying the Red units, some of which already were retreating toward Narva.

In the Baltic states the medieval character of the war between Germany and Russia has been striking. Towns have been captured in hand to hand fighting. In Dvinsk [Daugavpils], Libau and Windau and Jelgava, all in former Latvia, many buildings had to be stormed and the Russians defended themselves to the last man.

The Germans assert their attacks have completely disorganized soviet communications and that the numerous field radios of the Red army have been unable to conceal their defenses. German false orders in the proper code have been placing the Russian troops in more and more vulnerable positions.

Drop Leaflets on Hango.

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—A newspaper dispatch to Goteborg, Sweden, from Helsingfors, quoted by the Exchange Telegraph company, British news agency, said today that Finnish planes flying over the Russian leased base of Hango dropped leaflets demanding its capitulation. It added that Russian aerial activity was decreasing and apparently soviet planes had been withdrawn from Baltic bases.

Claim Vilpuri Surrounded.

New York, July 2 (AP).—The British radio quoted a German controled Norwegian broadcast today saying that the Russian base of Vilpuri [Viborg] on the Karelian isthmus, attacked yesterday by German forces from the sea, has been surrounded. The surrounding force, according to the broadcast heard in New York, consisted of Finnish soldiers who were said to have landed behind the Russian base.

GREEN REPORTS TO PUBLIC ON HIS SLASH IN TAXES

Recounts How 20 Millions Have Been Saved.

the central government for such things as old age assistance and aid to dependent children, 20 million dollars more than we received from that source during the last two years. This additional 20 million dollars for the benefit of those who are in dire need must pass thru the state treasury and be appropriated by the legislature before it can be used.

Sales Tax Reduced.

"Those who have sought to confuse the public and to make it believe that no saving has been effected have neglected to call attention to the fact that this increase of 20 million dollars in funds will be received from the federal government, and they have made it appear that this amount is an increased expenditure out of taxes collected from the people.

"It is entirely a coincidence that the amount which we are saving to the taxpayers is substantially the same as the amount which we are receiving from the federal government for additional aid for unfortunates.

"By reason of the saving made in appropriations which are paid by the people of our own state, we have been able to reduce the sales tax from 3 to 2 per cent.

New Taxes Easier Borne.

"The reduction of the sales tax lowered revenues by approximately 65 million dollars for the two year period. Since the savings which we have made are 20 million dollars, it was necessary to provide for the difference—about 40 to 45 millions—by imposing a tax on cigarets and an additional tax on liquor, beer, and wine. I believe these taxes can be borne more easily than the larger sales tax on food and other items of merchandise.

"Alluding again to the 20 million dollar saving, it is only fair that the people should know that there would have been an even greater reduction had not certain activities been given larger appropriations than before.

"The University of Illinois, the State Normal schools, and the state distributive common school fund are receiving approximately 3 millions more.

"The state's contribution for old age assistance has been increased 9 millions, and the state's share of aid to dependent children 8 millions. It is obvious that had this administration made no greater contributions to those activities than were made by the last administration, there would have been a saving of 40 million dollars, instead of 20 million dollars.

Drain on Treasury Halted.

"There is an additional saving of 70 million dollars, which the people of our state should know about. This is not a reduction, but is a saving effected because my associates in the department of finance, on the budgetary commission and in the legislature stoutly refused to permit appropriations to be made for many new enterprises and activities for which requests were made. We refused to grant them, and tho we may have disappointed some sincere people, I believe that the citizens of Illinois who would have been required to pay that additional 70 million dollars will approve our action.

"There are some who cause confusion by twisting words to suit their own selfish meaning, and they are now attempting to misconstrue the words which I used during my campaign. In my public addresses, I referred many times to the serious waste in the cost of government. The fact that we eliminated 20 million dollars in five short months demonstrates there have been wastes in government in our state.

Pledges End of Waste.

"Money has been wasted in past years thru the payment of excessive prices for materials, and by the awarding of contracts at prices that were too high. The fact that money is appropriated by the legislature does not necessarily mean that it will be spent. Whatever additional amounts we can save out of the money appropriated will be saved. Every contract for material, or for work, which will be let by my administration, will be obtained at the very lowest possible cost.

"I will give you one instance of what we have already accomplished. Two years ago liquor revenue stamps were purchased for 75 cents a thousand. Today we are buying stamps of equal quality for 42 cents a thousand. Revenue stamps for beer were bought by the preceding administration for $2.95 a thousand. We are obtaining stamps of equal or better quality at 54 cents a thousand. That is what I meant by stopping waste.

Reports on Achievements.

"I owe you a brief report of the achievements in legislation, designed to bring increased service to the greatest possible number of citizens.

"To correct former abuses, a new department of public safety has been created. Under its supervision will be the administration of paroles and prisons, the supervision of parolees, crime correction and prevention, and the department of highway police. The parole system of Illinois has long been under public attack, and the new law, by bringing judges of the courts and state officials into closer coöperation, should remedy all defects which have been criticized.

"In some of our larger cities are districts which have become a menace to health and morals. To us they are known as the slums. By enactment of the measure which will permit private capital to redeem this property and make it habitable again, much will be done to help a great number of people. Not only will the dangers of these blighted areas be removed, but the slack in labor, which will occur when the national defense program slows down, can be absorbed.

Building Law Cited.

"The state of Illinois is now paying annual rentals exceeding a half million dollars for offices in Chicago. Thru the building authority law which has been enacted, the state will be able to acquire its own building, paying for it out of rentals. Eventually it will become the property of the state.

"Within little more than a year the people of the state will have the opportunity of voting on a constitutional amendment designed to remove the sales tax on foods. It was my promise that this tax would be lifted thru any legal means which could be employed, so that the burden could be lifted from the dinner tables of those least able to pay. My every effort will be devoted to securing the passage of this amendment.

"I have reported some of my pledges to the people of Illinois which are being carried out. I renew those pledges now. As long as I am governor of the state, my efforts, and the efforts of those associated with me, will be directed toward every measure of economy and increasing benefits to the people that it is possible to achieve."

Wilmington, Del., July 3 [Thursday] (AP).—Mrs. Elizabeth G. Dietzel, 38, was charged with murder early today in the death of her husband, Frank H. Dietzel, who was found dead in their apartment. Mrs. Dietzel admitted striking her husband with a china plate following an argument, said Police Inspector James C. Riley.

Division of supervision of parolees—Owen G. Connerton of Chicago, who will remain as assistant superintendent in charge of the Chicago office, a post he has held since 1937, and Edward A. Marfell of Witt, who resigned as chief deputy sheriff of Montgomery county to take charge of the Springfield office.

Division of crime prevention—Lawrence Morrell Gross of Brookfield, former police magistrate of Brookfield and member of the state Young Republicans' board of governors in 1939.

INDICT COUNTY TAX EMPLOYE IN $8,211 FRAUD

John L. Fitzsimmons, 58 years old, a clerk in the office of County Treasurer John Toman, was named in an indictment returned by the county grand jury yesterday charging him with embezzlement of $8,211 in personal property tax funds.

He allegedly withheld the money which was paid in taxes in December, 1937, by the Beardsley & Piper company, 2541 North Keeler avenue, a foundry equipment concern. Fitzsimmons, who lives at 816 West 54th place, was arrested last month after the company replied to attempts to collect the tax by showing receipts for the payment given by Fitzsimmons. It was explained that the statute of limitations of three years does not apply because the alleged fraud was not brought to light until that time.

TAX COLLECTIONS UP 8½ MILLIONS OVER 1940 RECORD

Collections on 1940 taxes 30 days after the June 1 penalty date totaled $113,340,000, or 51.3 per cent of the total taxes billed, County Treasurer John Toman reported yesterday. This is an increase of $8,604,000 over last year's collections on June 30, which totaled $104,736,000 or 48.2 per cent of the total tax bill. Personal property tax payments this year have amounted to 54.2 per cent of the billing, compared with 53.9 per cent at the corresponding time last year. Real estate taxes are 50.1 per cent collected, compared with 47 per cent a year ago. The entire amount of personal property bills was due June 1, but only half payments were due on real estate bills.

PREDICTS CHICAGO TAX RATE TO HIT NEW HIGH FOR '41

Civic Federation Expects Levy of $9.75 Per $100.

Chicago taxpayers will pay an all-time high tax rate of approximately $9.75 per $100 of assessed valuation in 1941, the Civic Federation predicted yesterday in its annual report on taxes and debts of Cook county governments. Property generally is assessed at 37 per cent of its full value.

The highest tax rate in Chicago previously has been $9.52, established for 1936 and 1940. Tax bills for 1940 are now in the process of collection.

Chicago's 1940 tax rate is already the second highest among the 13 cities in the United States with a population of 500,000 or more, the federation reported. Boston is the only city with a higher rate.

Rates in Other Cities.

The 1940 tax rates for various cities, adjusted to make the assessment basis uniform, were as follows, according to the federation: Boston, $40.60 per $1,000 of assessment; Chicago, $35.25; Milwaukee, $34.03; Buffalo, $33.95; Detroit, $33.23; Baltimore, $30.34; Pittsburgh, $29.42; Philadelphia, $28.75; Los Angeles, $28.45; New York, $27.36; Cleveland, $25.56; St. Louis, $23.29, and San Francisco, $19.69.

Higher tax levies in 1941 by the board of education and the Chicago park district, amounting to 4¼ million dollars, will be chiefly responsible for boosting Chicago's tax rate, the federation's summary showed. The school board's pegged tax levy for 1941 for the educational fund was increased by the state assembly at its session just closed from 48 to 52 million dollars.

The assembly also raised the park district's 1941 levy for its operating fund, which had previously been pegged at $10,250,000, to $10,500,000.

The overall increase in taxes will push Chicago's total tax bill for 1941 in dollars to $193,395,000, the highest since 1931, the report disclosed. The Chicago tax rate in 1931 was only $7.35, but total taxes exceeded 229 millions. This is explained by the fact that property valuations were much higher in 1931 than at present.

City Debts Increase.

Despite the steady rise in taxes billed in recent years, the six major governments in Cook county have made no headway in reducing their unpaid bills, the federation asserted. Their unpaid bills at the end of 1940 totaled $18,913,000, an increase of more than $900,000 for the year. Contributing to this increase were the school board, county, and park sanitary districts.

Altho the city reduced its unpaid bills by $238,000 last year, its total current debts, including judgments, actually increased to $14,460,000 at the end of 1940, compared with $14,154,000 a year earlier, the report said.

"No real improvement occurred in the alarming condition of the city's corporate fund and that of the county became even more desperate," the report declared. "The trend of tax collections was generally in the right direction but the situation is still far from satisfactory."

AL SMITH QUITS GROUP BECAUSE OF NEGROES' BAN

New York, July 2 (AP).—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and City Park Commissioner Robert Moses resigned today as vice presidents of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, asserting the society had struck a sour note by banning Negroes from national quartet competition.

Smith said O. C. Cash of Tulsa, Okla., founder of the society, telegraphed that the board of directors had rejected New York City's entry—a quartet of Grand Central terminal red caps—because of their race, for the three day national competitions opening in St. Louis tomorrow.

"Many of our members and chapters are in the south where the race question is a touchy subject," Smith quoted Cash as saying in a letter following the telegram. "This sort of arrangement would embarrass us."

Moses in his letter of resignation, said he was sorry that "this sour note has marred our pleasant harmonies."

NAB ALLEGED BANDIT IN 15 MINUTES.

TRIBUNE EXTENDS FASHION CONTEST ENTRY DEADLINE

Closing Date Now July 15; Interest Great.

The deadline for entries in the second annual American Fashions competition sponsored by THE TRIBUNE has been extended from midnight, July 7, to midnight, July 15.

The additional week of grace was deemed advisable yesterday because of the great interest in the contest since its initial anouncement on June 22. Many designers, learning of it belatedly, have written to request contest rules within the last few days, and authorities considered it unfair to compel them to turn out designs in two days to compete with those on which others have labored two weeks.

500 Artists Notified.

Notices of the extension were mailed last night to the 500 artists who already have sent for copies of the rules. Of these, 200 are winners of the 1940 contest which, like the present competition, was sponsored to encourage original American design.

Any artist or designer resident in the United States since June 17 is eligible to enter one or more designs, all to be submitted in sketch form. Designs for any article or ensemble of women's outer wearing apparel suitable for introduction on the American market in 1942 may be submitted.

A committee headed by Mrs. Grace Pickering, noted fashion authority who conducted the 1940 competition, will select 15 or more designs from those submitted. The designer of each of these sketches will receive $50, a $500 award going to the entrant whose finished design is considered the best from the triple standpoint of originality, ingenuity in use of fabrics, and suitability for market introduction.

Winners to Be Completed.

The 15 or more designs selected will be made into original models at the expense of THE TRIBUNE and later will be photographed in color for reproduction in the picture section of THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE. Credit will go to each designer.

An inkling of the interest shown in the contest is manifest in this excerpt from a typical letter:

"I should like to give a vote of thanks to THE TRIBUNE for repeating its contest idea. I believe it is one of the most constructive efforts to encourage and aid unrecognized American designers.

"After seeing the show last year, I have no doubts concerning its success this year and am quite sure it will be an even greater achievement."

Inquiries concerning the competition should be addressed to American Fashions, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 435 North Michigan avenue, Chicago.

1 IN 6 ON ILLINOIS DRAFT LIST FACES CALL WITHIN YEAR

Illinois will be compelled to send approximately one-sixth of the men on its draft registration lists into army service in the coming year, it was disclosed yesterday in a survey of records at the close of the nation's second draft registration on Tuesday. Illinois' share of the 900,000 draftees ordered to training in the next 12 months by President Roosevelt is 8 per cent, about 72,000 draftees, an average of 6,000 a month.

Blanket deferment of 210,000 registrants 28 years old and over has left 390,000 names on the list from the first registration in Illinois last October. Tuesday's registration of men of 21 added 43,743 names, making a total of 433,743 men available. Thus, to provide 72,000 men for training, Illinois will have to send approximately one out of every six men on the list.

Six hundred Cook countians scheduled for induction within the next 10 days were notified yesterday that, because of the decision to defer draftees 28 or over, they will not be taken. Included in this 28-35 age group were 120 men who had been scheduled to report for induction when the Chicago draft station reopens today.

Marion Talley tucking daughter, Susan, into bed after court gave her custody of child.

Beverly Hills, Cal., July 2 [Special].—Today may have been like almost any other day to 6 year old Susan Eckstrom as she played in her nursery, but to Marion Talley, singer, the day was a banner one in her long court struggle with Adolph Eckstrom, New York voice coach, for custody of the little girl. By court order the opera star gained exclusive custody of Susan. She also won a divorce from Eckstrom.

PEACE STILL FAR OFF, SAYS POPE, AND TELLS WHY

ROME, July 2.—Pope Pius XII. declared today in his customary Wednesday public audience that peace is far off. He explained the Catholic church's doctrine on the reasons why prayers for peace have not been granted.

"The entire church with all its peoples multiply their prayers to obtain the end of the calamity which saddens the great human family," he said. "Instead, that peace according to justice, which is desired, invoked, and sighed for with such burning pleas and which seems so necessary to the wellbeing of all and the good of the very soul, is still delayed."

He cited St. Thomas, who said people sometimes pray for an apparent good which is really an evil, continuing, "God sees far beyond what you desire. . . . It may be more merciful in the long run if a prayer be not granted. For either, when we ask something in the name of the Saviour, he does not always grant it then, when we pray, but grants it in his time. That which is deferred is not denied."

JAP SHIPS TO END ATLANTIC TRIPS; BAN CANAL USE

New York, July 2 [Special].—Speculation as to whether Japan expects trouble soon or is merely conserving her shipping facilities was current among importers today after receipt of advices from Tokio that Japanese merchant vessels hereafter would not go thru the Panama canal but would deposit all cargoes at west coast ports.

According to information cabled to buyers here by their Japanese representatives, all ships of Japanese registry, under orders from their government, must leave Atlantic coast ports and be thru the canal by July 20.

Some foreign traders interpreted the advices to mean that Japan plans to take definite steps to assist the axis powers this month. Others held only that Japan needs to conserve her shipping facilities and is doing her best to send the maximum amount of cargo to this country in the number of ships available. To do this, they added, it would be natural to cut out trips to Atlantic ports.

PUT DOWNSTATE WITHIN SCOPE OF DRIVE ON SYPHILIS

State, City Health Board Reach Agreement.

The state health department yesterday agreed to act as a co-sponsor with the city health board of the $1,473,743 anti-venereal disease WPA project originally scheduled for Chicago. The agreement was reached at a conference in Springfield attended by State Health Director Ronald R. Cross, Gov. Green, Dr. O. S. Wenger of the United States public health service, and Dr. H. M. Soloway, state venereal disease officer.

Tentative agreement at yesterday's conference was that the Chicago health department's experience in combating venereal diseases would be used to assist downstate communities.

Recheck of Positive Cases.

According to those plans a training center will be established here where WPA field workers from both Chicago and downstate will be taught methods of finding persons who are sources for both syphilis and gonorrhea.

The Chicago program calls first for a recanvass of 56,000 persons who showed positive reactions to blood tests made among 1,046,000 individuals during the present campaign in this area.

Dr. Bundesen has said that all persons found with either disease will be asked to submit to modern treatments which would make them noninfective in a short time. If a resident refused to be treated, the building or apartment in which he or she lived would be quarantined with a red and black quarantine sign naming the disease.

Investigators Needed.

Investigators also would endeavor to learn where the person contracted the disease and bring in that other individual. "That is where detective work and investigators are needed," Dr. Bundesen said.

According to Dr. Cross the project is designed as a national defense measure to protect both civilians and draftees and to bring under treatment the draftees who are rejected because of syphilis and gonorrhea.

EDITH M'CORMICK ESTATE NAMED IN TAX COMPLAINT

A tax foreclosure complaint to place the 259 acre Villa Turricum estate of the late Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick in Lake Forest under the hammer for $317,125 in unpaid real estate taxes, penalties, and costs, was filed yesterday in the Circuit court of Lake county at Waukegan.

The complaint, prepared by the office of State's Attorney Harry A. Hall, is directed against the Chicago Title and Trust company as executor of the will of Mrs. McCormick, who died in Chicago Aug. 25, 1932, and against her son, Fowler McCormick, and other heirs under the will.

The foreclosure action is against 16 parcels of property, all contiguous, on the lake front on East Westleigh road, east of Sheridan road, in Deerfield township, just north of Fort Sheridan. Villa Turricum, a mansion of 44 rooms and 15 baths, stands on the estate. The sale is expected to be held in about 90 days.

DAIRYMEN DUMP MILK IN BATTLE FOR PRICE BOOST

Utica, N. Y., July 2 (AP).—Efforts of the Dairy Farmers union to withhold a three state milk supply from the New York City market resulted today in the dumping of "hundreds of gallons" and union claims to increasing curtailment of the normal 5,000,000 quart daily flow.

The second day of a milk holiday, called by the union to boost prices paid to producers, brought an appeal from Owen D. Young, retired industrialist, for creation of a temporary mediation board to determine a fair price for farmers under existing conditions. Leaders of the DFU approved this move.

Picketing intensity was increased generally today, the union said, in the attempt to force dealers to grant a $3 uniform price per hundredweight [47 quarts] as compared to $1.83 in May.

INDICT 16 IN RING EXTORTING FROM MILK DEALERS

$2,500,000 'Take,' Says Dewey; 350 Witnesses.

New York, July 2 [Special.]—Sixteen men, including 10 under arrest, were indicted today on charges of extortion and conspiracy against independent wholesale milk dealers and trucking firms that transport millions of quarts of milk into New York City annually.

The 96 page document listing 44 alleged acts of extortion and one of conspiracy was described by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey as not only the most voluminous bill ever filed by a New York grand jury but the most important racket indictment he has obtained in his 10 year career as a prosecutor.

"The total take of the defendants, according to testimony we have obtained from more than 350 witnesses," said Dewey, "is more than $2,500,000.

Throttlehold on Business.

"This organization for a period of years built up its strength to such a point that it had a throttlehold on the distribution and sale of milk not only in the metropolitan district, but in southern and central New York state."

He added that the trucking firm victims hauled milk from Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey.

Fourteen of the 115 wholesale independent milk dealers who do business in New York City and 10 trucking companies are listed as victims of the racketeers.

The crimes set forth go back as far as January, 1935, and a number of the victims were forced to hand over large sums to the defendants.

Believe One Defendent Is Dead.

Extortions listed in the indictment total $157,800. The only one of the six not yet arrested who was identified is Harry Kirschbaum, 48 years old, once a member of the Jack [Legs] Diamond gang. Dewey said it is highly possible he is dead. His record dates back to 1908 and he has been arrested 18 times since.

Among those under arrest are Jacob Bernoff, 34, alleged leader of the racket; Murray Gabaeff, 42; Edward Taylor, 42, all of whom have prison records, according to Dewey. Jeremiah Buckley, Jersey City, secretary treasurer of a local of the AFL teamsters' union has "a fancy record of arrests, but no convictions," Dewey said.

ACQUIT BRITISH KNIGHT OF EARL'S DEATH IN AFRICA

Sir Henry Broughton.

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, July 2 (AP).—Major Sir Henry John Delves Broughton, 57 year old World war veteran, was acquitted today of a charge of murder in connection with the death of the earl of Erroll, hereditary high constable of Scotland.

The jury deliberated three and a half hours on evidence presented to a colonial court intermittently since mid-March. Sir Henry thanked the jury and the court for courtesy shown him during the longest trial in the history of the colony. Applause greeted the verdict.

The earl of Erroll, a widower, was found shot thru the head in an automobile parked on a moonlit road last Jan. 24 a few hours after he had left a dinner party attended by Sir Henry and his bride, Diana. A police statement read to the court early in the trial quoted Sir Henry as saying his wife and the earl were in love and planned to marry, once a divorce could be arranged.

SOVIET BATTLES GERMAN THRUST EAST OF MINSK

Launches Counterattack in Murmansk Area.

MOSCOW, July 3 [Thursday]—(AP).—The Red army today reported violent battles with the Germans raging all the way from Murmansk in the Arctic to the Luck region of southeastern Poland, marked by fierce fighting, stubborn resistance, and strong counterattacks.

The Russians acknowledged for the first time a German penetration beyond Minsk, key communications center on the highway to Moscow, declaring that Russian troops were fighting "hard and fiercely" against German mobile troops in the Borizov region.

Borizov is 50 miles northeast of Minsk on the Moscow road—still approximately 375 miles from Moscow.

[Neither Russian nor German official pronouncements mentioned Minsk yesterday. Earlier unofficial German sources had claimed its capture. It appeared likely the Germans had moved around Minsk without taking it.]

Murmansk Counterattack.

"In the direction [sector] of Murmansk," the communique said, "our troops halted by fire and counterattacks an enemy offensive of about two divisions against the Sredni peninsula and to the southeast inflicted a great defeat upon him."

[The Germans on Wednesday said Nazi and Finnish troops together had attacked the soviet frontier in this region, and in Helsingfors the newspaper Ilta Sanomat reported the railroad and harbor of Murmansk had been destroyed, adding "operations are continuing." Finnish patrols also were blasting and destroying soviet communications on the Leningrad-Murmansk railway. Helsingfors made no mention of Swedish reports that Nazis and Finns had captured Murmansk.]

In the Arctic fighting ships and aircraft of the soviet northern fleet supported the army in fighting the Germans, with the aircraft of the naval command shooting down five Nazi planes in air battles.

Great Battle Near Dvinsk.

In the Dvinsk [Daugavpils] sector of western White Russia [former southeastern Latvia] "a great battle developed" and "the fighting continues," the Russians said. Hundreds of German tanks were "destroyed." Cut off from the German infantry forces, the tanks were blasted apart and destroyed by artillery, hand grenades, and bottles filled with gasoline, hurled at the invaders with lighted fuse.

In the Kuolajarvi region along the central part of the Finnish border and on the Karelian isthmus the Red army repulsed all attacks, inflicting great losses.

In the Minsk region heavy fighting was reported raging around Bobruisk, 90 miles southeast of Minsk, and around Slutsk, 50 miles south of the city, as well as at Borizov.

Blow Up Bucharest Arsenal.

Fighting also was under way around Luck, in southeastern Poland, and at Rowne, 40 miles southeast of Luck. "The enemy has not yet given up the attempt to break thru the southeast, but his attempts have failed everywhere," the Russians said.

Russian planes bombed the Rumanian capital of Bucharest, blowing up the arsenal there.

[The London wireless attributed to Moscow a report that a southern Russian naval squadron had shelled and destroyed the German-occupied Constanta, Rumanian naval base, from which German submarines have been operating. The Germans were said to have been taken wholly by surprise. A Russian radio report heard in the United States said that four German submarines had been sunk in three days by soviet warships in the Baltic.]

As the army was fighting against the German drives the government ordered compulsory training for uncounted millions of civilians to make every Russian shop and household a small fortress.

The cabinet summoned all male civilians between 16 and 60 years, and all women from 18 to 50, for instruction against air and gas attack and even arranged special training for children from 8 to 16 years old.

DIES OF FALL INJURIES.

Joseph Perecka, 63 years old, 13213 Exchange avenue, died in South Chicago hospital last night of injuries suffered at 130th street and Torrence avenue when he apparently fell from the South Shore elevated tracks.

Soviet Troops 'Slaughtered' in Trap, German Army Claims

BERLIN, July 2 (AP).—The German army tonight proclaimed a virtual slaughter of the Russian armies trapped east of Bialystok [eastern Poland], announcing a complete victory with "unbelievable chaos" overtaking the remnants of 500,000 Red soldiers.

"Because of the stubborn soviet Russian defense and the embittered attempts to break out" of the German trap, the high command said, "the bloody losses of the enemy exceed the number of prisoners by several times."

There was no authorized interpretation of the communique, but some informed quarters believed its reference to the event as of "world historical proportions" possibly meant that the backbone of the whole Red army is considered cracked.

Fate of Minsk Obscure.

A total of 160,000 Russian prisoners has been taken on all fronts since the beginning of the war on June 22, the army stated. Of these, 100,000 were said to have been counted so far in the trap between Bialystok and Minsk.

The fate of Minsk itself remained obscure, with the high command not mentioning earlier German claims that it had fallen.

Declaring that "weeks can pass before the inestimable" amount of booty could be counted, the high command gave these provisional figures for all fronts up thru yesterday:

Captured or destroyed—5,774 tanks, 2,330 guns and anti-aircraft guns, four armored trains, "inestimable amount" of machine guns and rifles.

Destroyed—4,725 Russian planes, including 1,392 shot down in air battles, 112 by anti-aircraft artillery and 3,221 destroyed on ground.

Captured—160,000 prisoners "so far counted."

Start New Finnish Drives.

Tonight Germans awaited news on armored spearheads aimed at Moscow. There had been no word of the progress of armored units reported advancing on Smolensk, far to the east of Minsk, two days ago. Smolensk is approximately half way along the 420 mile route from Minsk to the soviet capital.

The high command announced the start of a new German-Finnish attack across the soviet border from central and northern Finland.

[The British radio broadcast unconfirmed reports that German and Finnish troops have cut the Murmansk-Leningrad railway where that line from Russia's second city to the Arctic port of Murmansk crosses the White sea. Earlier a Stockholm dispatch to Reuters (British) news agency said that Murmansk had been in German hands since Tuesday. The fall of Murmansk, German sources were quoted as saying, would prevent supplies from Great Britain and the United States from reaching the Russians by this route and would mean that European Russia was entirely cut off. The Tribune's correspondent in Stockholm reported Kandalaksha, a White sea port, had been taken by Finnish-German forces. This means that the Russian forces on the Kola peninsula are isolated.]

Reds Retreat at Lwow.

German military sources said that the Russians were retreating both north and south of Lwow [southern Poland] under air attacks which were inflicting heavy losses as they fled, and that east of the city a new encirclement of Russian forces was developing.

BRITAIN APPOINTS ARMY MANAGER FOR MIDDLE EAST

Gen. Haining Gets New Post in Africa.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 2.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Robert H. Haining, vice chief of the imperial general staff, has been sent to the middle east as army manager, it was disclosed by the war office tonight, in continuation of a shake-up in commands. He was given the title of intendent general, which means superintendent or administrator.

Lieut. Gen. Haining.

Appointment of Gen. Haining, who commanded British forces in Palestine in 1937 and also has been director of military operations and intelligence, reflected the need for a senior officer to deal with complicated administrative problems in the Suez canal area, it was explained.

Churchill Declines Explanation.

Overhauling of the middle east commands began yesterday with the transfer to India of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, who conquered the Italians in Libya but was forced back to Egypt by the Germans. Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck has arrived in Egypt from India to take his post.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill declined to explain to the house of commons today why Gen. Wavell had been shifted, but newspapers praised the middle east commander as being one of the most popular and able generals in the war. In Australian quarters, however, it was asserted there was dissatisfaction with Wavell's conduct of the Libyan and Greek campaigns.

In Canberra Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies told the Australian house of representatives that in the shifting of Wavell "it was felt the opportunity should be taken to place a fresh mind on the problems of the middle east."]

Demands Real Reason.

Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war minister, raised the question of Wavell's transfer in commons and said he intended to bring the subject up again. He also questioned the appointment of Capt. Oliver Lyttelton, former president of the board of trade, as minister of state and his transfer to the middle east to take charge of affairs to be brought under civilian control.

The Daily Herald demanded that the real reasons for shifting Wavell be made public, declaring the people have a "right to be given the fullest information about the war—a right often overridden but never more unreasonably than in this case."

Egypt Regrets Change.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 2 (AP).—Egyptians expressed regret today at the transfer to India of General Sir Archibald Wavell, who enjoyed in Egypt a respect accorded no other foreign personality in recent times. Gen. Wavell's name had become a household word and he played a big part in influencing public opinion in favor of the allies.

LONDON TOBACCO BUYERS ANGERED OVER HIGH PRICES

Hotels, Clubs Outbid Them at Auction.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 2.—Angry tobacconists created an uproar at an auction of salvaged cigarets, tobacco, and cigars today. There has been a serious shortage of tobacco products for weeks and the salesroom was packed with retailers, but they found themselves repeatedly outbid by persons paying prices higher than the retail limits.

As the sale progressed pandemonium broke out. Licensed tobacconists, including several women, clamored for the names of the buyers, but the auctioneer refused to disclose them.

"You are encouraging black [illegal] markets," one tobacconist yelled.

Blame Hotels, Clubs.

Others demanded that the buyers be forced to show licenses proving they were bona fide tobacconists. All demands were refused and the high bids continued until the sale was terminated. It was charged that hotels and clubs were responsible for the inflated prices.

The shortage of potatoes in some London districts continued today despite an announcement that the food ministry was releasing 20,000 tons from stock. Grocers displayed such notices as, "No potatoes, either new or old," outside their shops. In other districts only regular customers obtained supplies.

Fish Becomes Scarce.

Fish also is disappearing from the market since prices have been controlled. At a Billingsgate market it was stated that "unless conditions improve there will be practically no fish in the shops by Friday."

Food Minister Lord Woolton has asked the navy to help him supply fish by commandeering and operating fishing trawlers which refuse to put to sea as a protest against the new price fixing regulations. The food ministry also announced it would control prices of apples and plums during the forthcoming season.

Col. Hamilton Fish Reports for 30 Day Army Training

Fort Bragg, N. C., July 2 (AP).—Col. Hamilton Fish Jr., Republican representative from New York, reported today to post headquarters for 30 days training. Col. Fish is rated as a specialist and, post officials said, likely would serve with several outfits during his stay. After spending several hours at the headquarters the colonel was assigned to the 41st engineers, a Negro outfit known as the "singing engineers" because of their habit of singing while at work or marching.

U. S. FAVORS PACT BY AMERICAS TO SHARE DEFENSES

Urges Nations to Support Uruguayan Plan.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The United States tonight accepted and urged other American republics to accept a policy proposed by the government of Uruguay for "constructive and practical coöperation" in defense of the Americas.

Under the Uruguayan plan, the 21 American republics would bind themselves not to "treat as a belligerent any American country which, in defense of its own rights, should find itself in a state of war with nations of other continents."

The republics would act as benevolent neutrals toward the warring American country and would permit it to use their harbors, air fields, and other facilities during the war.

Foreign Policy Is Restated.

In accepting the Uruguayan proposal, the United States restated its general policy toward world events. It did so in a memorandum addressed to Uruguay.

The American note, signed by Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, emphasized the necessity of American republics acting together to "insure the preservation for future generations of those liberties and other blessings which our forefathers so laborously gained."

"A black night of fear and destruction and organized murder has engulfed almost all of Europe and a great part of the rest of the world," the note declared. "No country anywhere, today, is secure from this unmasked lust for power and loot which has no limit but domination of the entire world."

Pan-American Aid Cited.

The note asserted that in pursuance of two main policies—hemispheric solidarity and aid to all countries resisting aggression—the government of the United States has offered and extended coöperative assistance of various types to the other American republics.

"The economic and financial resources of the United States, the naval and air base facilities acquired from Great Britain and from Denmark, and military and naval materiel, have been made available to all the American republics on the fullest coöperative basis for the common defense of the new world," the note continued.

Armored Chief

MAJ. GEN. A. R. CHAFFEE.

Washington, D. C., July 2 [Special].—Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, chief of the armored force of the United States army, issued a general order authorizing July 10 as a holiday for all members of the force. The date marks the first anniversary of the establishment of the force. Gen. Chaffee started a year ago with a handful of infantry tank units and mechanized cavalry units. He has brought the force to its present strength of four armored divisions, 15 reserve tank battalions, a training center of 9,000 man capacity, and a school for technical specialists turning out 22,000 enlisted men and 1,440 officers a year.

LEGION'S COUNTY COUNCIL FIGHTS AID FOR SOVIET

Action Unanimous; Up to State Convention.

An emphatic stand against American aid to soviet Russia under the lend-lease bill was taken last night by the Cook county council of the American Legion.

A brief but forceful resolution which previously had been approved by the council's executive committee of 25 was adopted unanimously when presented to the entire body, meeting in the council chamber of the city hall. Representatives of 250 county Legion posts make up the council. They speak for more than 42,000 Legionnaires.

Their action was interpreted as a rebuke—the second within a month—to the national Legion management, which recently has been veering toward the interventionist side, according to local Legion leaders.

Americanism Leader Backs It.

Among those who spoke in favor of last night's action are T. W. Merryman, chairman of the Legion's Americanism committee, and Charles V. Falkenberg of the executive committee. The resolution reads:

"Be it resolved that we urge the President of the United States and the congress of the United States to refrain from including Russia, as a nation, a country, or a people, eligible to receive aid from the United States of America under the terms of the so-called lend-lease bill or under any other law of the United States of America or executive order of the President of the United States of America."

Council members stated that if usual procedure is followed the resolution will go to the Legion's state executive committee for presentation to the state convention, to be held next month in Springfield. The convention also is expected to take a stand on anti-convoy resolutions that have been adopted by several Illinois posts, councils, and districts.

Going to National Convention.

Both issues undoubtedly will go before the national Legion convention, to be held in Milwaukee early in September, the spokesmen said.

On June 4 the Cook county council approved a resolution urging a statewide referendum to determine the people's true sentiment on the question of involvement in the European war. The measure suggested that the present surge of propaganda may be distorting facts pertaining to public sentiment.

The Cook county council last night voted down a resolution authorizing a poll of the public to determine sentiment toward American entry into the European war. Several speakers indicated their belief that there is a preponderant opinion against American participation and that therefore such a poll would be a waste of time and money.

Torpedoing Stirs Turkey; Bars Ships from Black Sea

U. S. EAGLES BAG 3 PLANES IN FIRST MAJOR RAF RAID

LONDON, July 3—[Thursday].—The RAF's Eagle squadron, all American volunteers, downed three German planes and damaged two others today in its first big daylight drive over Northern France as far as Lille.

Map locates Lille, France.

An airport and a railway junction near Lille were reported badly damaged.

British manned planes in the same air offensive were credited with bagging 15 additional German craft. The British acknowledged the loss of two bombers and eight fighters.

[The German official news agency, DNB, said the luftwaffe beat off an RAF invasion of the channel area yesterday morning, downing 19 planes and losing none.]

Up to midnight last night, the ministry of home defense reported, there had been no reports of bombs being dropped on any part of England.

RUSSIA THANKS U. S. FOR STAND ON WAR; HAILS F.D.R.

MOSCOW, July 2 (AP). — Soviet Russia officially thanked the United States today for its stand on the Russo-German war and once again defied Adolf Hitler with a firm declaration that he "can never win the war."

Vice Commissar for Foreign Affairs S. A. Lozovsky, Kremlin spokesman, said the recent declarations by President Roosevelt, Navy Secretary Frank Knox and Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles had "called forth in our whole great country the greatest satisfaction."

REPORT BIG NAZI TROOP MOVEMENT IN NORTH NORWAY

LONDON, July 2 (AP).—Measures taken by the German army in Norway suggest that big troop movements are underway in the northern part of that country, according to authoritative Norwegian sources in London. They said that a state of emergency had been declared by the Germans thruout northern Norway with freight traffic on the railways considerably reduced.

MARINE ALUMNI UNITE TO SPEED UP RECRUITING

Overseas Hero Organizes Volunteer League.

It's a common saying among men in the United States marine corps that there's no such thing as an ex-marine. Once a marine, a man is always a marine, and when his tour of duty is finished he becomes a "marine not now on active duty."

That's why there is a Dick Stone league in Chicago. And the Dick Stone league is the reason recruiting officers predicted yesterday that a lagging recruiting program is going to show a big spurt in the next few weeks.

The league is the manifestation of a novel and at the same time simple idea—that of calling all former marines to the aid of their service as unofficial recruiting officers.

Legion Post Forms Nucleus.

Last week it had as its nucleus the 300 members of the Marine post of the American Legion in Chicago. It also had enthusiastic promoters in five other states organizing more chapters. The future appeared to promise a national organization of marine alumni joined together by the common purpose of bringing an adequate number of the ablest young Americans into the marine corps.

Father of the idea and founder of the league is Richard J. Stone, 49 years old, who deserted a life of leisure and retirement as a "marine not now on active duty" three years ago to return to Chicago and resume a job that he had done for nearly 20 years before his retirement.

During those years as recruiting officer in the Chicago branch, he became known to thousands of men in the corps. He was on duty here thru the great expansion period during the World war. Among the hundreds of recruits who streamed thru his office then was one whom he has never forgotten—Bob Burns, the Arkansas hillbilly comedian.

Won Distinction Overseas.

Later he went overseas himself and fought thru Chateau Thierry, Soissons, St. Mihiel, and the Argonne. He came out with a right knee that would never bend again, the Croix de Guerre, the Victory medal with four bars, and the Order of the Purple Heart. Because he was unfit for active duty and because he still wanted to be a marine he was returned to Chicago and given the opportunity to resume his recruiting work.

In 1939 he retired on pension, went to Florida, built a beach home and prepared to spend his declining years in peace. When war broke out in Europe, however, he volunteered for service and won back his position in Chicago and his old rank as a quartermaster sergeant.

ILLINOIS TROOPS COMPRISE BULK OF ARMORED UNIT

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Polk, La., July 2.—Chicago and Illinois are well represented in the 3d armored division, which opened up shop here in this brand new training camp on June 11.

The first of the present group of 3,100 draftees arrived June 18. All but a small part came from Camp Grant, Fort Sheridan, and Camp Custer induction centers. These camps are expected to supply the bulk of personnel until the full strength of 12,000 men is reached next month.

Armored divisions are among the latest innovations of the army. Their development is in a fluid state, but the commanding officers expect to make them at least the equal of the German panzer divisions.

2d Division a Year Old.

Last July 15 the 2d armored division was formed at Fort Benning, Ga. After a sufficient number of officers and enlisted men had been trained, a cadre of 3,500 was detached on April 15 to make up the 3d armored, under command of Brig. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem, a regular army officer with much experience in the tank forces.

Stationed temporarily at Camp Beauregard, the division had to wait until construction of Polk was sufficiently far along to allow the troops to enter. Today, with construction still going on, it is a raw camp, but gives promise of being the best of the camps in the Alexandria area, as far as living conditions go.

Camp Is Well Planned.

It was laid out to take advantage of every bit of high ground, whereas the others were plotted on a strict war department model. Polk's altitude is 384 feet, the second highest point in the state.

Except for a few trees left by construction crews, it is bereft of landscaping. Barrack areas are nude stretches of clay and sand. Until grass can be grown, these will be dusty when the wind blows, and a morass of gumbo mud in wet weather.

Polk lies 75 miles west of Alexandria in a desolate wilderness of sap pine forests, cutover timberland, and swamps. Gen. Gillem considers it ideal for tank training.

Short of Equipment.

It will be a long time, its officers admit, before the division will be prepared to fight. For one thing there is a shortage of armored equipment and ordnance, altho the armored divisions are high on the priority lists.

Included in the makeup of the division are two regiments of light tanks and one of medium tanks, its heaviest striking power. No medium tanks are in evidence, and only a handful of light tanks, but enough, officers insisted, for training purposes. At full strength the division moves with 400 tanks and 20,000 weapons of all kinds.

The division could use more armored scout cars and machine guns. They seem to have a fairly large supply of "jeeps," the little bantam buggies, which are considered superior to the motorcycle for difficult reconnaissance and communication. The field artillery units are using 75 mm. guns, which are to be replaced by 105 mm. howitzers, none of which has appeared here yet.

Altho the division needs specialists of many kinds, from cooks to water purification engineers, its greatest need is for truck and tractor drivers, who can be converted more readily into tank drivers. In the reclassification center, these two groups always have the largest numbers.

DIES AFTER SLASHING SELF.

Daniel Coughlin, 26 years old, 3820 East 77th place, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries suffered June 23 when he slashed himself with a butcher knife in his home in an apparent attempt at suicide.

LT. COL. HOCKER, FORT SHERIDAN, MADE A COLONEL

Lieut. Col. Carl E. Hocker, commanding the 61st coast artillery anti-aircraft regiment, assigned to Fort Sheridan, was notified by the war department yesterday that he has been promoted to a colonelcy. Col. Hocker was senior coast artillery instructor at the general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kas., before coming to Fort Sheridan April 16.

Wife of Harry Richman Sues for Florida Divorce

Stuart, Fla., July 2 (AP).—Mrs. Hazel Forbes Richman filed suit for divorce yesterday from Harry Richman, the entertainer, charging extreme cruelty. "There will be no dirty linen to wash," Mrs. Richman said at Miami Beach. "It's just the life he leads—the late hours, jumping around, and nervous tension." Mrs. Richman, a former showgirl, was married to Paul O. Richmond and inherited his fortune.

KNOX DECLARES HE'LL STAND BY HIS WAR SPEECH

Roosevelt's Approval of Talk Is Indicated.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Developments today left no room for doubt that Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox spoke with the tacit approval of President Roosevelt when he said in his Boston speech last Monday that the time has come to "use our navy to clear the Atlantic of the German menace."

At a press conference today Knox refused to say whether the speech had been authorized by Mr. Roosevelt, but it was evident he had not been rebuked for making it. At his press conference yesterday at Hyde Park, N. Y., the President declined to comment on the Knox speech.

Has Nothing to Retract.

In response to reporters' questions, the navy secretary said he had nothing to add or take away from the utterance that raised such a storm on Capitol hill. Asked whether he intends to stick to his guns, he replied: "Why, of course."

When he was asked what, if anything, he intends to do about the demand of Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] for his removal from office—by impeachment, if necessary—Knox parried with the response: "I'll let you write an answer to that yourself."

The secretary, however, flatly denied the truth of the stories that he already had sent our navy into a shooting war with German submarines. He also denied reports that American warships are engaged in convoying arms cargoes overseas.

Asked whether any American warships had engaged in any encounter with German warships or bombing planes Knox replied: "Most decidedly not."

Cabinet Members in Line.

It is no secret in official Washington that there is a perfect understanding between the President and Secretaries Knox, Henry L. Stimson, Harold L. Ickes, and Claude R. Wickard, who are beating the tom-toms for immediate entrance of the United States into the war. They are cooperating in an effort to whip up a war fever in the country which would support action by the President in sending our armed forces into the war overseas without a declaration of war by congress.

The four secretaries have made numerous speeches designed to incite the United States to go to war on the general proposition that the future security and welfare of the United States requires the extermination of the totalitarian governments in Europe and Asia.

Up to date, however, these efforts have been a complete failure.

FRENCH PROTEST BRITISH 'TERROR' RAIDS ON BEIRUT

BEIRUT, Lebanon, July 2 (AP).—The French mandate government today addressed a strong protest to Britain thru the American government against what was described as "terroristic" British bombardments of Beirut.

The French high commissioner added his own protest to that of the local government, pointing out that the French had not bombed large cities in either Syria or Palestine despite the fact that a number of British troops were garrisoned in Damascus and in Palestine towns.

The number of killed and wounded in the British raids since Sunday night has not yet been announced. Every quarter of the city has been attacked several times and last night four separate heavy raids occurred.

MOTHERS LEAVE FOR FORT BLISS AND 10 DAY TRIP

The round trip will last 10 days. The women filled four coaches of the Californian, operated by the Rock Island. Mrs. Myrtle Pierce, 912 East 61st street, was in charge. Her son, R. J. Pierce, is a sergeant in Battery A.

The group will arrive in El Paso, near Fort Bliss, tomorrow morning. A regimental band will welcome them. Tomorrow night they will be guests at an army dinner.

WAR POLL

Shall the United States enter the war to help Britain defeat Hitler?

YES .....☐

FIRST RETURNS FROM POLL: 75% OPPOSED TO WAR

Tribune Counts Early Votes of 19 Wards.

First committee, for the noninterventionists, was on hand yesterday, but the leading interventionist group, the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, declined to designate an observer.

The latter committee, however, had previously inspected the machinery of the poll and approved it as "well designed, both for precise sampling on a 10 per cent basis and for protection against third party manipulations." Some interventionists quarreled with the form of the question, terming it misleading.

Interventionist sentiment prevailed in only one of the 19 wards from which ballots were received in the first returns. This was the 22d, on the southwest side, which has a large population of central European extraction.

Ward.	Yes.	No.	Ward.	Yes.	No.
2	31	65	22	79	43
3	25	49	24	18	26
4	43	93	25	10	98

10	7	14	47	20	187
14	18	77	49	57	111
15	1	5	50	13	98
17	9	63

Polled Cities Well Spaced.

No conclusion can yet be drawn as to the percentage of return from the aggregate of 257,484 ballots which have or will be mailed to Cook county or downstate.

The downstate cities being polled are well spaced thruout Illinois, from Rockford in the northwest to East St. Louis far down on the Mississippi, and Cairo at the southern tip of the state. Industrial populations like those in Peoria will be polled, as well as those in the heart of the farming region such as in Bloomington, Galesburg, and Danville.

The returns will be printed in THE TRIBUNE as rapidly as they are received and tabulated. The poll is copyrighted, and THE TRIBUNE has the exclusive right to publish the results.

MOTHERS TO HAND OUT 10,000 PLEAS CONDEMNING WAR

Members of We, the Mothers, Mobilize for America Inc. will distribute 10,000 anti-war pleas entitled "A Redeclaration of American Independence" thruout the loop today and tomorrow, Mrs. Grace Keefe, secretary, said yesterday. The public will be asked to sign the cards and mail them to President Roosevelt.

The redeclaration states in part: "On July 4, 1776, the founding fathers of this nation signed the Declaration of Independence, stating 'that all political connection between them [the U. S. A.] and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be totally dissolved.' As a citizen of these United States, with faith in the courage, strength, and high destiny of this nation, I demand that our government stop now any moves toward American participation in Britain's war. Our national foreign policy must constitute a Redeclaration of Independence from all foreign 'isms, tyrannies, and wars."

PEACE, BY MORE THAN 2 TO 1, IN NEW YORK POLL

Slight Gain Is Scored by War Advocates.

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York News.]

New York, July 2.—Prowar citizens in Manhattan and the Bronx cut down by 2.4 per cent a huge keep-out-of-war majority in the New York News statewide war poll today, but a new sample from upstate indicated a blizzard of noninterventionist votes was brewing outsde New York City.

Thus, as the battle of ballots went into the third day there was comfort in the tallies for partisans on both sides of the question: "Shall the United States enter the war to help Britain defeat Hitler?" Here are the up-to-date minute grand totals in the postcard referendum:

Yes, 2,170 votes, or 31.5 per cent.
No, 4,729 votes, or 68.5 per cent.

696,000 Will Be Polled.

Out of a total of 2,963 votes tallied the first day of the poll, 70.9 per cent were "No," but this declined to 68.5 per cent as 3,936 more ballots were tallied today. The total of ballots counted when the calculating machines stopped tonight was 6,899—still a tiny portion of the 696,000 being mailed to one-tenth of all registered voters in the Empire state.

So far there is no escaping the poll—that voters recorded to date are more than 2 to 1 against this nation starting to shoot on behalf of Britain.

The early returns, however, are comparatively unreliable. It takes longer to get mail to and from faraway counties, especially those with voters scattered on R. F. D. routes.

The first 20 balots from Herkimer county were all marked "no," making this county so far 100 per cent antiwar.

"Yes" voters won majorities in four more Manhattan assembly districts, but so far have been beaten everywhere else.

State Split on Issue.

The sharp and growing split on the war issue between New York City with 6,565 votes tabulated—and upstate with only 334 counted—was shown by cumulative percentages for the two areas. In the city 68.2 per cent of the voters wanted to keep out of the war, but upstate 76.0 per cent wanted to remain at peace.

This gave strength to the argument that this cosmopolitan sea gateway to Europe, with heavy sprinklings of foreign extraction citizens, is keener for pitching into the conflict than the interior of the nation. More light may be thrown on this belief as THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE poll in Illinois progresses.

MRS. FAIRBANK WARNS AGAINST U. S.-SOVIET TIES

Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, vice chairman of the America First committee, yesterday said in a letter sent to chapter heads that "if the war makers had their war, Americans might be bombing Finland with the Russians."

"This," she continued, "might have happened in spite of the fact that Finland is the only country which, until its enemy occupation, made regular payments on its debt to the United States as they came due.

"London newspapers are already suggesting that soviet military supplies may be obtained from the United States, under the lend-lease act. There is no question that if we enter the war as an ally of England, we will find ourselves entangled with Russia in an alliance sure to be unpopular to a people believing, as we do, in the republican form of government."

START CHICAGO'S FINAL BARRAGE OF FIREWORKS

150 Stands Expected for July 4 Rush.

Chicago's annual fireworks barrage was under way yesterday, marking the last year that Fourth of July explosives may be sold promiscuously in Illinois.

The Thon law, passed two weeks ago by the legislature and signed Monday night by Gov. Green, outlaws retail sales of fireworks after next Jan. 1, except to responsible groups of adults. And these must first obtain permits from local officials.

The law, sponsored by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, specifically prohibits retail sales of fireworks, torpedoes, blank cartridges, skyrockets, roman candles, bombs, miniature cannon, and fire balloons. Sparklers and toy cap pistols are exempted.

Expect Sales by 150 Stands.

Meanwhile, however, fireworks of all types were going on sale in unincorporated areas of Cook county. The county zoning bureau yesterday had issued 39 permits for new stands. Other county officials estimated that more than 150 vegetable and soft drink stands will be offering explosives by tonight.

Surveys in suburban areas, however, indicated that fireworks merchants are fewer this year than last, when a sharp decline in their number was brought about by refusal of manufacturers to take back unsold stock. Growing observance of safe and sane July Fourth celebrations also has reduced sales.

Police of Chicago and Cook county yesterday announced that regulations covering sale and shooting of fireworks will be strictly enforced. Commissioner Allman sent an order to all police stations directing that children found with holiday explosives be taken to their parents.

Seize Parents on 2d Complaint.

The parents will be told it is a violation of a city ordinance to possess or shoot fireworks in the city limits.

Chief Lester J. Laird of the county highway police said his men will deal swiftly with persons who touch off explosives along highways or near private property in a reckless or dangerous manner.

Fewer than a score of fireworks injuries have been treated by Chicago hospitals since June 27, when sales began, a survey indicated yesterday. The County hospital, which up to last night had treated 10 victims, reported this was a decline of four under the corresponding period last year.

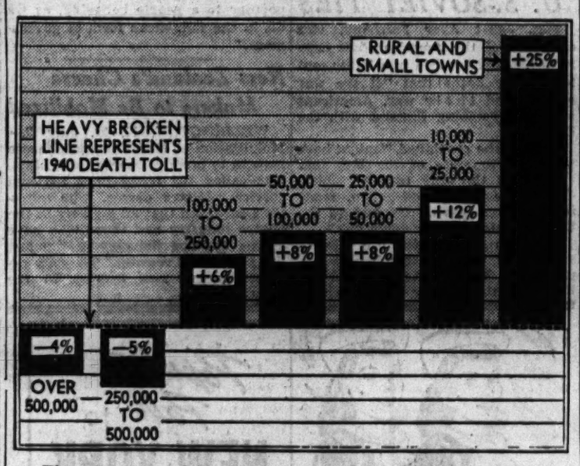
Van Dewalker and Privates Robert E. Nicholson, 24, of Escanaba, Mich., and James M. Moore, 19, of Mount Carmel, Ill., were injured in the accident.

Fireworks on 4th to Burn Up 3½ Million Dollars

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Celebration of the Fourth of July will cost about $3,500,000 in fireworks alone. The commerce department estimated that the celebration material to be burned this holiday will include $2,750,000 of American-made fireworks and about $750,000 worth of imported fireworks — mostly from China and Japan.

Auto Death Increase in 1941



The percentage of increase or decrease in auto deaths in different classes of cities in the United States for the first five months of 1941 as compared with the first five months of 1940.

Warn of Fourth

The national safety council warned yesterday that at least 475 persons will be killed in traffic accidents thruout the country in the Fourth of July holiday unless motorists exercise the utmost caution.

The estimate was made on the basis of traffic deaths which occured in the first five months of 1941. Traffic claimed 13,760 lives—in that period—17 per cent more than were killed in the corresponding period in 1940.

The safest cities, from a traffic standpoint during the five months, with their annual death rates per 100,000 of population, as computed by the council, were:

Class 1 [over 500,000 population]—Boston, 9; Class 2 [250,000-500,000]—Memphis, 3.2; Class 3 [100,000-250,000]—Oklahoma City, Okla., 2.3; Class 4 [50,000-100,000] — Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Manchester, N. H., and Oak Park, 0; Class 5 [25,000-50,000]—La Crosse, Wis., and Chelsea and Arlington, Mass., 0, and Class 6 [10,000-25,000]—Butler, Pa., and Weymouth and Gloucester, Mass., 0.

The percentage changes in the death rate during the first five months compared with the period last year in the different class cities were: Class 1, —4 per cent; Class 2, —5 per cent; Class 3, 6 per cent; Class 4, 8 per cent; Class 5, 8 per cent; Class 6, 12 per cent, and the rural and small communities, 25 per cent.

CHICAGO COUPLE DIE IN CRASH ON VACATION TRIP

Three hours after they left Chicago for a month's vacation trip to the west coast, Dr. Arthur Mangold, 41 years old, a dentist, and his wife, Bjornis, 38, were killed yesterday when their automobile collided head on with a milk truck 10 miles west of Freeport, Ill. Roy Julius, the truck driver, was cut and bruised. Dr. Mangold's home and office was at 5900 Chicago avenue.

Joseph Turek, 65, of 1738 LeClaire avenue, a watchman, died in Norwegian American hospital of injuries suffered earlier yesterday when he was struck by an automobile at Chicago and Grand avenues. The driver, Harold Klosonski, 911 North Ridgeway avenue, was charged with reckless driving.

George De Brey, 52, of 7042 Elizabeth street, a street car conductor, died in Holy Cross hospital of injuries suffered June 27 when he drove his automobile into a parked truck. The accident occurred in 76th street near Racine avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 459 persons had been killed in traffic accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 332 were killed in Chicago, where 12,044 were injured in the same period.

3 WHO RAPED GIRL SEIZED AT SCENE IN BURNHAM PARK

Three Negroes, who raped a 16 year old white girl yesterday after slugging and kicking her escort, were caught early today by Detectives Raymond Tussey and Ernest Osborn of the park district. The detectives thought it probable the rapists might return to Burnham park, near 42d street and the lake, where the attack occurred. When they saw three Negroes loitering near the scene they arrested them.

At the Hyde Park station the three gave their names as Orange Bryant, 20, of 42226 South Park way; Andrew Lake, 21, of 4148 Calumet avenue, and Henry Hawkins, 18, of 3441 Calumet avenue. They confessed the attack after Sergt. Louis Schillig noticed that Hawkins was wearing a pair of shoes stolen from the girl's escort.

Sergt. Schillig will have another recent victim of Negro rapists view them today. The mother of the girl attacked yesterday signed complaints against them after her daughter identified all three.

How to Increase Your Happiness Today

by DALE CARNEGIE

As a child, I thought that happiness depended largely on money. How wrong I was. For example, I once visited America's most famous horse-breeding farms near Lexington, Kentucky—where millionaires breed and train the horses that are the sensation of the racing world. Are these wealthy men happier than you and I?

A Kentucky newspaperman who knows them intimately told me that actually these men aren't as happy as the people who work for them.

Speaking for myself, probably the happiest days of my life were when I was making $17.31 a week.

One of the wealthiest men in America, head of a great merchandising organization, recently told me that he was happier when he was making fifty dollars a week than when he was making millions.

Seneca, a Roman philosopher, observed nineteen centuries ago: "If what you have seems insufficient to you, then though you possess the world, you will yet be miserable."

So, if you can't have what you want, want what you have. If you can't afford to buy a new hat or a new car, be grateful for your health, your eyesight, the fact that you can go to sleep without bombs and air-raid alarms. You have a thousand things to be happy about. Keep your mind on them! Happiness doesn't depend on material possessions. It depends on your thoughts.

HOOVER'S RELIEF PLAN WILL GET SENATE HEARING

Committee to Act Despite Roosevelt Opposition.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 2.—Notwithstanding opposition by the Roosevelt administration, the plan of former President Herbert Hoover to help feed the starving populations of German occupied countries in Europe is to be given a hearing by the senate foreign relations committee.

This was disclosed today by members of the foreign relations committee who are included among the 37 signers of a pending senate resolution indorsing the Hoover plan. They revealed that Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the committee, has promised not to attempt to block hearings on the resolution, whatever his personal position may be.

Report to be Presented.

Today's regular meeting of the committee was canceled because a quorum was not present. At next Wednesday's meeting a report from the state department strongly opposing the Hoover plan is expected to be presented by Chairman George.

Raymond S. Richmond, secretary of the Hoover organization, which is called the National Committee on Food for the Small Democracies, asserted that the witnesses will include Mr. Hoover, W. Hallam Tuck, president of the Commission for Relief in Belgium; Morris Pate, president of the Commission for Relief in Poland, and leaders of various churches.

Mr. Hoover has been informed, according to senate supporters of the plan, that there is increasing resentment in Belgium, Holland, and the other occupied countries against both Great Britain and the United States because of their opposition to the relief plan.

Points of View Differ.

Great Britain has refused to permit passage of foodstuffs thru the blockade on the ground that any undertaking to feed the civilian populations of the occupied countries would benefit Germany. The Roosevelt administration has taken the same position.

Supporters of the Hoover plan contend that the starvation policy enforced by the blockade is driving the subject peoples into the arms of Nazi Germany, as in the case of France, and making more enemies for both Britain and the United States.

The Hoover plan calls for no financial support from the government. It would be financed by dollar balances of the occupied countries, which the treasury department has sequestered. A neutral commission would supervise administration of the feeding plan.

'ACQUIT BRITISH KNIGHT OF EARL'S DEATH IN AFRICA

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, July 2 (AP).—Major Sir Henry John Delves Broughton, 57 year old World war veteran, was acquitted today of a charge of murder in connection with the death of the earl of Erroll, hereditary high constable of Scotland.

Sir Henry Broughton.

The jury deliberated three and a half hours on evidence presented to a colonial court intermittently since mid-March. Sir Henry thanked the jury and the court for courtesy shown him during the longest trial in the history of the colony. Applause greeted the verdict.

The earl of Erroll, a widower, was found shot thru the head in an automobile parked on a moonlit road last Jan. 24 a few hours after he had left a dinner party attended by Sir Henry and his bride, Diana. A police statement read to the court early in the trial quoted Sir Henry as saying his wife and the earl were in love and planned to marry, once a divorce could be arranged.

DEMOBILIZE PART OF SWISS ARMY TO HELP WITH CROPS

BERNE, Switzerland, July 2 (AP).—In the midst of Switzerland's busy farming season Generalissimo Henri Guisan today ordered the demobilization "for a prolonged period" of an undisclosed portion of the army, which has been guarding the nation's borders since the start of the war.

A communique said this was done "in consideration of the country's economic interests," especially agriculture.

Hitherto Switzerland's army of about 500,000 has been fully mobilized. Thoops now remaining on duty will be given shorter and less frequent leaves and those released will be recalled occasionally for brief training periods.

DEFENSE PROGRAM IS REALLY ROLLING —AND A LOT FASTER THAN YOU THINK

Get the facts on Planes, Tanks, Guns—as of today—in Collier's

What has the United States accomplished in a year's time in the building of National Defense?

Are the makers of guns, tanks, ships and planes catching up with the makers of speeches?

Collier's brings you the answers—authoritative, complete, profusely illustrated—in its July 12th issue, out today.

Uncle Sam may have been a long time taking off his coat but America's defense program is really rolling now—and faster than you think.

Smoking-room sages, locker-room prophets and bridge-table babblers have filled the air with a welter of rumor and misinformation. Collier's decided to find out what the score really was—and report it. Its trained, experienced staff men went fact finding.

"For Freedom's Skies" by Jim Marshall is a true picture of our strength in the air—big planes, small planes, fliers, bases. Walter Davenport's article, "The Guns Are Coming," bristles with facts from the War Department, the Navy Department and the OPM—facts about every fighting arm of the service and its equipment.

In this issue, too, are pages of striking color photographs of our newest fighting planes. The editorial sings. And on the lighter side, Damon Runyon has a tale of a draftee called up by "the beard" that is pure Runyon. From cover to cover this issue of Collier's is "must" reading for anyone who wants a true picture of Uncle Sam's military muscle. Read it—out today—on all newsstands.

★ ★ ★ ★

This issue of Collier's is another and a timely example of the alert, on-the-button editing that has built for Collier's a Reader Response unequalled, in our opinion, by any other multimillion weekly magazine. More and more advertisers are looking upon Collier's millions of active, forward-looking Americans as their No. 1 sales territory.

ADVERTISERS, TOO, TELL THEIR STORY

Advertisers, week after week in Collier's, are telling their part of the Defense story. Important chapters they are, too, for it is American Industry that is building up this defense machine.

How well this job is being done may be inferred from the following message cabled to Collier's from Lord Beaverbrook, member of Churchill's War Cabinet who has just been named Britain's Minister of Supply:

"The aircraft, the tanks and the other materials of war which are reaching us from the United States give joy to our fighting men and are the admiration of our mechanics and technicians. Our gratitude for these weapons of victory is matched by our admiration for the skill of those who construct them. Together, British and American industry will increasingly outmatch the best that our enemies can produce."

HEMISPHERE DEFENSE.

Hemisphere defense will require the possession and use by the United States of additional bases. The defense of South America certainly will include the occupation of a base at Natal or some spot nearby, with very strong aviation to prevent enemies approaching this key to the south. It appears that Brazil is unresponsive to the proposal that space be given for this purpose. If the government of Brazil continues in this attitude, it means that Brazil, like Argentina, does not want us to defend South America. If South American countries will not coöperate in the defense of the hemisphere, the United States cannot undertake such obligations and should not do so.

A limitation of the Monroe Doctrine may be imposed by countries reluctant to afford facilities or determined not to do so. We can easily defend North America from any approach that can be made to it. The talk of an attack on the Panama canal by a force approaching from the jungles of Brazil is pure nonsense. It is war propaganda. The suggestion that we occupy the Azores or Cape Verde Islands as a defense measure is not made in good faith. We occupied the Azores 23 years ago as a part of our invasion of Europe and we abandoned them when we returned home.

We will need the Azores only if we have aggressive intention to invade the old world. Then we would need the Azores and possibly the Cape Verde Islands. But if self-defense is our motive, an occupation of these possessions of Portugal would be an international wrong and an aggression such as the German occupation of Holland and Belgium. It would not only be all of that but it would expose American forces to attack under unfavorable conditions. We are in such a position in the Philippines.

Unless Brazil allowed the United States to have a strong air base at Natal, the defense of South America by this country is impossible. Brazil is as friendly to the United States as any South American country, probably friendlier than most. If it refuses to make hemispheral defense possible, there is nothing we can do about it unless we intend to force ourselves upon a people unwilling to receive us. We have no obligation to risk our young men for people who do not want to be saved by us.

Bad faith has been an outstanding characteristic in the conduct of world affairs in recent years. It is gaining such an ascendancy that it is now an expectable duplicity where pledges are made. The United States has not been accustomed to such perfidy in its international relations, nor until recently has it been accustomed to duplicity and deception in the relations of the government to the people. We think the American people would regret and we think they would protest a change of policy.

If we are uncertain that we can meet an obligation, we should cease talking of our intentions to do so. The people of the United States can ask fair dealing from their government and they can ask for plain dealings with other peoples. They can ask for good faith on the part of others to whom they propose to commit themselves.

It may be that the defense of the United States narrows down to the defense of North America. If that is the new limitation of the Monroe Doctrine, it is up to the South American governments to say so. We can't afford to have a theoretical obligation we can't meet. Our own security is involved and we should be resolved not to get out on a limb that would be cut off behind us.

SMALL MEN IN BIG JOBS.

There is talk in congress of the removal of Secretary Knox.

Senator Walsh, Representative Fish, and others are indignant over the secretary's recent speech in which he advocated the use of the American navy in a shooting war.

Senator Wheeler has heard that naval units are already being employed in convoy duty in belligerent waters and says that if these reports are true Mr. Knox should be impeached.

Mr. Wheeler has raised the further question of the secretary's moral fitness to hold high office by recalling Col. Knox's testimony just a year ago when his nomination to the cabinet was pending in the senate. At that time he answered as categorically as a man could, that he would under no circumstances favor the sending of any army or navy unit to fight in the European war. It is impossible to avoid the conclusion, after reading the recent speech, that Mr. Knox prefers a job in the cabinet to a reputation for integrity.

It goes without saying, also, that the President will request Mr. Knox's resignation if Mr. Knox's speech did not fairly represent the President's views. If Mr. Knox stays in the cabinet it will prove beyond all possibility of doubt that Mr. Roosevelt favors active participation in the war and that, like Mr. Knox, he values office more than he values common honesty.

There are other reasons, in addition to those advanced by Senator Wheeler, why Mr. Knox should leave the cabinet. The secretary has no competence in naval affairs, and as long as he remains at the head of our naval preparation he is keeping a competent man from taking charge. Mr. Knox doesn't know what it is all about; because of his advancing years it is altogether improbable that he ever will. He should be removed from the cabinet for the best of all reasons; he never belonged in the position he occupies.

That is equally true, of course, of Secretary Stimson, a failing old man whose abilities in his best days would have been overtaxed by the problems he now faces in the organization and equipment of a huge new army at a period of revolutionary change in the military art.

Both Knox and Stimson were Republicans. They were taken into the cabinet and given the positions at the head of the defense departments not because of any conspicuous or inconspicuous abilities they possessed for these offices but as a move in a political conspiracy. There is reason to believe that Mr. Willkie's nomination was another step in the same conspiracy to embroil the United States in the war.

By this time it should be apparent that Stimson and Knox have served their purpose. They can do no more than they have already done to push their country into a war against the popular will. They have reaped the reward of their defection and nothing is now owing to them. They should give place to men who have the competence and the integrity to serve as heads of the defense departments at a critical moment.

INDUSTRIES FACING SHUT-DOWN.

One thing which distinguishes the present defense organization from the war industries board of the last war is the inclination of the present group for speech making. The complex setup which is contracting for the spending of billions of dollars has little to show for its efforts in the way of delivered armament, but its output of words—put out thru the mouths of its numerous executives and straw bosses, mimeographed releases, and printed bulletins—has been unlimited.

The staff of ghost writers is large and competent and the orations and statements are rarely dull. Some of them are humorous, some inspiring, some informative, and some frightening. Answering the last description was a talk a couple of weeks ago by Peter R. Nehemkis Jr., described in the OPM handout of the speech as special assistant to the chief of OPM's defense contract service. Mr. Nehemkis said that there are 10 entire industries producing consumer goods whose supplies have been shut off, and must, therefore, either close down or enter new lines of production; and this is only a beginning, for by the end of summer, he declared, one-third of American industry will be obliged either to change over to munitions or stop operating.

Doesn't this mean that amidst the greatest industrial boom the country has ever seen the worst depression will be visited upon whole communities in which these nondefense industries are located? It certainly does. There will be, Mr. Nehemkis asserted, "whole communities where the industries upon which they are dependent for their very existence are obliged to close down." When this phase of the wartime economy is reached you may "expect to find not less but more unemployment; not less but more idle machines."

Certain sections of the country are going to face this calamity because the industries located there are to be denied materials now to be reserved exclusively for the manufacture of arms. It's guns versus butter, and the guns win.

No one will doubt that if armament expenditures are to be boosted to 35 billion dollars a year—and this is asserted by OPM to be the minimum objective—there will not be an adequate supply of some materials to turn out civilian goods in the quantities to which we have been accustomed. But supplies for the civilian population ought to be kept as large as is possible, and that is not going to be done when as much as one-third of our industries are to be deprived of materials, before the end of this summer, as the OPM spokesman asserted. The government ought to formulate its program well in advance to enable production of strategic materials to be expanded before the need for them arises, and to permit industries serving the civilian trade to find substitutes. That is not being done.

William L. Batt is another one of the OPM officials given to speech making. He is the deputy director of production. In a speech on June 26 he said that last year the program of defense was broken down into its elements and it was found that 800 million pounds of aluminum would be needed for peace and war needs. The aluminum companies agreed to expand their production to this figure, and began at once to do so. Later, the program of the government was changed and officials announced that 50 per cent more of the metal would be required than was first estimated. Recently the required amount was fixed at 1 billion 600 million pounds, or double the original figure. The government has announced it will build the required plants. The aluminum companies have been denounced because they are not able to deliver metal in keeping with this suddenly expanded schedule, and the manufacturers of washing machines, electric iceboxes, and other civilian goods have been told they cannot have any more of the metal. If the government had indicated a year ago what its requirements were going to be, plants could have been constructed to provide additional supplies and there would have been no shortages. If the government had indicated that it was going to allot all aluminum for defense purposes, by this time the ingenuity of our manufacturing industries would have produced substitutes for that metal. Instead civilian industries have been given no time to find substitutes, and only now are plans being drawn for the plants which, with forethought, might now be turning out metal.

Some of the larger concerns with vast research organizations can arrange to make readjustments quickly to meet the government's requirements. Thus Westinghouse upon being informed of the shortage of aluminum promptly substituted other metals or plastics, releasing enough of the scarce metal to build 130 large warplanes. That is not possible for most small concerns, and for large or small concerns in certain industries. The consumer goods lines have a right to expect fairer warning than they have been getting.

All would be more impressed with the necessity of curtailing the output of consumer goods if the government were to show that it was in earnest about need for curtailment. Despite the announced need for conserving all aluminum for planes, the army has been placing orders for aluminum water pitchers, dishpans, and hat stretchers. The government continues to maintain a vast nationwide organization to stimulate home construction with artificial low interest rates, altho this creates a demand for steel, lumber, and other materials used by the armament industries. And the leading Chicago stores recently announced that they had increased the amount of down payments required in installment sales in keeping with recommendations of the defense commission, but, in keeping with the program of the government, would continue to sell articles eligible for FHA Title I. loans without any down payment. There's a screw loose some place.

With the number of yachts being commissioned by the navy steadily increasing, a few hopefuls will probably start planning a regatta.—The Hartford Courant.

You lie so free in death—serene and pensive brow,

The Paderewski of the '90s.

The passing of Paderewski revived memories in Chicago of his first appearance here in 1892. Miss Carolyn Tyler of the Hyde Park hotel, who was, she says, prepared to be astounded by his musical performance, was no less amazed by his appearance on Michigan avenue. Slender, of medium height, a very small silk hat perched on top of masses of red gold hair, he wore high heels, a fur trimmed overcoat, and carried a tiny muff to protect his magic-making hands. His exotic appearance, coupled with his musical reputation, created a furor in the town, according to Miss Tyler.

In the Morning Mail.

Perhaps it was the paragraph about the country inn in yesterday's column that brought in the following bit:

> I am having bottoms up at the Wind-Up, that air conditioned lounge on the near north side, when along comes a philanthropist who contends that the country is the place to be these hot evenings. Against my better judgment I let him talk me into it, so we leave the cool confines where I have been happy up to the moment and get into the car. We buck 6 o'clock traffic, hunting for a ducky place he knows about, and finally, after my shirt and the cushion are all in one, we arrive somewhere near the Ohio state line. We fight our way to get a table in the shafts of the setting sun on the porch of an alleged restaurant. Perspiration is running down my face so I can't see the menu, which was just as well, as we had to take what they were stuck with. The salad was hot, served on a hot plate, and the steak cold, served on a cold plate, and the butter in a puddle and the jernt had run out of ice. I was wondering what more could happen to me when the payoff came. The juke box let forth with the Hut-Sut-Sut song.

A CITY'S FORESTS.

[Tulsa Tribune.]

It sounds a little fantastic—a city's forest. Yet in the Europe before World war I, many cities of the continent operated their forests at the edge of town as a part of municipal operation. The practice has not yet become common in the United States.

Troy, Me., is an exception. Troy took 1,000 acres of tax reverted land, cutover and deteriorating timber land and abandoned farms, and made a municipal forest of it. Planting of some 50,000 seedling trees began in May, 1940. NYA and 4-H clubs coöperated, a forester was hired. Old woodlands were "reconditioned." Already, reports the American Society of Planning Officials, the city has sold $1,250 worth of pulp, firewood, and other by-products, overbalancing total expenses of $1,180 put into the project by way of improvement.

Whether such a project really stands a chance of paying out, in view of the fact that NYA [federal] funds were also used, remains to be seen, but it might be worth investigating by communities with dead tax reverted lands on their hands.

LET'S SAVE HEARTS.

NO ONE of us—least of all the members of the family—can be reconciled to the passing of one who is mentally keen and apparently physically strong. The verdict, "heart failure," is as unwelcome as it may be unexpected.

But we can save these organs—yes, millions of them—so that they will carry their owners into a ripe old age. This requires an understanding of what the "pump" has to do and the adoption of a "care" program.

Too few individuals realize that the apparatus is on the go all of the time. The only rest it obtains is the pause between beats. With the years, the elastic character of the tissues diminishes. The custom of "wearing" a cane is adopted whenever one senses that the joints of the knees, ankles, and hips are not quite as supple as they once were. The only walking stick that will aid the heart is relief from strain. The trouble with most of us is that we just cannot bring ourselves to understand that the brakes must be applied to the human wheels on the downhill slope of life. Coasting at an ever-increasing speed will end in a smashup.

An important factor is the condition of the arteries. Not infrequently, the engine of circulation is called upon for more, rather than less work, because the blood-carrying tubes have become narrowed and more brittle. This explains why greater force is demanded to propel a given quantity of nutriment to the extremities than was required when we were 20.

If every one would adopt a schedule of physical and mental activity calculated to save rather than punish the body, we would have fewer breakdowns. Unfortunately, ambition outweighs judgment. We feel all right and we are all right. But only for certain tasks. While we may not engage in jumping fences or join a cross-country marathon, nevertheless, we may unthinkingly levy so heavy a toll on the organ that it will rebel and weaken. It has no alternative.

What handicaps does the structure face in the later decades? First, it is likely to be invaded and surrounded with more fat. Second, the valves become less flexible and hence they may function with less efficiency. Third, the muscle fibers may undergo degeneration—perhaps not enough so that a normal amount of work cannot be carried, but sufficient to warn against overdoing. Then, too, when capillaries are lost, nutrition is decreased because circulation cannot reach the tissues.

A perfectly good heart in a man of 75 may be counted upon, if no further injury occurs, to last until 90. But whether it will or not depends entirely upon how kindly it is treated. With adequate rest, moderate exercise, and not too heavy meals, it will tick along satisfactorily.

One of its greatest enemies is high blood pressure. This disorder may develop late in life and may be compared to the carrying of 50 pounds more steam than the highest rating allowed a boiler. Then it is that we may find enlargement, with occasional periods of fluttering or other disturbances of rhythm.

Fortunately, fatigue usually tells us when to stop. If we will heed the warning, all will be well. There should come a time when an ardent golfer will play 9 holes instead of the regulation 18. On occasion he may omit the 19th entirely.

Finally, it should be emphasized that the mellowing influence of the years constitutes one of nature's greatest safeguards. An outburst of temper may be more injurious than a run for a train. If we will look upon the latter end of the sixth decade and those that follow as demanding letdowns, commensurate with strength, we will avoid most of our cardiac accidents.

BRITISH TRADE SAILS ON.

Eagle, Idaho, July 1.—A month ago Congressman Keefe arose in the House of Representatives armed with a leading British trade journal and statements by Mr. Cooper, to show that business over there was not only as usual, but in some respects rosier.

A council to expand export trade has been set up in Britain, and careful attention is given to favorable conditions existing in America: Bills before Congress working to Britain's advantage, opportunity to cash in on American sympathy, new markets to snare.

There's no one like the English, and nothing to equal American gullibility. While American companies are asked to curtail business as usual to give way to defense, British trade sweeps the seas. While American companies complain they are losing markets in South America to Great Britain, British industrialists are hatching more schemes to capture world markets. While America squares round to convoy war materials and patrol the Atlantic, British trade sails on without benefit of convoy.

Best of all is the solemn assurance of British companies that orders will be delivered. The question was asked in Congress that if Britain could bring, why couldn't she take? FLORENCE SELBY.

ENGLISH IN OUR HIGH SCHOOLS.

Chicago, June 30.—As a teacher of English in a Chicago high school, I am interested in your recent article on "College English," but which was obviously intended to be an exposé of the incompetence of present day high school graduates in basic language skills. The picture seemed an under-statement rather than an exaggeration or distortion of the case.

But you speak of "shaming teachers in the secondary schools into establishing higher standards of accomplishment in English." Are you unaware that all scholarship standards for promotion from one grade to another were practically blacked out about five years ago, not by the teachers of the system, but by the school administrators, and a 100 [or 99.9] per cent rule of advancement substituted for pupils of all types of ability, high, low, or average; that under this rule no teacher is permitted to enforce even the lowest of minimum standards for promotion, since pupils, long familiar with the delightful benefits of the new deal in education, lost no time in taking full advantage of it and worked just barely enough "to get by."

Furthermore the major emphasis in the present day school is not upon scholarship or even a half mastery of fundamental skills, but upon so-called activities, designed to develop happy personalities, which might be stunted or warped by any contact with such prosaic subjects as spelling, grammar, and sentence mastery. To be sure, these subjects appear in the course of study; but under the easy promotion plan, mastery is achieved so seldom as to be a seven-day wonder when it is encountered. M. F. JOHNSON.

TO THE SHOCKED VISITOR.

Elmhurst, Ill., June 30.—To My Dear Shocked Visitor [who had a letter in THE TRIBUNE]—I can sympathize with you in your being so terribly shocked by the appearance of those "contemptible" Tribune cartoons, but, sister, to be cartoon-shocked is nothing to be compared with being shell-shocked. I should have liked to have had you along with me as an assistant machine-gunner in the Argonne Forest in Sept., 1918; you should have seen the bodies of our American boys scattered upon the ground with their brains splattered in the mud and their intestines hanging from tree limbs. Perhaps you would have been far more shocked by those horrible scenes and less shocked now by mere cartoons. Of course that war was for a noble cause, namely, to make the world safe for another and more terrible one.

And maybe you will be shocked at this: As an ex-service man who took part [voluntarily] in the foreign war of 1917-'18, I place myself on record regarding the defense of America and our entire hemisphere: Every drop of my blood and that of my three sons I dedicate to the defense of my country, but not one drop to be spilled on the worthless battlefields of Europe.

Ex-service man, Machinegun Company, 147th Infantry, 37th Division, Ohio.

RACE TRACKS AND BOOKIES.

Chicago, June 30.—Your paper says State's Attorney Courtney has written to Gov. Green voicing his objections to the "bookie licensing bill" and asking his veto of the measure.

This article gave the writer much amusement, especially after seeing Mr. Courtney's picture, with his guests, in a recent society column edition, enjoying the hospitality of the Post and Paddock club at Arlington Park. It makes one wonder if Mr. Courtney's letter to the governor was in the interest of the public morals, or in the interest of the race tracks, which, thus far, have run horse race betting in this state.

The state's attorney speaks of the harm caused by placing gambling at the very door of a community and its young people, but with the recent wholesale mailing of passes to Arlington and the fact that any one who wants to bet on a horse race can find plenty of places to do so, are not his objections entirely refuted?

He also says we should not think of additional revenue today, but rather keep within present revenue, but in this case the money is there, so why not bring it into the proper channels?

The present law which allows betting on horse races at the race track only is prohibition in its worse form, for it tolerates the thing to a few and prevents it to the small bettor.

Any one with common sense knows you cannot stop gambling any more than you could stop drinking, so is it not about time to wake up and take the onesidedness out of the picture?

MARRIAGE LAWS.

Chicago, June 26.—[Legal Friend of the People]—1. Could you tell me in what states they do not require an examination or three day wait in order to marry?

2. We wish to keep our marriage a secret for certain reasons.

3. Could I get an examination in Chicago and then go to some small town in Illinois, get a license there and also marry the same day? C. T.

1. The requirement of the health examination has the almost unanimous approval of informed persons. If one of the parties proposes evasion of this salutary requirement, even on plausible grounds of economy or secrecy, it is a basis for suspicion that such party would not pass the examination, and hence is a reason for the other party to talk with a doctor as to the seriousness of the risk. We are reluctant to assist in a proposed evasion of the Illinois requirement. If you feel that your facts are exceptional, please state them.

2. If you married in an Illinois county at a distance from your home, it seems probable that the record would not be noticed.

3. Yes. But we suggest that you write in advance to the county clerk in order to check up as to when his office will be open, etc. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SON OF A VICTIM LEAPS ON KILLER OF 4 AT INQUEST

A mass inquest over the victims of Bernard [Knifey] Sawicki, 19 years old, was interrupted yesterday by a dramatic attack on the boastful and remorseless killer of four persons. Joseph Speaker, 23 years old, son of one of the victims, plunged thru a ring of newspaper photographers and attempted to pummel the leering youth in the witness chair.

Sawicki, apparently enjoying the occasion and his chewing gum, was telling Coroner A. L. Brodie how he shot and killed Park Policeman Charles J. Speaker, 58 years old. He said that Policeman Speaker interrupted him in a robbery in Jackson park at 59th street.

"Then I shot him in the head and killed him," Sawicki said complacently. "I strolled out of the park, went uptown on the I. C., and saw a show."

Lunge Send Three Sprawling.

Young Speaker, who had been listening to the testimony in front of the judge's bench in the Stockyards police courtroom, made a rush for the witness. Leaping to a chair, Speaker sent three photographers sprawling, and plunged across the raised bench.

Sergt. James Coleman, Detective Patrick McInerney and other policemen joined the fray. Sawicki was knocked sprawling, and Speaker was led sobbing from the courtroom. The unruffled parolee from St. Charles School for Boys continued the testimony, which resulted in recommendations that he be held to the grand jury on three charges of murder.

His other Chicago victims are John J. Miller, 19, of 5542 West 63d place, shot and killed Sunday night during a robbery in Sherman park, and Charles Kwasinski, 17, a St. Charles alumnus, fatally wounded when he tried to dissuade Sawicki from a holdup. The other man killed by Sawicki was Henry Allain, 72 year old farmer, shot Friday on his farm near Momence.

Weighs Chance of Chair.

Before the inquest, Sawicki, who will talk as long as he has an audience, opined that he was "two to one to beat the electric chair."

"I think I'll go to an insane asylum," he said. "Anyway, I'll try for it. You've got a chance to get out if you go to an asylum. I think I'd give them too much trouble in a prison."

He said of Kwasinski that "I'm glad I got rid of that rat. He caused me a lot of trouble."

"Where I made my mistake," Sawicki continued, "was when I didn't plug that young fellow with Kwasinski [Clarence Schwark, 16, 1736 West Monroe street]. If I'd killed him I could have got away to St. Louis, where I had friends."

Says Victim Reached for Gun.

In testimony before the coroner's jury, Sawicki said that he shot Kwasinski when the latter reached for the gun.

"Where he made his mistake," the witness said, "was when he reached for the receiving end and not the sending end. I stepped back about three steps and fired. I made sure I hit him right where it hurt worst—in the lung."

Of the robbery fatal to Miller, Sawicki said he approached Miller as he sat on the grass with Mrs. Mary Wodarczyk, 22 years old, 5036 South Throop street.

Lands in Cornfield When Motor of Plane Misbehaves

Vernon Rudolph of Crystal Lake made a forced landing yesterday in a cornfield owned by August Finke, a farmer living near Bryn Mawr avenue and Wolf road. Rudolph landed after his small plane developed motor trouble. Finke called police and Rudolph called the American airport at Park Ridge, owners of the plane. The airport fixed the plane, Rudolph paid $25 for damage to the corn, and the plane was flown out again.

The body of a man, about 40 years old, was taken from the lake yesterday off of Oak street. Police said the body had been in the water for several weeks.

FILM STRIKERS REFUSE TO MAKE DEAL WITH BIOFF

Hollywood, Cal., July 2 (AP).—The Screen Cartoon guild reported today it had declined to negotiate with Willie Bioff, agent of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employés, in its strike against the Walt Disney studios.

A negotiations meeting had been scheduled yesterday between guild and Disney representatives. Howard Baldwin, guild spokesman, said:

"We found out that in order to make a deal we would have to deal with Bioff. We explained to the membership at a special meeting and they voted unanimously to have nothing to do with Bioff."

Bioff, who served a jail term in Chicago for pandering, is under indictment in New York on charges of extorting $550,000 from four leading film producers.

Take Precaution Against Typhoid at State Hospital

The state department of public health yesterday took steps to prevent the spread of what is believed to be a case of typhoid fever at the Elgin state hospital. Dante F. Zarlenga, 37 years old, of Chicago, a patient for 10 years, is ill with suspected typhoid. Dr. Charles F. Read, managing officer, said the cottage in which Zarlenga lived is quarantined and a staff of state health doctors, nurses, and sanitary engineers has been sent to Elgin to aid in precautionary measures.

LAKE DROWNING VICTIM IS NAMED AS MURDERER OF 5

15 Year Patricide Hunt Believed at End.

Holland, Mich., July 2 [Special].—A fifteen year search for a man who killed his father and is suspected of having slain four other persons in Indiana towns was believed near an end tonight.

The conclusion was seen in the tentative identification of the body of a man who drowned in Lake Michigan near here two years ago. Resemblance between the body and the long sought slayer was confirmed when the body was exhumed this morning from a potter's field grave near here.

The killer was Willard L. Carson formerly of Liberty, Ind. He has been sought since the slaying of his father, Clinton Carson, wealthy farmer, at his home near Liberty on Aug. 2, 1926. The killing allegedly followed a dispute over young Carson's demands for a share of his father's estate.

Killed an Informer.

Some time later A. W. Whalen of Kokomo, Ind., was shot to death after reporting to police that he believed a man living at his home was Carson. Police set a trap for the suspect but he escaped and apparently returned later to deal with the informer.

The other slayings of which police suspect Carson were those of the town marshals at Liberty, Ind., and College Corners, Ind., and a policeman at Indianapolis.

When the body of the man was taken from the lake on Aug. 3, 1939, William Van Etta, then a deputy sheriff, took his finger prints and sent them, along with other information about the man, to agents of the federal bureau of identification.

They identified the victim as having attempted unsuccessfully to enroll at a CCC camp at Black River Falls, Wis., under the name of Charles H. Lloyd in 1938. Three years before, the agents said, the same man, using the name of Edward Neil Cain, entered the state penitentiary at Raleigh, N. C., to serve a term for the illegal transportation of an automobile.

Van Etta Sees Resemblance.

No more progress was made on the case for nearly two years. Meantime Van Etta had become a Holland policeman. Three weeks ago when he was looking at a number of pictures of criminals he noted the resemblance between the body of the lake victim and a photograph of the long sought Carson.

Policeman Van Etta sent a photograph of the lake victim to Indianapolis police and they showed it to Carson's sister. She tentatively identified the photograph as that of her hunted brother. Today Detective Fred Fosler of the Indiana state police came here and supervised the taking of new photographs of the exhumed body which he expected would prove conclusively that it was Carson.

MISSING POLICE CHIEF IS FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

Weatherford, Okla., July 2 (AP).—The body of Police Chief Bruce Rainey, missing for 10 days, was found today in a 10 foot hole beside a road near here. There was a bullet hole in his head.

"We believe he was murdered," said Undersheriff Bill Clark of Clinton.

The body was found by farmers. Tracks indicated that an automobile had been backed up to the hole, and the body dumped out.

The 33 year old police chief was last seen June 23 when he left his home for the police station.

COURTNEY OPENS FULL INQUIRY IN CALDWELL CASE

Indiana Officials Wash Hands of Probe.

State's Attorney Courtney yesterday stepped into the investigation of the affairs of Max Caldwell, deposed boss of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association, who was arrested Tuesday after nearly a month's search.

At the same time authorities of Lake county, Indiana, who also had been investigating Caldwell in connection with a supposedly unserved jail sentence there, dropped their share of the inquiry because, they said, of its expense.

U. S. Agents Interested.

Other developments yesterday were the freeing of Caldwell on $1,000 bond when a habeas corpus hearing was continued; the appointment of Assistant State's Attorney William Crawford to handle the general inquiry, and the disclosure that federal income tax agents are interested in Caldwell.

Caldwell, as business agent, was czar of the clerks' union for five years until an insurgent rank and file element of the union kicked him out and the union's international officers formally suspended him. In addition, the insurgent group filed a suit demanding that Caldwell account for $910,000 in union dues.

The resultant general quiz disclosed that in Lake county, in 1925, Caldwell was sentenced under his real name—Max Pollack—to six months on the Indiana state prison farm as a liquor law violator. Official records indicate that he did not serve the sentence.

Extradition Action Promised.

Extradition action was promised by Ben Schwartz, assistant to Felix A. Kaul, the Lake county prosecutor. Caldwell was seized Tuesday night by Sergt. George Barnes of the labor detail. He denied knowledge of the $910,000 union dues mentioned in the court suit. He also asserted he had served the 1925 Indiana sentence.

His arrest laid the groundwork for action by the Indiana officials, but Prosecutor Kaul, in a move unexpected by State's Attorney Courtney, announced in a formal statement that "the Caldwell case is an Illinois problem" and that Indiana and Lake county taxpayers should not "bear the expense of extradition for a misdemeanor involving a liquor law violation that occurred 16 years ago." He declined further comment.

Assistant State's Attorney Crawford condemned Kaul's action. "Money should never stand in the way of criminal justice," he said. "The law doesn't give a prosecutor the authority to shun his duty because this would save money."

Recalls Bioff Case.

Crawford recalled that Illinois and Cook county spent "thousands of dollars to extradite Willie Bioff, another union official who failed to serve an even older sentence."

Caldwell was questioned at length by Crawford yesterday but for the most part maintained silence. Shortly afterward he was released by Chief Justice James F. Fardy in the Criminal court on bond of $1,000 for appearance July 14. Caldwell's brother, Michael Pollack, also a former official of the union, who was seized with him, also was released under $1,000 bond. Later Crawford said he intended to round up other ex-officials of the clerks' union. Meantime, it is understood that income tax officials have cautioned union officials not to open their safety vaults until the federal agents can be present.

COUNTY LIQUOR LICENSE GRANTED TO BON AIR CLUB

A Lake county liquor license was issued yesterday to the Bon Air Country club, whose premises are leased to Bon Air Catering, Inc., by William R. Johnson, reputed gambling czar now on bond pending appeal from an income tax conviction. Granting of the license had been opposed by Assistant Attorney General Harold J. Tallett in view of "the known character of the club."

The license permit was signed by David Van Patten, chairman of the Lake county liquor control commission, who said that a recent inspection of the club by Emmett Moroney and Joseph P. Welch, deputy commissioners, found no violation of the Lake county liquor laws.

FREE DISBARRED LAWYER SEIZED IN ABORTION QUIZ

Four charges of conspiracy against Louis Piquett, disbarred attorney who was arrested in the investigation of an alleged million dollar abortion ring, were nolle prossed by Judge Oscar S. Caplan in Felony court yesterday after Assistant State's Attorney Joseph O'Connor said the evidence against him was insufficient.

Piquett, who served a federal prison sentence for harboring Homer Van Meter, associate of the notorious John Dillinger, was arrested April 3 in front of an office building at 190 North State street during a raid on offices of the alleged abortionists.

The state also withdrew a charge of disorderly conduct against Mrs. Catherine Heideman, 42 years old, 433 West 119th street, arrested in connection with the same inquiry. Exposure of the ring's activities led to resignations of three members of State's Attorney Courtney's staff and the fatal shooting of a daughter of one of the alleged members of the ring by Policeman Daniel Moriarity.

4 Women, 11 Other Alleged Poker Players Arrested

TWO NOMINATED FOR BOYS STATE GOVERNOR RACE

1,200 Youths See How Democracy Works.

Springfield, Ill., July 2 (AP).—Two high school seniors of Peoria and Joliet today were chosen candidates for governor of Boys' state in hotly contested primaries conducted by the 1,200 youths here for the encampment sponsored by the American Legion to teach young Americans how democracy works.

The state fair grounds took on an election day atmosphere, with bands, parades, and banners much in evidence, as Robert Gorman, 18 years old, of Peoria, was elected by the Federalist party as its candidate for governor, and Arthur Lennon, 17, of Joliet, won the Nationalist party nomination.

Political Rallies Held.

Final elections to determine the Boys' state governor will be held tomorrow. Election eve political rallies were held tonight. There were several candidates for each post corresponding to state offices.

Started in Illinois in 1935 by the American Legion, the Boys' state program has spread to 37 other states as part of the Legion's Americanism training. Youths from each of the state's 102 counties are selected by local Legion posts and other civic organizations to attend the week-long camp, where practical citizenship is stressed.

Learn More than Theory.

Hayes Kennedy, president of the Boys' state organization, said that actual elections and operation of model local, county, and state governments give the boys experience in "actualities, not theory."

The youths, it was disclosed, learn more than the theory of politics. One candidate for lieutenant governor was ruled off the ballot today by an elections commission on the ground that he had violated the "Boys' state Hatch act" by coming here with expensive placards, banners, and matchbooks advertising his candidacy. Campaign expenditures are limited to $5 a person.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK.

FIRM PRODUCES MECHANISM FOR HIGH CALIBER GUN

The first recoil mechanism for a high caliber field gun manufactured successfully by a private company during the present emergency, was turned over to the army yesterday by the Hannifin Manufacturing company, 4451 Fillmore street. The mechanism was accepted by Col. Donald Armstrong, executive officer of the Chicago Ordnance district, who read a message of thanks to Hannifin employés from Maj. Gen. Charles H. Wesson, chief of army ordnance.

Victor W. Peterson, president, said that the company received the contract for the mechanism, designed for the 75 mm. pack howitzer, last fall, and that tests at the Rock Island arsenal had been satisfactory. The mechanisms now are in production.

The Hannifin company also is beginning to produce recoil equipment for the much larger 240 mm. howitzers. The company yesterday received an additional army order for $570,000 in recoil equipment.

PROPOSE FITTING SLUM AREAS FOR MODERN BUILDING

Plan Commission Visions New Subdivisions.

A plan to clear slum areas and turn them into virtually new subdivisions designed to attract the type of building now in progress in the outlying districts was approved yesterday by the Chicago Plan commission.

The commission also asked Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes for an opinion on the feasibility of the project under present statutes and a recommendation of what legislative steps might be necessary to make the project workable.

The next step of the commission, according to T. T. McCrosky, executive director, who prepared the plan, will be to submit the proposal to the city council. The commission made no recommendation as to what agency should carry out the project.

Ten Steps in Proposal.

McCroskey's proposal has 10 specific steps. They are:

1. Two or more "problem areas" are to be selected. Each is to be at least one-quarter square mile in area.

2. All buildings in the area should be thoroly surveyed by the building, fire, and health departments. All buildings where owners refuse to comply with regulations should be closed.

3. All properties would be investigated by the county treasurer and foreclosure procedures taken against those which are so far in arrears in taxes that their owners cannot pay.

Unfit Buildings to Be Razed.

4. All unfit buildings would then be demolished and the owners' permission obtained to demolish private structures which had been ordered closed.

5. Steps would then be taken to purchase, either thru condemnation or trade, private holdings in the area so that the entire area would be owned by the agency in charge of the project.

6. The plan commission would then determine the best "reuse" of the area. That determination would be reached after conferences with representatives of the city, county, park district, school board, housing authority, and other agencies.

7. Plans for redevelopment of the area would be prepared.

8. The commission would recommend appropriate zoning for the district.

Survey of Street Needs.

9. The commission would survey the street needs of the area and recommend to the city council that unneeded streets be abandoned.

10. Public interest and private financial participation in the redevelopment program would then be stimulated.

"By building attractive new developments that can compete favorably with the type of construction now taking place on outlying vacant land, the tide of decentralization can be turned, and the investment and mortgage structure of established near-in business centers can thus be stabilized and protected," McCosky told the commission.

7 SOLDIERS SENT TO PRISON FOR THEFT OF CHECKS

Seven soldiers, all said to be draftees, have been sentenced after secret court martial at Chanute field and Camp Grant to federal penitentiary terms of from one to three years. They were found guilty of stealing, forging, and cashing army checks.

Capt. Thomas J. Callaghan, chief of the Chicago secret service office, disclosed the sentences here yesterday after returning from an investigation he made at the army's request. "They are now on their way to prison," he said.

Four soldiers at Chanute field were involved in the theft of two checks totaling $110.42. The men and their sentences are Frank Einstone, three years; Jesse J. Johnson, two and one-half years; Paul T. Scott, two years, and Leon Balla, one year. Three men at Camp Grant each received three year sentences for the theft of three checks totaling $123.77. They are Harold J. Martin, Harold Hodgman, and George L. Wilkins. Camp officials could not be reached last night for further details and corps area officers said reports had not yet reached here. Home addresses of the supposed draftees were not available.

Summery, a Bit of Rain! That's Week-end Prospect

Summer weather over the July 4 week-end holiday, with perhaps a little rain, was predicted yesterday by Forecaster H. A. Downs. The temperature ought to rise a little today and a little bit more tomorrow—July 4, he said. The rise probably will continue Saturday and Sunday, too, but on those days there might be stray showers, Downs said.

WPA TO TRAIN MORE FOR ARMS JOBS: HUNTER

Plans Direct Contact with Employers.

The Works Projects administration will expand its vocational training program despite the reduced congressional appropriation for the fiscal year 1942, Howard O. Hunter, WPA commissioner, told state WPA administrators yesterday as they started a two day conference in the Stevens hotel.

Hunter announced the formation of the division of training and reëmployment, which not only will train relief clients for jobs in rearmament industries, but will make direct contact with private employers in an effort to place WPA trained workers in nonrelief jobs.

100,000 Trained in 11 Months.

Since last August the WPA has trained more than 100,000 persons for skilled jobs, Hunter told the state administrators. The number will be doubled or tripled within the next year, he said.

The state administrators met to discuss administrative procedure in the reduction of national WPA rolls from 1,400,000 to 1,000,000, the figure suggested to congress by President Roosevelt as a desirable average for this fiscal year. The current WPA appropriation bill totaled 875 million dollars compared with the preceding fiscal wear appropriation of 1 billion 350 million dollars.

Sharp Reduction in Chicago.

Meanwhile, an example of how the reduction will be felt nationally was furnished by Commissioner of Public Works Oscar E. Hewitt. Hewitt said he had received notice from the Chicago WPA office that WPA labor employés would be reduced from 22,800 to 15,900 and white collar workers from 12,600 to 8,100.

Thirty-five hundred men formerly at work at city sponsored projects have been discharged since Monday, Hewitt said. Only 2,500 remain.

Commissioner Hunter also announced the appointment of Charles P. Casey of Carrollton [Greene county] as acting state WPA administrator for Illinois. Casey, who was an assistant state WPA administrator, succeeds Howard S. Drew, who died June 18. Casey was state director of public works and buildings from March, 1940, until early this year.

AWARDED $50,000 DAMAGES IN SUIT OVER INJURIES

A jury before W. W. Damron, city judge of Harrisburg, sitting in the Superior court, returned a verdict for $50,000 damages yesterday in the personal injury suit of Otto Bouma, 41 years old, 329 South Homan avenue, against the Consumers company of Illinois.

Bouma charged that on Jan. 18, 1940, while he was walking on the sidewalk at the southwest corner of Laramie avenue and Jackson boulevard, a Consumers company truck, disputing the crossing with a passenger car driven by Morris Klein, 3318 Belden avenue, struck Klein's car and hurled it against him [Bouma], pinning him against a lamp post.

Bouma suffered fractures of the pelvis and both legs.

$148,188 SLICED OFF YEARLY COST OF SCHOOL BOOKS

The Chicago board of education has reduced textbook expenses an average of $148,188 a year since 1934 thru its system of competitive bidding among publishers and the adoption of uniform textbooks in all city schools, Dr. Don C. Rogers, district superintendent in charge of textbooks, said yesterday.

In a seven year period since textbook administration and purchasing was transferred to the bureau of research and building surveys, savings have amounted to $1,037,341, according to Rogers. Reductions on each textbook range from one-third to two-thirds of the price formerly paid by the schools.

Tells of Former Chaos.

"Chaotic conditions existed in textbook purchasing before the board adopted uniform textbooks and competitive bidding," Rogers asserted. "Administration was divided among four other bureaus and departments. No book inventory was kept. The textbooks were bought by the principals and teachers themselves, sometimes at ridiculous prices. Different schools had different textbooks, causing great confusion when a pupil moved to another neighborhood."

Textbook expenses for 1932 and 1933 were purposely left out of the comparison since only a small textbook fund tax levy was spread in 1932 and none at all in 1933, reducing book expenditures for those years regardless of need.

Annual Textbook Fund Expenditures. Before 1934.		Since 1934.
1927	913,632.19	1936	772,965.55
1928	979,552.35	1937	767,967.90
1929	982,282.18	1938	896,731.37
1930	1,170,485.36	1939	755,182.49
1931	1,174,949.32	1940	950,152.26
Total	$6,816,514.21	Total	$5,779,172.62

Enrollment in high schools during the second seven year period was 61 per cent higher than in the first seven year period. Since the cost of textbooks is 50 per cent more in high school than in elementary school, the saving of $1,037,341.59 assumes even greater importance, Rogers said, because about the same number of books were bought in both periods. The elementary school enrollment was lower in the second seven year period because of the lower birth rate in the preceding years, Rogers explained.

How Texts Are Chosen.

Textbooks are chosen by committees of principals and teachers, all experts in their fields, and submitted to the board of education for approval. Textbooks with A [or superior] rating are selected, and publishers are asked to submit bids for wholesale lots.

The use of the quota system has helped achieve the proper number of books in all subjects for the schools, Rogers said. It provides for a total of 10 books for each elementary school pupil and 9 for each high school pupil. Formerly, Rogers said, large quantities of books were purchased by guesswork and many had to be sold as waste paper for $5 to $8 a ton.

All worn out books are exchanged for new ones at an allowance of 15 cents a book, Rogers said.

Heaven-Sent to Those in Every Walk of Life Who Now Are Paying the Penalty in "Nerves" and Lack of Vitality Due to Deficiency in the Vitamins and Minerals It So Richly Contains

NO OTHER BREAD IN THE WORLD BRINGS YOU IN THIS AMAZING WAY VITAMINS WITH A TASTE —BECAUSE ONLY STAFF IS MADE UNDER THE EARLE PATENTED PROCESS

At Last! Sun-Ripened Wheat's True, Good Flavor—Thanks to the Earle Patented Process

Read this Amazing Story:—How a Mining Engineer's Curiosity Led to the Invention that Made Possible this Great New Benefit to Your Family!

HERE now is that utterly new and revolutionary kind of bread you have heard so much about. Different from any bread ever before known, many scientists believe it may influence profoundly the lives of millions. Because of its power to improve their physical and mental processes of life amazingly.

For this new bread brings the treasure-trove of life-giving elements, the rich hoard of vitamins and minerals with all the wealth of flavor Mother Nature amassed in each bursting grain of sun-ripened wheat. And, of the utmost importance, none of the bad outer, bitter, and indigestible, splintery "skin"!

Better Than Ordinary White Better Than "Whole Wheat"

Never before have you tasted bread like this. Here's aroma to make your mouth water—as fresh as the sight of fields of wind-rippled, sun-splashed wheat. Here's taste to delight you—even better than bread fresh-baked from wheat ground at the old mill on the creek. And a texture to melt in your mouth—as delicate and lacy and velvety of crumb as that of a blue-ribbon winning loaf at the State Fair.

That wheat can be one of man's finest natural foods—there is no question. But until now it has never been possible to give you ALL the rich benefits of wheat in a bread all people would eat. Or, fit for all people to eat!

A Mining Engineer Solves The Problem

Despite fortunes spent, no miller ever found, without losing precious vitamins and minerals, how to get rid of wheat's bad outer, bitter, and indigestible, splintery "skin." Then came this epochal and far-reaching discovery.

In the "flotation" process, which separates the dross from the gold of the hills, Theodore Earle, mining engineer and inventive genius, at last found the clue toward separating the bad from the gold of the plains.

First, scientists of a leading university set out to prove the new health values; milling and baking experts of the Continental Baking Company spent 6 months perfecting formulae; over $340,000 for new facilities. Then, came the development of Staff—a new bread better for health and flavor!

A Boon In Better Health, Better Nerves, Renewed Vitality

In England, to help combat the terrible nerve strain of blackout horror and correct the deficiencies of rationed food, all bread has been fortified artificially with Vitamin B_1. Over here, the strain increases daily. Food is not rationed, but millions of people in all walks of life, authorities on nutrition say, fail to get enough Vitamin B_1 alone for their best physical and mental health and vigor.

Let Staff remain in the toaster about 50% longer than white bread for perfect toast.

Actually, millions of people who now believe it their lot to feel "jittery," easily fagged out, may again experience the happiness of renewed vitality a more adequate diet provides.

No Other Bread In The World Like Staff

The only bread made under the Earle patents, you can tell Staff is a natural wheat bread by its golden wheat color. For Staff contains 4 times more natural Vitamin B_1; twice the natural minerals; and more protein than in many ordinary white breads.

Hence, for better meals, better health, better spirits, you are urged to serve Staff in your home. Note the amazing difference the good flavor of sun-ripened wheat makes. Get fresh Staff today—and "Eat Staff For Life." Serve it every day and take comfort in the knowledge that you have left no stone unturned to give your family this wonderful opportunity for better well-being that Staff affords.

Two Big Races to Give Sailors Busy Week-End

BY JUDITH CASS.

A THREE day holiday, the answer to a yachtsman's prayer, is the inspiration this weekend for two of the largest events of Chicago's sailing season. With the Chicago Yacht club's Sterling Morton Trophy series and the Jackson Park Yacht club's Saugatuck race scheduled, as well as numerous small events for the "stay at homes," it's safe to predict that almost every boat flying the burgee of the Chicago, Jackson Park, Columbia, Corinthian, and Sheridan Shore clubs will be sailing in some race.

The Morton series, exclusively for Star boats, will attract a fleet from the Sheridan Shore club on Wilmette harbor to join the competition tomorrow, Saturday, and Sunday off Belmont harbor. Byron Willis is chairman of the Chicago club's race committee.

Members of the Chicago Yacht club will gather at the Belmont harbor clubhouse for a buffet supper this evening and for a dinner-dance on Saturday. The Monroe street clubhouse will be turned over to the naval cadets from Abbott hall for a dance on Saturday night.

Sixty Boats Entered in Saugatuck Race.

More than 60 boats from the Chicago, Columbia, Corinthian, Jackson Park, Sheridan Shore, Racine, and Milwaukee Yacht clubs are entered in the Saugatuck race sponsored by the Jackson Park club. The entries, including A, B, C, and D classes of the cruising division and 8-meters, Qs, Rs, universal yawls, and schooners of the universal division, will sail at 8:15 o'clock tonight for Saugatuck.

Fleet Capt. Lynn Roundtree will convoy the fleet across the lake, carrying on his boat a band which will play for an informal rendezvous the Great Lakes Cruising club is sponsoring on Saturday afternoon in Saugatuck. The party will include a buffet supper and dancing.

The Saugatuck race, the 21st in a series, will bring a heated competition between Bob Benedict's Southern Cross from the Jackson Park club and Milton Friend's Betty Bro of the Columbia. Since each of these boats has won two legs of the Saugatuck race, either skipper winning this week end's race would get the trophy permanently.

At the Sheridan Shore club, there'll be regular races for the Star boats not entering the Morton series. Tomorrow night the club will give a dance under the chairmanship of Joseph W. Moulding, and on Sunday evening an informal supper will be served.

The ceremony took place at 4:30 o'clock in the First Methodist church, Evanston, with a small reception following in the Hubbard Woods home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess.

The bride wore a simple gown of white marquisette made with a long waist line, buttoned down the back, and trimmed with some old family lace made into a collar. Some of the lace from her mother's wedding veil edged the tulle veil of yesterday's bride, and she carried stephanotis and white orchids.

76th Anniversary to Be Celebrated by Salvation Army

Officers and members of the Salvation Army in the Chicago area will celebrate Independence day and the Army's 76th anniversary at an all day program tomorrow in the Army's Wonderland camp near Antioch, Ill. Commissioner Ernest I. Pugmire, commander of the Chicago and middle west forces, will address the morning meeting.

The program also will mark the close of the Army's 7th annual band camp which has been in session since Monday. The bands and prize winning students will present a part of the afternoon program, which also will include patriotic music by the Chicago Staff band and choral groups and a schedule of sports events.

The Salvation Army was founded on July 2, 1865, when William Booth opened a Christian mission in London's east end. The name was adopted in 1878, and the first corps outside the British Isles was established in New York City in March, 1880. The first Chicago corps was opened five years later in Bush hall, then located on Chicago avenue near Clark street.

$25,000 Added by Chicagoans to USO Fund

A flood of gifts from corporations and individuals yesterday poured more than $25,000 into the United Service Organizations' headquarters at 135 South La Salle street.

The day's receipts raised to more than $230,000 the total of contributions toward Chicago's goal of $679,500 for providing recreational facilities for men in the armed forces. The USO's national goal is $10,765,000, of which almost 7½ millions has been raised.

In pledging his support to the USO drive, Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, yesterday stressed the importance of morale among the nation's fighting forces.

"We see more clearly every day that morale is more important than armament," he said. "The USO campaign is vital to national defense."

Yesterday's largest corporate gift was one of $5,000 from the International Harvester company. The Inland Steel company and subsidiaries was a close second with $4,600. This company also has given $2,900 to USO units outside Chicago.

A donation of $1,000 was voted unanimously last night by the Cook county council of the American Legion. The contribution will be made from a fund that derives its revenue from the legion's annual Fourth of July celebration in Soldiers' field.

Other large gifts included $2,000 from the Pure Oil company, $2,302.50 from the Crowe Name Plate and Manufacturing company and its 1,400 employés, $1,985 from R. R. Donnelley & Sons, and $1,350 from the Liquid Carbonic corporation and its employés.

In addition more than a score of concerns and groups sent in gifts of more than $100 each, and there were numerous individual contributions. Chicago's quota of the national fund probably will be subscribed in less than 10 days, officials said.

Weber and Chicago Opera Orchestra to Open Park Concerts

Henry Weber, musical director of W-G-N and artistic director of the Chicago Opera company, will conduct the Chicago Opera orchestra in Grant park next Tuesday night to open the 1941 series of free lake front concerts. The soloist will be Vivian Della Chiesa, the one time Chicago soprano who has to her credit successes in radio, concert, and movies.

The Grant park concerts will open on Tuesday, rather than on this coming Sunday, because the Fourth of July holiday will make it impossible to get the audience area and the benches into condition for a Sunday opening.

According to present plans the concerts will run nightly until Sept. 7 [with Aug. 16, the night of the 12th Chicagoland Music Festival, the only open date] but there is some doubt about Monday concerts and about all concerts after Aug. 17. Because of a deep cut in the Chicago Park district's budget, there are funds on hand now for only 36 concerts. It is hoped that popular subscriptions to the park concert fund will augment the budget already provided by the Chicago Park district and the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

Harlowardens Send Children to Algonquin

Eighty undernourished youngsters from the stockyards area, known as the Harlowarden group, yesterday spent their first day at Camp Algonquin on the Fox river. They began a diet of eggs, milk, and sunshine that will last all summer if necessary in order to build up their frail bodies.

Annually the stockyards district council thru its Harlowarden committee, of which Miss Naomi Donnelley is chairman, raises funds to help send these children to camp. All of them have been designated as urgent cases by the clinic doctors. If any of the children respond rapidly to the outdoor program and additional mid-afternoon and evening lunches, they are sent home and others take their places.

Yesterday's contribution to the camp fund from TRIBUNE readers brought the total to $331.46. They were $3.00 from Kay and Irene; $2.50 from Mrs. Alex Simpson, and $2.00 from Ethel M. Matthews. Donations to the ice fund follow:

Hint of Autumn Already Is Seen in Sleek Gowns

BY REA SEEGER.

Forecasting a change of season, the first handbags of black hint of what's to come for fall. Sleek oblongs of moire with ice cool crystal frames and clasps are compellingly smart finds with the many dull black dresses for town wear. The prices [under $5] are amazingly easy to contemplate. Dull black ribbed silk, crepes, and dull satins are also plentiful with the same modest price marks.

The inevitable arrival of sleek satin dinner and evening gowns also hint at fall fashions, even tho the two new shades are a delectable honey blonde, and as the opposite contrast a peculiarly sinister steel or gun metal gray. The satin is exceedingly high sheen; it glimmers enticingly under artificial light as well as moonlight.

These new fall models are cut with startling simplicity, allowing the gleam of the satin to flatter and reveal the figure lines. Most of the necklines are still extremely low vee in line and the bodices are usually shirred softly in classic manner.

Waistlines are very important, with the wide midriff section still the most popular. Wide belts studded with large simulated jewels do the same narrowing magic for the waist and beltlines. Daytime dresses of the first satins are cut in the same simple but flattering manner.

Skirts flutter gayly, either because they are pleated or are gored with circular panels. Short butterfly sleeves reach half way down to the elbow. Swathed bodices feature diagonal vee necklines or the high squares, with soft folds for additional feminine flattery. Clips return to dazzle and flash against the satin as the only ornamental accent.

* THRU THE LOOKING GLASS *

Of course you've noticed how much more frequently you have to remake your face during warm days. The heat and the dust combine to make a wreck of your facial facade almost as fast as you can restore it. This is especially true of women who are fairly active and whose skins naturally pour forth oil and perspiration.

Summer is a season when you'll use a light cleansing cream in vast quantities. You'll want one that's good but inexpensive, and we think we have just the thing for you in a cream that has a great vogue every summer. It's a special vacation cleansing cream, white, light, and fluffy, and a perfectly huge jar of it costs surprisingly little.

There's something of a cooling quality about the cream itself. It's so light it has an almost instant freshening effect, and it's so efficient that it removes your runny makeup, grime, and the oily secretions in practically nothing flat. It removes nicely too, as a fluffy cream should, leaving the skin almost free of oil. The ideal plan after using any cream in summer, however, is to go over the skin with lotion. If this isn't practical, go over the skin with cleansing tissues more than once. You'll find the makeup that follows will look better and last longer.

Today's the Day Kids, of Sally's First Big Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

All the boys and girls who wrote winning letters about our first big party of the year will receive their reward today. We're off to see "The Reluctant Dragon," Walt Disney's latest full length movie. Personal invitations have been mailed to 100 boys and girls, and I'll see you all today. We're going to have a lot of fun, so I hope that every one will be at our meeting place promptly.

One week from today, on July 10, we'll have our second party, and after I go thru all the mail received from boys and girls who want to see Bob Hope in "Caught in the Draft" I'll select 100 youngsters as my guests. The mailman has been bringing in great bundles of letters from children who want to be included in this party and the names of the winners will be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

If you haven't written your letter, I'm afraid you're too late for this treat, but since the Sunday TRIBUNE also will bring news of our third big party, there'll be something of interest for you all in my column. I can't tell you about it yet, but I know you're going to like our plans, so just be patient until next Sunday morning, boys and girls!

Study of Spanish Is Urged as Good Neighbor Policy

Boston, Mass., July 2 (AP).—The people of the United States should become bilinguists—as adept at Spanish or Portuguese as they are in English—to insure better Latin American relations, the National Education association was told today at its 79th convention.

Asserting 365,000 students in south and Central America study English as a required subject, Dr. Hyman Alpern, principal of the Evander Childs High school, New York City said:

"We, too, must put Spanish or Portuguese along side of English as the additional and alternate language of our daily life. Our government has recognized the value of the study of our neighbors' languages for hemispheric defense by requiring all air corps officers to have at least a conversational command of Spanish and by encouraging all navy men to study it."

Concentration should be made on increasing the Latin American knowledge of youth now in this nation's schools and colleges, said Dr. Alpern.

Maybe Woman Is to Blame for Separation

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Our correspondent says she is 27 and was happily married for several years until her husband started being unfaithful to her. He confessed one day that he was in love with another woman.

"Then I separated from him and we have been separated four years. We have a little girl and I will say that my husband has been good to her and generous about her support, and for that matter he is nice to me in his own fashion. Yet, even if I wanted to, he does not want to make a home again. He tells me that I deserve a good husband who could make me really happy and that the minute I get some one to marry me he will be willing to help me get a divorce. I haven't made a divorce move yet because I didn't want to."

Our correspondent goes on to relate that a young man is in love with her, but he does not know anything about her life. She asks if she should enlighten him on her status. She is afraid if she does he'll leave, and she likes the good times he now provides. The young man knows her under her maiden name.

These lighthearted escapes from legal marriage into new problems of romance are discouraging. One wonders when a woman can take the leap so deftly if her marriage failure can't be laid to something superficial in her makeup. Especially when she would be willing to go along under the deceiving maiden name.

A wife has a hold over a man who is devoted to his and her offspring. So that his unfaithfulness and his lack of desire to go back to the same home conditions might easily enough be traceable to the woman's unsatisfying rôle as wife and sweetheart.

SYNOPSIS.

Orphaned since childhood, Celia Ames, 22, has no one to whom she can turn when she loses her job. In her loneliness she has fallen in love with a fellow boarder, Val Quentin; but she cannot borrow from him as he owes her money. She decides to pawn her only jewelry, but finds that Val had pawned it months before and had not told her. He tries to talk himself out of it by saying he looked upon Celia as his wife and did not think she would care, and that the only reason he hasn't asked Celia to marry him is because his divorced wife is supporting him. Celia, who has been doubting his sincerity for some time, now realizes how despicable he is. She runs into Felicity Stanmore, 4 years her junior, whom she mothered in convent days. Felicity invites her home for the week-end. Her father, Sir Martin, is 39, handsome, and rich, but her Aunt May Allison lives with them and does not like Celia as she is jealous of Felicity's love and admiration. Felicity tells Celia she is in love and Celia is shocked to find Val is the man she is in love with. He has been making love to both girls at the same time and bought Felicity a ring with the money he got from pawning Celia's jewelry. Celia is completely cured of her love for Val, but when she warns Felicity about him Felicity thinks she is just jealous. Sir Martin asks Celia to accept the job as companion for his daughter and, not knowing what else to do, accepts, tho she realizes how difficult it will be. She finds herself falling in love with Sir Martin and wanting to live up to his trust in her tho at the same time she does not want to tell tales on Felicity. Sir Martin invited her to a cabaret party and she hasn't a dress to wear. This upsets her as she hears that Myra Sturgis, a charming widow, who has designs on Sir Martin, will be there. Sir Martin tactfully sends Celia a dress and orchids. At the party, which Val and Felicity also attend, Sir Martin learns that Val is divorced and still supported by his ex-wife.

INSTALMENT XXII.

FAMILY QUARREL.

Martin got up. "You girls mind being left alone?"

"We've been rather looking forward to it," the irrepressible Myra replied.

"Now, I wonder what he's up to," she mused as Martin disappeared thru the door to the foyer. "I was hoping there'd be a real nice little fight. I simply adore Martin when he goes into action. You don't look very happy, Celia—you don't mind if I call you 'Celia,' do you?"

"I think Sir Martin is furious with me," Celia said, her lips trembling. She took a big gulp of champagne.

"Because you knew and didn't tell? Well, why should you?"

Felicity and Sandy returned, looking flushed and disheveled. They had romped thru a one-step at full time.

"Where's Daddy—where's Val? Who was the woman Val was dancing with? She looked old enough to be his mother."

There was a lull while the bands were changing and the floor cleared. The thin, dark woman was back with her party, but Valentine Quentin wasn't to be seen anywhere.

Martin was coming toward them, and Celia thought she saw him make a signal to Myra Sturgis.

Whether or not, Myra got up promptly as he approached.

"Sorry to break up your party, Martin, but I've promised myself some sleep while Mickey's away. Don't bother about me—"

"Certainly we'll bother," said Martin. "We'll drive you home. Come along, girls. Sandy, you've got a long day ahead of you tomorrow, too."

"O, Daddy, so early!"

"It's after 12."

"Where's Val?"

"He had to run along somewhere else. I saw him in the lobby just now and he asked me to give you his apologies."

Martin's voice was pleasant enough, but there was an edge on it.

"What the devil's happened?" demanded Felicity.

Mrs. Sturgis, oddly enough, lived in the same block of flats which housed Miss Voisey and the nice Pekes, and she was soon disposed of. Sandy Maclaren dropped off at the same time and said he would like to walk across the green park to his lodgings in Westminster.

The rest of the drive home was silent.

Nobody yet had answered Felicity's query as to what had happened, and she was biding her time in sullen patience. Martin did not sit with them this time. He had given the seat to Myra and did not change after she and Sandy left them.

Celia's teeth were chattering. She'd be in for a session with him about Val and, if Martin was still cross with her, perhaps she'd just walk out of Leighton house in the fine feathers he had bought her and spend the rest of the night on a bench on the embankment. Had she really committed a crime by keeping her mouth shut?

They entered the marble hall with its bridal looking staircase. Stevens was not expected to sit up for them and the place looked coldly empty, with only one light burning.

"A telegram for you, Daddy," said Felicity, who had crossed to the table where the letters were laid out.

"O, I expect it's from May. I asked her to let us know if she arrived safely."

He was right; it was from Miss Allison and apparently she had arrived quite safely, but that wasn't what the telegram said.

Martin read it to them slowly, in a puzzled and irritated tone.

NOT GOING TO LIKE IT HERE. RETURNING IMMEDIATELY.

MAY.

Martin flipped the telegram back onto the table almost with a show of temper.

"Come into the study a moment—both of you," he said.

"There, I knew we'd done something," said Felicity. "Heaven knows, I can't seem to breathe without putting my foot in it. Come on, fellow lamb, and be slaughtered."

"You haven't done anything," Martin said, changing his tone. "Either of you. Don't cry, Celia. I get your point of view. It's a decent one—in view of all the circumstances."

He put an arm around each of them, gave them a quick hug, and then closed the study door.

"Felicity, it's only this—I learned something about Quentin tonight that I don't like at all. Celia knew it, but she didn't tell me. Myra told me. He's been married and divorced. I may be old fashioned, but——"

"O, is that all?" interrupted Felicity, in a drawl copied from Myra Sturgis. "Val told me almost the first time I met him. Poor boy—she was a dreadful old hag, Daddy. You've no idea what he went thru with her."

Martin's face twitched, and he made an impatient gesture.

"The woman keeps him, so perhaps she isn't quite as dreadful as you've been led to believe. The dirty cad! Thank God at last I've found a reason to forbid him the house."

"It's a lie that she keeps him, and this is the first time I ever heard that divorce is a crime."

Martin went on as tho Felicity had not spoken.

"I have forbidden him ever to come here again, and now I absolutely forbid you to see or hold any communication with him. That means writing or telephoning."

Felicity drew in a long, hissing breath. Her face was as white as paper.

"Will you give me your promise?"

"Certainly not." She gritted her teeth.

"I was afraid you wouldn't. Very well. I hold you responsible for this girl, Celia, when my back is turned. O, I know what I said. You don't have to tell tales, but I hold you responsible, nevertheless. Until I've had time to think up something, anyway."

"You've thought up plenty already," Felicity said. "But I've got a brain, too."

"I should like to have some proof that you can use it," her father retorted.

Felicity turned to go. "After you, jailer," she said, making Celia a deep bow.

"No, I want to speak to Celia alone," said Martin. "Do you feel like kissing me goodnight?"

"I'm so very, very sorry," Celia said in a quavering voice. "I wish you would be angry with me, too. I thought you were going to be."

"God knows I don't want to be angry with anybody. . . . That pup was so insulting I had all I could do to keep my hands off him. I sent a waiter to tell him I wanted to speak to him in the foyer. I told him that I did not wish him to see Felicity any more, and that I would forbid her to have anything further to do with him. And, of course, I told him why. He asked if you had been my informant, and what else you had told me about him. Is there anything else to tell?"

So now Val had struck at her again, and thru Martin Stanmore, this time.

"Only that once I was practically engaged to him," she said miserably.

Martin gave a laugh that was like a bark.

"Ha! And I was fool enough to hope there might be one woman in the world who was Quentin-proof! It only shows you, doesn't it?"

She couldn't bear another moment of this. Every word struck her on the raw, and before he could say any more she turned and fled from the room.

Grocers Ready with Bargains for Your Picnic

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Have a picnic or two this holiday week-end—it's expected of you. Even Mrs. Nature has conspired to have some of her best picnic wares on hand to make the eating part of an outdoor week-end a success.

Such melt-in-your-mouth goodies as fresh corn on the cob, watermelon, cantaloupe, tomatoes, cucumbers, and green onions are here and begging for a place in your picnic hamper.

Corn on the cob is cheaper this week than it's been since the first tempting 1941 ear appeared on the market. It still comes mostly from Texas but is getting down to a reasonable price level.

Cukes are selling at rather low prices. Most of them now hail from Illinois. Tomatoes, too, should be a good buy. With the first Missouri and southern Illinois tomatoes now in town, the price is cheaper this week. Dry onions—important potato salad ingredient—are finally getting more reasonable. This is the first substantial downward trend in dry onion prices in several months. The first local onions are on hand.

Other picnic specials on the vegetable rack which are bargain earmarked are green peppers, green onions, radishes, and celery. Not so picnickable, but bargains nonetheless, are green peas, summer squash of all kinds [including the dainty Italian Zucchini], and carrots. Vegetables on the whole are a good buy for anybody's money and you can't go wrong in serving them for your health's sake.

A wide variety of fruits are on tap to furnish a carryable picnic dessert. There's such a demand for watermelons that even increased supplies have failed to bring the price down. There's a trend toward lower prices, however, noticeable on the wholesale market if not reflected in retail stores.

Apricots and plums are cheaper this week and fine fare for porch or picnic table. Cantaloupe prices have been seesawing, but are now selling at about the same prices they brought a week ago.

Peaches suitable for eating fresh are now here. There aren't many of them but look for Hiley Bells or Early Elbertas [sometimes called Golden Jubilee]. These are freestones. The remainder and bulk of the peaches are of the clingstone variety and make fine pies or cobblers as well as jams and preserves but are not much of a muchness eaten out of hand. Peaches on the whole are cheaper and the first early Illinois peaches have found their way to the Chicago market.

There's a wide range in the quality of most berries now available. Some berries take their long ride to market in better shape than others. Best quality strawberries and raspberries are a little higher this week-end. There's little change in cherry prices, tho the season is nearing its end.

New faces at the fruit counter this week are early Wilder pears and the first California seedless grapes. Both are rather high priced.

Picnic meats are crowding out the other bargains at the meat counter. All kinds of cold cuts and sausages, cooked and uncooked hams, hamburger meat, stewing chickens, and hot dogs get the bargain attention. The forequarter cuts of beef are still your best bet for nonpicnic meals. Pork and lamb legs are both somewhat cheaper and lamb legs may be an excellent buy in the near future. Pork is probably cheaper because of decreased demand but with the high price of hogs at present, prices probably won't drop very much.

Don't forget all the pickles, olives, salad dressings, and other items which are essential to picnics. Your grocer has everything for a picnic including the paper plates the foods will rest on.

American Legion Home to Be Dedicated Sunday

The American Legion home in North Chicago will be dedicated Sunday by Milo J. Warner, national commander. The program will start with a breakfast in the morning to be attended by industrial and business leaders of Waukegan and North Chicago, followed by visits to the veterans' hospital at Downey and the Great Lakes Naval Training station. The dedication ceremonies, a patriotic rally, will be climaxed by a parade in which Legion musical units and 15 nationalistic groups will take part. State departments of Illinois and Wisconsin will be represented.

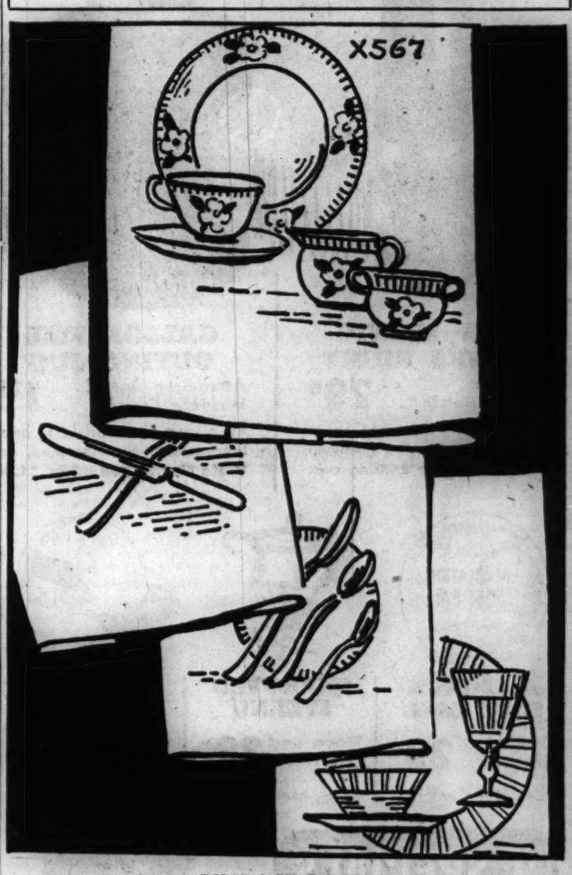
Miss Aldis and Miss Clow Making Debuts Today.

Fair weather has been ordered by Mr. and Mrs. Graham Aldis for a tea they are giving at home in Lake Forest from 5 until 7 o'clock this afternoon to present their debutante daughter, Miss Mary Cornelia Aldis. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Clow are hoping for a warm clear night as a dinner-dance they are giving for their debutante granddaughter, Miss Frances Clow, daughter of the Kent S. Clows, is to be an outdoor party at the Shoreacres club.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Burrows [Peggy Palmer] are being congratulated on the birth of their fifth child on Tuesday in the Burrows hospital. The baby, who has been named Samuel James Jr., has four older brothers and sisters, Thomas Wilson, Susan Ann, Victor Heiser, and Margaret Allison. Mrs. Walter Palmer of Ottawa, Ill., and Mrs. Agnes J. Burrows of Chicago are the children's grandparents.

Transfer of Table Service



BY NANCY CABOT.

Tea towels with table service as the motif create a charming and delightfully refreshing atmosphere around the kitchen towel rack. The colors may be attuned to the scheme in the kitchen or to match the table service in the household. Plain linen toweling is most effective for these motifs, and it is available in white and colors.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the table service, No. 567, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Adults Often Set Pattern of Childish Fears

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

We've been writing about fears, covering general and particular means of handling them, but we haven't touched on the prevention of them by adult example.

Today we'll discuss the fears which children acquire because their grown-ups express dismay, dread, repulsion, or even panic in their presence.

We must never overlook, in this connection, the fact that youngsters are natural mimics, nor fail to realize that they look upon grown people as towers of strength, with the ability to keep all situations well in hand. Consequently when they see evidences of human frailty as expressed in terror or alarm by adults, or hear tales of frightening experiences, the fear transmits itself to them, and they often take it far too seriously.

As a general rule children aren't instinctively afraid of animals, unless some older person provides the keynote of fear. On the contrary, they are usually fascinated by and interested in all animals and willing to go more than half way in overtures of friendliness.

However, just let some adult cringe or falter at the sight of a dog or cat; show repulsion over toads, frogs, snakes, or mice, and you'll see a similar reaction in a child.

Many children are deprived of the pleasure of having a household pet because their mother is fearful of either cats or dogs and won't have them around.

To prevent or cure fears, first set a good example. Next, use common sense and imagination. Next to that, provide a wholesome physical and play régime.

Last, remember that as a child grows older he becomes more stable emotionally and physically, experiences more things and therefore understands more. And that many fears yield to time.

July 3, 1941.

Universal day—Save the excitement for tomorrow. Today should be slow paced and serious.

July 4, 1776—The birthday of a nation is significant and in the birthdate of our country we have an interesting slant on the nation's progress. The full date adds to a five, which number is characteristic of us—restless, changeable, erratic, but clever. Five loves to travel and we certainly are a nation that gets around. Five is the number of sports and five people like to be physically active, too. And when it comes to the changes which this number brings, we have only to take a look at our history.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Certain plays defy classification, thus coming under the expert's general description of "sound technique." In the hand shown below the declarer [one of this country's leading masters] had not decided exactly how to play his slam contract until most of the cards had been played. But, due to the fact that he had, as a matter of habit, taken certain precautions, he was able to swing over to a line of attack that proved successful.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
3 diamonds	3 spades	3 diamonds	3 spades
4 spades	Pass	4 no trump	5 spades
6 clubs	Pass	6 diamonds	Pass
Pass	Pass

North's four no trump bid, following South's cue bid in spades, was not a conventional bid asking for key cards; it was an effort [and a logical one] to tell South that "duplication" existed, that is, that North had values in spades that would go for naught.

West, despite declarer's cue bid and North's four no trump, could find no better opening than the jack of spades. Dummy's ace won, declarer discarding a low club and, without any clear idea of what would eventuate, South ruffed a spade as a possible preparation for a strip-and-throw-in. He led the diamond jack and overtook with the queen, then ruffed dummy's last spade with a diamond honor. A low trump to the nine cleared up the opponents' trumps and then a heart was led to the queen. When it held, the ace and deuce of hearts followed. West could have made a very shrewd play by throwing his heart jack on the ace. When he didn't, declarer suddenly found himself with a grand opportunity. He allowed the heart jack to hold the trick, discarding a club from the dummy. The defenders were then in a horrible position. East could not overtake the heart jack without establishing declarer's heart ten. Had he done so and returned a club, declarer would have played the ace and discarded dummy's last club on the established heart ten.

West's winning the trick with the heart jack was equally satisfactory to the declarer. West either had to return a club directly up to declarer's tenace, or a spade that would permit a club discard from dummy while declarer was ruffing with his last trump.

Obviously, had West put his heart jack on declarer's ace, the contract would have been defeated, since East then would have been on lead if declarer passed the trick. But this required considerable imagination on West's part, and the declarer fully deserved success for his own ingenuity.

DI MAGGIO HITS IN 45TH STRAIGHT GAME; SETS RECORD

Keeler's 44 Year Old Mark Falls.

New York, July 2 [Special].—Joe DiMaggio's name tonight led all the others for batting consistency, from baseball's handlebar mustache era to its present streamlined period. He drove a home run into the Yankee stadium left field seats in the fifth inning today against the Red Sox to run his consecutive hitting streak to 45 games. The Yankees won the game, too, 8 to 4.

Thus, with one mighty swipe of Di Maggio's bat was Wee Willie Keeler's name stricken from the record books after 44 years. It was in 1897 that the little Baltimore outfielder, whose creed was to "hit 'em where they ain't," had a batting streak which endured thru 44 straight contests.

DiMaggio had to adopt Keeler's old slogan today. In DiMaggio's first two times up. Red Sox fielders intercepted his terrific drives. There are no outfielders beyond that low fence in left field, and so Joe's record shattering homer was a true "hit 'em where they ain't" wallop.

Crowd Goes Wild.

That was the extent of Joe's hitting for the afternoon, but it was a big moment he'll never forget. The crowd of 8,682 went wild when Joe's towering drive settled into the seats. He laughed in joy as his long legs carried him around the bases following Red Rolfe, who was on second after hitting a double. In a box seat near the Yankee dugout, Joe's pretty young wife applauded.

After the game the fans swarmed onto the field and surrounded the record breaker as he galloped in from center field to the dugout. A boy snatched Joe's cap and raced toward the right field exit. Mike Ryba, Red Sox pitcher, put a football block on the lad, but another youngster caught it and finally was cornered by two ushers. The cap then was returned to Joe.

It's Hard to Get.

There had been moaning and groaning in the early innings. Stan Spence, Red Sox outfielder, raced far to his right and leaped for DiMaggio's drive in the first inning. In the third inning Jim Tabor hopped back of the base for a hard grounder and threw out DiMaggio at first on a close play. The spectators booed when young Heber Newsome threw two wide ones in the fifth—then all was forgotten when Joe connected.

His home run today came in the middle of the Yankee's six run rally. Charley Keller had hit his 17th homer in the second inning and the Yanks had made another in the third on two singles and DiMaggio's infield out.

DiMaggio's homer, his 18th of the season and his 100th hit of 1941, caused the removal of Newsome. Jack Wilson and Nelson Potter finished. Vernon Gomez was knocked out during a three run splurge by the Red Sox in the sixth and Johnny Murphy finished.

UNITY FOR PEACE

In a speech to the nations of the western hemisphere on Oct. 12, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"The clear facts have been stated over and over again. This country wants no war with any nation. This hemisphere wants no war with any nation. The American republics are determined to work in unity for peace just as we work in unity to defend ourselves from attack.

"We arm to defend ourselves. The strongest reason for this is that it is the strongest guarantee for peace."

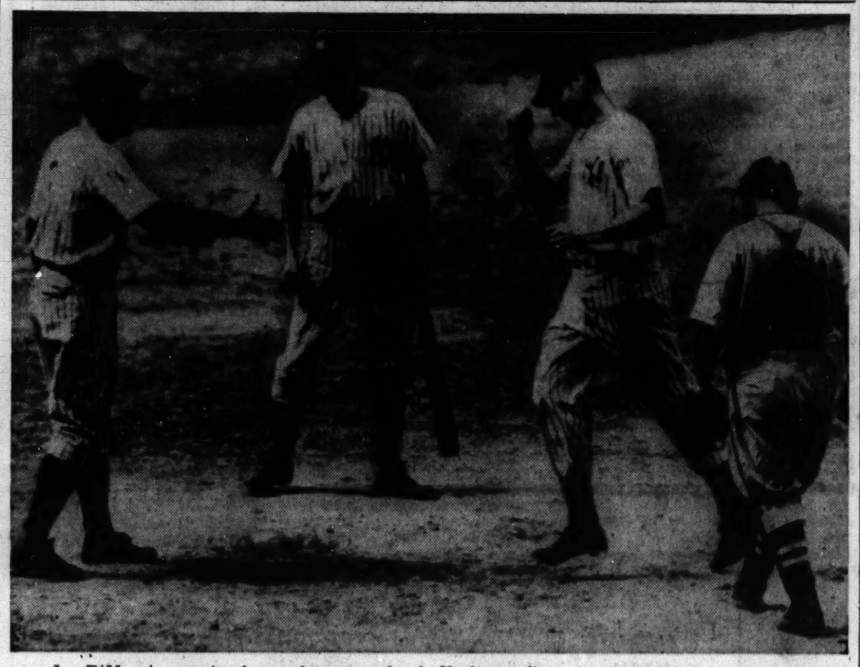
A Round Trip by DiMaggio to Baseball Fame



Joe DiMaggio crossing home plate yesterday in Yankee stadium after his 18th home run extended his consecutive game hitting streak to 45, an all-time major league record. Red Rolfe (left), Yankee third baseman, who was on base when Joe connected, steps up to congratulate his teammate and the bat boy, Tim Sullivan, is on the spot, too. The catcher is Joe Pytlak of the Red Sox, who were beaten, 8 to 4.

Cubs Face Cards and a New Batting Background Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs, who have one of the finest collection of bats in the major leagues—short bats, long bats, light bats, heavy bats, black bats, and yellow bats—will tote 'em all out in Wrigley field this afternoon in the long hope that some of the fellows on the squad suddenly will discover what the things were made for.

Of course, that's a sort of extravagant statement. For the Cubs easily can find out the purposes for which bats are intended by simply watching the league leading Cardinals, who have an idea all of this wood has been diverted for sports purposes instead of being made into practice guns for Uncle Sam's draftees. The Cardinals this afternoon will appear in the first of three games in Wrigley field, the series including a holiday double header tomorrow.

Claude Passeau, making another try for his eighth victory of the season, will do everything in his power to prevent the league leading Cardinals from putting on a batting demonstration, much as he would like to have the Cubs learn something about the slugging.

Today's affair will be the eighth meeting of the season between the first and sixth placers. In the first road trip of the season the Cubs went down to St. Louis and startled the Cards by whipping them in two slugging matches. Since then the Cards have won five straight.

The Cubs will go to bat this afternoon shorn of their pet alibi. Sections of the center field bleacher will be blocked off and the seats have been painted green. This concession was made, it is said, purely as psychological sop to the floundering athletes rather than thru an acknowledgment of an actual optical hazard.

In Cincinnati Monday night the Cubs made their approximate quota of an earned run a game—on a homer by Clyde McCullough. The background in Crosley field is ideal, there being no stands of any sort in center field there. However, some of the lads blamed the foldup there to the dazzling fireworks touched off just before the game. At any rate the Cubs will go to work today with a record of nine earned runs in their last 87 innings.

CUBS BEAT JANESVILLE.

Janesville, Wis., July 2 [Special].—The Chicago Cubs defeated their Wisconsin State league farm hands, Janesville's Cubs, before a crowd of 3,500 tonight. Chicago collected eight hits off six pitchers, led by Paul Erickson with two doubles and Lou Stringer with a triple and a single.

Dizzy Dean pitched the first three innings, walking one and striking out two. Erickson worked four innings, yielding two hits, passing two, and fanning nine. Cavarretta pitched the final two innings, yielding no hits, walking two, and whiffing four. Score:

Janesville .....010 001 000—2 3 4

DAVIS STOPPED IN 10TH ROUND BY FRITZIE ZIVIC

New York, July 2 (AP).—Fritzie Zivic, of Pittsburgh, welterweight champion, won over Al [Bummy] Davis of Brooklyn on a technical knockout in 1:12 of the 10th round of a scheduled 12 round bout at catchweight tonight before 8,968 in the Polo Grounds. Zivic was a 3 to 1 favorite to beat the foeman he had defeated once before. The gross gate was $36,185.

Floors Davis in First.

He floored Davis for a seven count just before the end of the first round and from there on never got his hair mussed until Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the proceedings at 1:12 of the tenth round when Davis gave up after receiving a particularly solid shot flush in the stomach.

Those who saw the fight were treated to an artist at work. Zivic had Davis bleeding from the nose as early as the third round, gashed him on the lower lip in the eighth, staggered him half a dozen times during the bout, and generally had just an easy workout.

Pete Lello Knocked Out.

At the finish, the score card showed Zivic won eight of the nine completed rounds and Davis took just one—the fifth—when he charged in and shook Fritzie with four hard left hooks to the head.

Pete Lello of Chicago was a fourth round knockout victim of Ray Robinson, New York Negro lightweight contender, in one of the preliminaries. Lello was floored once in the first and twice in the fourth before Referee Donovan stopped it at 1:48.

Young Kid McCoy of Detroit beat Cal Cagni, Creskill, N. J., welterweight, in another eight round preliminary, while Benny Majcher, army welterweight, beat Alfredo Barja of Tampa, Fla., in a six round preliminary just before the main bout.

Fight Decisions

At New York City—Fritzie Zivic stopped Al Davis [10]; Ray Robinson knocked out Pete Lello [4]; Kid McCoy beat Cal Cagni [8]; Benny Majcher beat Alfredo Barja [6].
At Pittsburgh, Pa.—Jimmy Bivins beat Curtis Sheppard [10]; Benford Glover beat Sammy Adragna [6]; Mimmie Adragna and Sammy Parrato drew [6].

Champion Marvin Ward Is Runner-up.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 2.—Harry Todd, a brawny, laconic Texan who prefers to say it with golf shots, today won the qualifying medal in the 42d Western Amateur tournament with a 36 hole score of 141, one over par for the Broadmoor club's course, and one stroke in front of the field of 32 lads who get down to their match play chores tomorrow.

Todd, winner of this title in 1939 and semi-finalist last year before running smack into a fellow from Spokane, Wash., named Marvin [Bud] Ward, turned up with a par 70 to add to his 71 of yesterday's first round. And well it was that such was his total, for a half hour later, the same Ward came off the 18th green with a 142, fruit of a pair of 71s.

Bud Seeks Second Straight.

As defending champion, Ward didn't have to qualify, but elected to try for the medal anyway, and missed bringing off that honor only by a three putt green at the 13th and a missed 14 incher on the 16th. Bud, national champion in 1939 and winner of the Western in his first appearance in it last year in Minneapolis, will attempt the remainder of the week a feat which hasn't been accomplished since 1923—that of a consecutive double. Others have won the Western twice since Chick Evans took his fourth straight in that year, but never in successive times at bat.

Ward will have a time of it before Sunday's 36 hole final is reached, via the medium of a single round tomorrow, a double one Friday, and Saturday's 36 hole semi-finals. If it were Todd alone that he had to face, it would still be a tough battle, for Harry is on top of his game right now, as evidenced not only by his immediate work, but also by his victory in leading all amateurs in the National Open last month.

Qualifying Limit Is 156.

As has been pointed out before, this 1941 Western field was small, but probably as fast as the event has had in years. The qualifying limit tonight proved to be 156, a very sharp maximum considering today's sprightly mountain winds and showers.

Following Todd and Ward in the day's scoring were Raymond [Elmer] Brownell, Stanford university's national intercollegiate runnerup, and chunky Dee Replogle, his team mate. Elmer, who never saw Broadmoor be-

THE annual All-Star baseball series, which will have its ninth renewal in Detroit Tuesday, has drawn an average paid attendance of 42,082 since it was initiated in 1933. . . . The four games played in American league parks have attracted 213,295 cash customers as compared with 133,359 by the National league. . . . The largest crowd the midsummer spectacle has drawn was 69,812 at Cleveland's Municipal stadium in 1935. . . . The next biggest was 62,892 at Yankee stadium in 1939. . . . More than 50,000 will see this year's game in Detroit. . . . Ben Sohn, huge Southern California football guard, has joined the marine officers' training corps. . . . That handsome straw hat Peter Page of Princeton, retiring president of the Intercollegiate Golf association, wore at Columbus is no more. . . . Despite the ribbing of his pals, Page wore it thru the tournament until the 28th hole of the qualifying round, where a missed shot caused him to destroy it so thoroly that One-Eyed Connolly wouldn't wear it. . . . Willie Keeler's consecutive hitting streak of 44 games stood up for 44 years . . . then came Joe DiMaggio. . . .

The last of the children married and gone,
She wanders from room to room,
Even her footsteps, where all was once sound,
Fall with a muffled boom.
"It's time to start dinner," she thinks to herself,
They're always on time somehow—
Then a quick little chill lays hold of her heart—

No one to wait for to come rushing in Crying: "Hi, Mom, I'm starved, where's the food?"
Or "Any one phone, Ma? O, Eddie? I see, You're sure that's the message? O, good!"
"Ma, if you can, will you press my blue print?
Ed always likes that one, somehow."
No, there's none of those happy, homely things

Remember that mothers can't easily get
It isn't the toil or the cares of the years
That bring lines to a mother's brow,
It's being allowed to meet up with the thought

Louis [Buck] Newsom, the pompous Tiger of 1940, but just another pitcher so far this season, used the White Sox last night as an explanation for his reported $35,000 salary. Under the Comiskey park lights and before 22,555 chilly customers the gentleman whose 21 victories of a year ago hoisted himself and Detroit mates into a world series, dazzled James Dykes' lads with a three hit job, the American league champions carrying off a 1 to 0 decision in the final of the series.

It was Bill Dietrich's bad luck to be present when Newsom decided his sixth 1941 success was long overdue. Losing the verdict despite a five hit accomplishment in eight innings comprised only a portion of Bill's experience. A phony hit of which even its producer, Rudy York, home run specialist, wasn't proud, caused the lone run. And Dietrich not only suffered a minor leg injury in a collision which sent Pat Mullin away with a dislocated right shoulder, but was bruised on his right thumb while trying to bunt in the eighth. He retired then and let Buck Ross finish.

Mullin Hurt in Collision.

It is possible that the Sox, even with their tendency toward a three hit beating for two games in a row, might have scored at least once if they hadn't been faulty both mechanically and mentally. Joe Kuhel, after getting to base with none out, wandered off second base and was nipped, duplicating an act pulled in the same spot the day previous by Myril Hoag. But the high point was reached in the eighth when Ben Chapman enjoyed a fluke double with none out, only to be thrown out at third on Mike Tresh's intended sacrifice.

The mishap to Mullin, who stumbled over Dietrich in a play at first base in the second inning, was the second casualty suffered by a Tiger outfielder in Chicago this year. When the Tigers were here in mid-May, Barney McCosky twisted a back muscle in a dash for second base and was out for weeks, being succeeded on that occasion by the same Mullin. Tuck Stainback, who took Mullin's place last night, came close to being another invalid. He was hit on the right knee by one of his own fouls in the eighth, but after a few minutes decided he could continue at his task.

ROSECRANCE TO OPPOSE KURZKA IN JUNIOR GOLF

Fassnacht Plays Ogrin in Other Semi-Final.

Bob Rosecrance of Rockford, Ill., the defending champion, led four survivors into the semi-final round of the Chicago Junior open championship at Nordic Hills yesterday. Both semi-finals and finals will be held today.

Rosecrance will oppose Bob Kurzka of Medinah in one of today's semi-final matches while the other brings together Fred Fassnacht of Edison Park and Al Ogrin of Waukegan, Ill., a caddie at Skokie Country club.

After defeating Dick McDonald of LaGrange, 3 and 2, in yesterday's morning round, Rosecrance was forced to wage an uphill battle to win his quarter-final match from Jack Larkin of Dowagiac, Mich., 2 up.

Larkin held a 1 up advantage at the turn, but relinquished the lead at the 14th where he four putted. The Rockford youth led 1 up at the 18th and clinched the match by scoring a birdie four while Larkin took a 6. Rosecrance had a medal score of 76 against Larkin's 79.

Kurzka was over par on but one hole on the first nine in his quarter-final match with Pete Mazzetta of Lake Shore, which he won, 6 and 5. He continued to reel off four straight pars on the home nine to end the match on the 13th.

NASH GARRISON ARRIVES TO FACE BOOKER BECKWITH

Mexican Boxer Feels Confident of Victory.

Confident of Victory.

He made the 2,300 mile trip because he is confident of beating Beckwith, 1938 intercity and international Golden Gloves middleweight champion, who is undefeated in the money ranks. Garrison, who stands more than 6 feet and weighs 197 pounds, earned the assignment by scoring a 10 round victory over Tony Musto in San Jose June 10. Altho he was offered only $1,000 for meeting Booker, $500 less than guaranteed him for a match with Harold Blackshear in San Francisco July 11, Nash rejected the assignment against Blackshear in favor of the one against Beckwith.

Held Levinsky to Draw.

Garrison started boxing as an amateur in the junior lightweight division in 1933, turning professional a year later. In 1936, making only his third appearance in a 10 round contest, Nash fought to a draw with King Levinsky.

BONETTI, EX-CUB, IS PUT ON GAME'S INELIGIBLE LIST

Durham, N. C., July 2 (AP).—William G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, announced today that Pitcher Julio Bonetti of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league had been placed on the ineligible list as a result of a two month investigation of the player's reported association with alleged gambling figures.

The national association's announcement said that Bonetti, a professional ball player since 1933, who has had trials with the St. Louis Browns and Chicago Cubs, denied he ever threw a ball game or that he was ever asked to do so.

"There is no charge that he did throw a game," Bramham's decision read, "but the conduct of the player in this matter, his repeated false statements when he was asked to tell the truth, his association with the gambling element, and his confession that he permitted himself to be used as a medium to place bets on horses between two gamblers is sufficient to require his disassociation from professional baseball and he is placed upon the ineligible list."

MISS INGRAM SETS PACE AT SUNSET RIDGE

Northeast took the lead in the Chicago women's interclub matches at Sunset Ridge yesterday by scoring 25½ points for a season's total of 49½. The south dropped to second place with 46 points and the northwest and west teams trailed with respective totals of 40 and 8½.

"ROADS OF TOMORROW"... HERE TODAY prove need for "X" safety factors in motor oil

CHICAGO is changing to SHELL X-100
-the new super lubricant for sustained high-speed driving

MANY LOCAL MOTORISTS were quick to recognize that driving habits have changed—that sustained high speed is a new, extreme condition resulting from today's powerful cars and super-highways.

They're changing over to Shell X-100, the new-type motor oil made for sustained high speed. Extra safety factors—the new "X" factors—enable this oil to resist "BREAKDOWN" and thus retard CORROSION, SLUDGE, VARNISH, RING STICKING. Shell X-100 Motor Oil was first proved in the laboratory, then proved on the road through 5,000,000 miles of test driving!

IMPORTANT NOTICE—With the 1,000,000-car curtailment of automobile production already announced, a new car is going to be harder to get. Take the best possible care of the car you have now or the one you buy. The regular use of SHELL X-100 means maximum protection!

DODGERS DEFEAT PHILLIES; GAIN ON IDLE CARDS

Walker Leads Attack in 9 to 3 Victory.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 2 (AP).—The Dodgers beat the Philadelphia Phils again today, 9 to 3, and moved within a half game of the idle league leading St. Louis Cardinals.

Led by Dixie Walker, who hit two triples and a single and batted in five runs, the Dodgers counted five runs in the first inning to take their 11th victory in 12 starts from the Phils.

Kirby Higbe started for the Dodgers, but was replaced in the fourth inning after yielding 9 hits. Newton Kimball stopped the cellar dwellers with one hit the rest of the way to get credit for the victory. Score:

The second inning brought Dietrich a kick on the leg and two more hits against him. Sullivan singled to right center with one out and after Croucher popped out, Newsom revealed his versatility by singling. Mullin then grounded to Kuhel and Dietrich reached first just in time to get the ball, as well as the decision. But Bill was in such an awkward position Mullin couldn't avoid colliding with him. This was where Mullin went out of action.

Newsom fanned two of the first four men to face him, but Wright singled after Appling had fanned to start the second. Wright was still on first when the inning ended. The next Chicagoan to enjoy exercise on the bases was Kuhel, who led off with a walk in the fourth. He took second on Lodigiani's bunt and was plucked off the base a moment later by Newsom's throw to Croucher. Then Appling singled over first base, but Wright fouled to Sullivan.

And So to the Sad End.

The first hit off Dietrich after the second inning appeared after York had been tossed out in the sixth. It was a triple over Chapman's head in center by Campbell. Then Higgins slapped a fairly long fly to Wright and Campbell broke for the plate but upon arriving learned he had been preceded by a bull's-eye throw by Wright into Tresh's hands.

The crowd warmed up a bit in the seventh when Lodigiani led off with a pass. But Appling fanned, Wright flied to Radcliff and Solters grounded to Croucher.

The long awaited break finally arrived in the eighth. Radcliff and Croucher did an "excuse me, please" act on Chapman's fly over short left and the ball wasn't caught, Chapman sprinting to second. Tresh bunted but it wasn't a foot in front of the plate, making it simple for Sullivan to throw out Chapman at third. This was where Dietrich was hit on the hand trying to bunt. Kreevich finished the batting turn and fanned, Kolloway popped to Croucher for the third out. The Sox dropped in order in the ninth.

ILLINI CLUB WILL AIR COACHING FLAREUPS TODAY

The Illini club of Chicago will discuss the athletic coaching situation at the state university in an open meeting and luncheon in Mandel's grill at 12:15 p. m. today. An attendance of 1,000 is anticipated.

The meeting is a result of the recent public airing of the feud between Bob Zuppke, Illinois football coach for 28 years, and Wendell [Weenie] Wilson, athletic director since 1936. At a meeting of the athletic board of the university on June 12, Wilson is reported to have offered to resign if Zuppke did likewise.

Zuppke from his summer home near Muskegon, Mich., has said repeatedly he will go down fighting before he will resign. The Illinois coach was 62 years old yesterday.

TO A TEE TAKES $2,500 SPRINT; UP THE CREEK 2D

Kings Blue Finishes 3d in Arlington Handicap.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

To a Tee, John Marsch's 3 year old sprinter, who hasn't been out of the money this season, took the $2,500 Northwestern handicap in stride yesterday at Arlington Park. After letting Smacked, Potranco, and Kings Blue race themselves into weariness during the earlier stages of this seven furlong dash, To a Tee took command in the stretch and came right on home to finish more than a length in advance of Milky Way farm's Up the Creek. Kings Blue, winner of two stakes earlier in the Chicago season, took third place.

A field of seven went to the post in this midweek feature. The fans gave the strongest support to Up the Creek, who had shown considerable improvement in running second to Technician and Kings Blue in his last two starts. They established him as the 2 to 1 favorite. Calumet Farm's Bay Carse drew 7 to 2 backing by virtue of the speed he had shown during his campaign at Belmont. Kings Blue, who had led the way home in the Myrtlewood handicap at Arlington and the Steger at Lincoln Fields, was held at 7 to 2, while To a Tee and Potranco both closed at 6 to 1.

Smacked Takes Lead.

As had been expected, Smacked went right out with a rush to take the early lead. Potranco and Kings Blue followed in close pursuit, while Jockey Darrell Madden kept To a Tee fairly well up in fourth position. Meanwhile Up the Creek was running with the trailers.

On the turn Bobby Vedder shook up the favorite and he began improving his position. As they headed into the stretch Smacked, Kings Blue, and Potranco still were up in front. To a Tee was ready to launch his bid from fourth place and Up the Creek was now close behind him.

Once straightened out, To a Tee moved up resolutely and took command as the weary Smacked began to give way. Potranco also tired badly. To a Tee had drawn clear by the time they were at the eighth pole and he had plenty left to withstand Up the Creek's resolute finish. To a Tee completed the seven furlongs in 1:24. His mutuel pay-off was $14, $6.80, and $3.80.

Joan T. Wins Comando.

Racing at odds of better than 4 to 1 in this 5½ furlong allowance event, she came up powerfully in the stretch, brushed past Scrappy W., and drew clear rapidly to win by 2½ lengths.

Willie Borton, Scrappy W.'s jockey, lodged a claim of foul, asserting that Joan T. had bumped his mount out of contention during the stretch drive. Ken McCombs, rider of Flying Torpedo, joined in the protest, while Willie Garner, who had the mount on the winner, pleaded his case that no foul had occurred.

The stewards refused to allow the claim but fined Garner $100 for his share of the trouble. McCombs' claim acted as a boomerang for he, too, was assessed $100. As the officials saw it, Flying Torpedo had edged out as much as Joan T. had come in. Scrappy W., in the middle, had got the worst of it.

Pays Off at $10.40.

While these deliberations were going on, the crowd waited eagerly to see whether the numbers were coming down. Instead the official sign went up and Joan T., second choice in the betting, paid off at $10.40, $6.20, and $4.00.

WHIRLAWAY TO RUN IN EXHIBITION AT ARLINGTON

Whirlaway, champion of the nation's 3 year olds, will give an exhibition gallop between races on tomorrow's Arlington Park program. Whirlaway's owner, Warren Wright, and his trainer, Ben Jones, felt that many racing fans who are able to get to the track only on a holiday such as July 4th, would like to get a look at this horse, which has become a national character since winning the Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont and Dwyer. Accordingly he will be brought out for one of his regular training moves in preparation for the Arlington Classic, which is his next major objective.

3 DAY MARRIAGE NOTICE A THING OF PAST IN STATE

Health Certificates Still Required, However.

Young couples who wish to be married will no longer have to file a three day notice of their intentions to wed, altho they must still produce the required health certificates to obtain their licenses. This was pointed out yesterday by Attorney General George F. Barrett in an official explanation of the new marriage law which went into effect Tuesday.

Barrett outlined the principal points of the new law at the request of Edwin C. Mills, state's attorney of Logan county, and Roland R. Cross, director of the state department of health.

Procedure Made Easier.

The new ruling varies from the old in that only one appearance before the county clerk is necessary to obtain a license, Barrett said. Both applicants, not just one as formerly, however, must appear before the clerk with their health certificates before the license can be issued.

It is required also that the certificates be signed by both the bride and bridegroom in the presence of the doctor for the purpose of comparison with the signatures on the license application.

The license may be obtained not less than one day or more than 15 days after the date of the physician's examination as shown by the health certificate, Barrett said. Certificates, or permits, issued by the director of public health or his representative are now sufficient without requiring laboratory tests. The permits are issued only in cases of premarital pregnancy.

Conflict in Old Law.

"In the old law the three day notice clause conflicted with the health requirement and served no particular purpose," Sidney Summerfield, chief clerk in the Cook county marriage license bureau, said.

"There is little chance now, too, that a couple will avoid the medical examination, as all our surrounding states require it. The nearest state in which a couple could get a license without one is Tennessee."

3 TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF MISS MARY M'CORMICK

Probate Judge John F. O'Connell yesterday appointed the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, Judson Stone, and Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine to be the administrators of the estate of Miss Mary Virginia McCormick, who died May 24 at Huntington Palisades, Cal. She was 80 years old, and the daughter of Cyrus Hall McCormick Sr., reaper manufacturer. Her estate is estimated at $14,100,000.

One petition filed with Judge O'Connell by Mrs. Blaine and Harold McCormick, sister and brother of Miss McCormick, asked the appointment of Stone as administrator. Another, filed by the Continental bank and Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick, asked that the bank be named.

Mrs. Katherine McCormick is the wife of Stanley McCormick, also a brother of Miss McCormick. Judge O'Connell designated representatives of both groups.

DEATH TAKES 5TH OF SEXTUPLETS BORN IN CHICAGO

Flagstaff, Ariz., July 2 [Special].—The death here of Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Hughes leaves her sister, Mrs. Alincia Bushnell Parker of Silver Lake, N. Y., the only surviving member of the Bushnell sextuplets reported born in Chicago in 1866.

For a reason undetermined, the multiple births were said to have been kept secret, even from the children, until their mother revealed it to them on her deathbed. They were reported registered, however, by the attending physician, Dr. James Edwards. Parents of the babies were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bushnell of Chicago.

Two of the Bushnell children died in infancy, Lucy at the age of 2 months and Laberto at 8 months. Norberto died in Buffalo in 1934 and Alberto succumbed about a year ago in Albion, N. Y.

POLICE BREAK UP SITDOWN OF 17 SEAMEN ON SHIP

Police broke up a sitdown strike of 17 seamen aboard the freighter Arthur Orr last night, and compelled them to leave the ship. They had tied it up for nearly 48 hours at its dock in the Calumet river, near 106th street, in an effort to win a wage increase.

The seamen, members of the National Maritime union [CIO], quit work at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday, after approximately 165,000 bushels of grain had been taken aboard the ship. The grain is to be shipped to Midland, Ont. Richard Burke, Chicago agent for the union, said the men are the lowest paid in their classifications on the Great lakes.

Yesterday officials of the Canada Atlantic Transit company, operators of the Arthur Orr, called upon police to evict the sitdowners. Sergt. George Barnes of the labor detail and Capt. Mark Boyle of the East Side station, took a detail of 18 men to the dock. They ordered the men to leave the ship, and the order was obeyed without trouble.

50 CENT DIVIDEND IS AUTHORIZED BY PHELPS DODGE

Phelps Dodge corporation, copper miner and smelter, yesterday declared a dividend of 50 cents, double those paid in March an dJune. Woodall Industries, Inc., manufacturer of products for automobile interiors, voted a 20 cent dividend, compared with 10 cents in January and April.

The Raymond Concrete Pile company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents in addition to a regular payment of the same amount.

The St. Louis Screw and Bolt company authorized the first dividend of the year on its 7 per cent preferred stock, voting a $7 payment against arrears. The preceding payment was last December.

Massachusetts Power & Light Associates declared a dividend of 40 cents on the $2 preferred stock, 10 cents less than the amount paid quarterly since the company was organized in 1931. The reduction was attributed to higher federal taxes and operating costs.

KNUDSEN URGES SEAWAY PLAN TO AID SHIPBUILDING

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—William S. Knudsen, director of the Office of Production Management, said today the St. Lawrence seaway was urgently needed to eliminate a "bottleneck" in Great Lakes transportation and to provide shipbuilding facilities and power essential to national armament.

"Warfare today," he told a house committee, "is largely a matter of production and mechanical equipment. The power with the mechanical equipment and production facilities has the advantage. We don't know how long this emergency will last. We cannot afford to gamble with time."

Knudsen said there was a vast reservoir of mechanical skill in the Great Lakes area available for shipbuilding if a deep water channel were provided to the sea.

He scoffed at claims there were sufficient power facilities available, exclaiming, "I don't think we will ever have enough power in the United States. The country is growing fast and the demand is growing all the time."

Offer Ypsilanti Firm's Stock to Public Today

New York, July 2 [Special].—Van Grant & Co. of Detroit will offer to the public tomorrow 75,000 shares of common stock of the Central Specialty company, Ypsilanti, Mich. The stock, which is of $2 par value, will be priced at $5.25 a share. Net proceeds will approximate $300,778, according to the registration statement, of which $115,000 will be used for additional plant and equipment, and the balance for working capital.

ELECTRIC POWER OUTPUT HITS NEW ALL TIME PEAK

Output of electrical energy by the nation's light and power industries during the week ended June 28 advanced to an all-time high, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday. Production was 3,120,780,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 3,055,841,000 in the preceding week and 2,659,825,000 for the corresponding 1940 period.

The upturn, which exceeded seasonal expectations, was 2.1 per cent over the week before. Percentage production gains by major geographic divisions compared with a year ago were led by New England at 24.5 per cent. The central industrial region showed a 24 per cent increase.

The week's output of the Commonwealth Edison group, serving Chicago, was 149,224,000 kilowatt hours, an increase of 18 per cent over last year's 126,501,000. The total for the preceding week was 143,552,000.

EGGS TUMBLE, THEN RALLY TO FINISH HIGHER

Heavily supplied cash markets brought sharp price declines in butter and egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Final quotations were little changed, however, as a result of late rallies. October eggs fell to 28.30 cents a dozen before closing with a net gain of 0.05 cent at 28.90 cents. A report that the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation had ordered considerable quantities of its local holdings of shell eggs to Britain was a factor in the late price rally. Prices in the local cash market declined ⅓ cent to ¾ cent a dozen.

GRAIN FUTURES HOLD IN NARROW RANGE OF PRICES

Wheat Fractions Higher; Soybeans Mixed.

Grain prices on the Chicago Board of Trade held within the narrowest range yesterday of the last two weeks. Buying of wheat attributed to mills more than offset hedging sales by houses representing southwestern interests and closing sales were ¼ to ⅝ cent higher with July at $1.04¼ a bushel. Price changes in corn, oats, and rye were confined to small fractions of a cent a bushel.

Soy beans fluctuated nervously with the July future showing independent strength and closing 1½ cent higher at $1.44 while the deferred months were unchanged to ⅛ cent lower.

Crop Estimate Lowered.

Estimates by Chicago statisticians showing an aggregate wheat crop of 899,000,000 bushels, or 12,000,000 bushels less than the June 1 official forecast, attracted little attention from traders. The difference of a few million bushels means little when the aggregate available supply for the 1941-'42 season is around 1,390,000,000 bushels, or nearly equal to two years domestic needs, traders said.

Spreading operations furnished a considerable part of the trade in corn futures with the July delivery losing a small fraction of a cent a bushel in relation to September. Private estimates suggested a crop of 2,499,000,000 bushels, or 189,000,000 bushels in excess of the 1929-'38 average.

GOLDBLATT TO OPEN NEW CASH AND CARRY STORE IN SOUTH BEND

Nathan Goldblatt, secretary and treasurer of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., yesterday announced that the first Indiana unit of Goldblatt Brothers Gold Bond Stores, operated on a cash and carry basis, would be opened early in September in South Bend. The Chicago organization already operates regulation department stores in Hammond and Gary.

The new store, with 55,000 square feet in the Granada building, will be modernized at a cost of $50,000, Goldblatt said. It will occupy two floors and basement. The store's major inventory will consist of women's and children's wear, men's furnishings and work clothes, linens, curtains, and similar merchandise. Some furniture will be carried.

This will be the third of the Gold Bond community cash and carry stores to be operated by the organization. The others are in Milwaukee and near Belmont and Central avenues, Chicago. The latter unit is under construction.

AMERICAN VISCOSE.

I would appreciate having a summary of the deal under which stock of American Viscose was distributed in this country. What is the present setup of the company? What has been its earnings and dividend record?
—K. F.

Answer: Controled since its organization in 1922 by Courtaulds, Ltd., an English concern, American Viscose corporation passed into the hands of an American banking syndicate, which last March acquired most of its stock in a deal with the British treasury. The transaction was part of the British effort to convert direct holdings in this country into cash for arms financing.

As a result of a recapitalization last May and the distribution of the stock by the syndicate to American investors, the present capitalization consists of 250,693 shares of 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock of $100 par value, and 1,720,443 shares of $14 par common stock. Courtaulds, which held a 96 per cent interest, now retains about 5 per cent of each new issue.

The leading domestic producer of viscose rayon, American Viscose operates seven plants: Three in Pennsylvania, two in Virginia, and two in West Virginia, with a combined annual capacity of more than 225 million pounds. Products sold under the principal trademark — Crown — includes viscose and acetate types of rayon staple fiber and yarn.

1936	$58,326,718	$ 8,943,977
1937	53,269,371	9,974,220
1938	42,074,969	*1,872,978
1939	54,261,387	4,057,104

*Loss.

Net sales in the first 1941 quarter were $17,028,803 and net income was $1,913,772. Comparison with the corresponding period of 1940 was not reported. Total assets of the company last March 31 amounted to $121,537,953, including current assets of $53,727,487. Current liabilities were $7,996,051.

Initial dividends of $1.25 a share on the preferred stock and 50 cents a share on the common stock will be paid August 1, to holders of record July 15.

ARMY ORDNANCE PLANT EXPANDED BY 59 MILLIONS

Chicago Companies Share in Federal Orders.

The war department yesterday announced the award of a $59,199,599 supplemental contract for the construction of additional small arms ammunition production facilities at the St. Louis, Mo., ordnance plant.

The plant is being built by St. Louis companies and will be operated by the United States Cartridge company, Baltimore, Md. The new contract raised the estimated cost of the project to $89,526,149.

Orders for $34,908,225 of equipment for small arms ammunition plants at St. Paul, Minn.; Des Moines, Ia., and Salt Lake City, Utah, also were announced.

Issues Letters of Intent.

The orders were in the form of letters of intent, enabling the manufacturers to begin production before formal contracts have been negotiated and before construction of the plants has been started.

Each of the plants is expected to cost about $30,000,000. G. S. Blakeslee & Co., Cicero, with a $119,889 order, and the Lindberg Engineering company, Chicago, with a contract for $73,597, were among the contractors.

Two Chicago area companies shared in contracts totaling $9,497,530 for guns, gun carriages, and other equipment. Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company received a $900,000 order for gun carriages, and the Morton Manufacturing company an $836,160 contract for ammunition chests.

Railroad Places Order.

The Delaware and Hudson railroad ordered 15 fast freight locomotives from the American Locomotive company, Schenectady, N. Y., at an estimated cost of $3,250,000. Delivery is expected late next year.

The American Can company announced it would build additional plant facilities at a cost of several million dollars in the St. Paul-Minneapolis area.

CHASE NATIONAL DEPOSITS SLIP FOR 2D QUARTER

New York, July 2 (AP).—The nation's largest bank, the Chase National, reported today that on June 30 its deposits totaled $3,615,428,000 compared with $3,190,823,000 a year earlier, and $3,617,530,000 on March 31.

The bank's statement listed resources at $3,889,161,000, slightly below the $3,890,245,000 reported on March 31 but well above the $3,472,779,000 a year ago.

Resources of the Guaranty Trust company, the country's second largest bank, totaled $2,743,002,507, compared with $2,600,724,024 as of June 30, 1940. Deposits were $2,447,972,295 against $2,302,794,072, and holdings of government obligations amounted to $1,208,283,442, compared with $959,055,409.

Deposits in the Bankers Trust company declined to $1,332,169,784 on June 30 from $1,381,837,000 on last March 31. The bank increased its holdings of United States government securities to a total of $647,489,970 on June 30 from $581,844,000 on March 31.

The National City bank reported total resources of $3,145,875,843, compared with $3,168,918,271 three months ago and $2,774,780,590 a year ago. Deposits were $2,934,824,738, compared with $2,967,590,195 and $2,591,963,229.

Indian Artifacts Found.

July 2, 1941.

TWO more Indian arrowheads have been found on the Wheaton farm, providing added evidence that an Indian camp ground or possibly a small village once was situated near the center of the farm property.

Arrowheads found on Wheaton farm.

A 17 year old boy who lives on the farm found the arrowheads in a field just south of a little creek that winds thru a wood lot and an open field. In 1939 several Indian artifacts were picked up near the same spot. Anthropologists who examined them said it was likely that the Potawatomis, who lived in this area between the years 1400 and 1700, either had a permanent settlement or a hunting camp on the farm.

Stone Knife Found in 1939.

The artifacts found in 1939 included a scraper used by the Indians for scraping fat from animal skins preparatory to tanning and a stone knife used for cutting thongs or skins. Arrowheads also were found at that time.

All the Indian relics were found on fairly high ground, with oak timber all around and not far from water, an ideal camp or village site.

The silver pheasant which lives on the Wheaton farm finally is developing the long tail feathers for which this species is famous. Any one who has seen one of these graceful birds in a zoo or game bird farm knows its tail feathers [often 18 to 24 inches long] are one of its most attractive features.

The farm's silver pheasant has gone thru a sort of cycle so far as its plumage is concerned. When it left the woods and wandered into the poultry yard of one of the farm homes its tail feathers were about 18 inches long. At that time it was quite a handsome bird. Then it got into a series of fights with the Wyandotte roosters in the barn yard, and its plumage suffered considerably.

Fighting Season Is Over.

After about 10 rooster fights the pheasant's tail got so many scrapings in the barn yard dust that it was shortened from 18 inches to almost nothing. Now the fighting season is over, and the pheasant's beautiful plumage is growing again.

In the barn yard a bantam hen and her seven chicks are on the blacklist for poor behavior. One of the farm women said this mischievous family got under the barn yard fence and invaded her flower beds. The hen and chicks nibbled on the leaves and buds of winter chrysanthemums, zinnias, and marigolds. Needless to say, the bantams aren't popular now, despite the fact that they often give the farm residents a lot of laughs by their comical behavior.

AUTO INDUSTRY MAY TREBLE ITS SHARE OF ARMS

New Civilian Curbs Termed Certain.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The government told the automobile industry today that it could expect a possible trebling of its present 2 billion dollar participation in the armament program, and that it could expect still deeper cuts in passenger car and civilian truck production.

Director General William S. Knudsen of the Office of Production Management told a group of 60 prominent figures in the motor industry that they could "forget" the 20 per cent reduction in output to which they agreed in May—because shortage of materials would make an even larger reduction necessary.

The industry representatives, called by OPM for a review of the supply of materials, began voting after a three hour session with government representatives on a panel of 11 nominees to make up an automotive defense industry committee.

Allocate Materials.

The committee's function will be to assist the OPM in allocating among companies and divisions of the industry such supplies of steel, aluminum, chromium, copper, and other essential materials as are found later to be available.

The meeting was a closed session, but an OPM spokesman told reporters later that Knudsen informed the manufacturers that it was impossible to predict even a few months ahead what the supplies of metal and other materials would be.

Only two things were definite, Knudsen said:

That they could expect to do more and more military work—possibly increasing their army and navy orders to 6 billion dollars.

That they would not produce as many civilian vehicles as was contemplated under the 20 per cent reduction plan, which was estimated to be slightly more than 4,000,000 units in the 1942 model year.

Numerous government agencies were represented at the conference, including the army, navy, army-navy joint munitions board, the priorities, purchases, production, and labor divisions of OPM, and the Interstate Commerce commission.

CRITICIZE FEDERAL POLICIES

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., July 2.—The automotive defense industry committee can do much to help the industry if it will persuade the Washington administration to change government policies on new car production, priorities, and restrictions on materials, automobile company officials said here today. While pledging their fullest coöperation to carry out the industry's large share of the arms program, many executives are critical of the way Washington is treating the industry.

Explaining that they cannot be quoted directly because of their close relationship with the national administration and the possibility of reprisals for criticism, several executives said privately that certain government orders can only impair the preparedness effort instead of aiding it.

Layoffs Forecast Aug. 1.

"Many armament plants which are to be operated by automobile companies are still in blue print or construction stages," one executive said. "If we must start cutting civilian automobile production Aug. 1, we will be forced to lay off workers in a number proportionate to the reduction in output. Laying off automobile assembly line workers Aug. 1 would not advance in the slightest the construction of bombers, airplane engines, guns, shells, or other armaments. But keeping men at work would strengthen the national economy.

"We recognize that ultimately there must be restrictions on the use of automobile man power and materials, but advocate that such restrictions be held in abeyance until armament plants are ready for the employés to man them.

Advocates Gradual Course.

"The best course would be to let automobile production continue and as armament plants are completed transfer automobile workers to them. The desired reduction in car production could best be achieved later in the year."

Regarding imposition of priorities and restriction on the use of certain materials, another executive said that manufacturers' problems could be simplified if Washington officials decided on what materials are available and then set the amounts that the industry could have.

Believe Russia Has Enough Gold to Pay for Any U. S. Aid

Washington, D. C., July 2 [Special]. — Russia should have little trouble in raising dollars needed to pay for whatever material aid is provided by the United States. This was the opinion of government experts consulted today regarding the statement of Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles that the soviet government would pay.

Welles' statement yesterday that Russia would pay was merely to indicate that the question of lease-lend aid had not arisen in the Russian negotiations.

Production Kept Secret.

Russia is the only large gold producing nation which publishes no annual figures on its gold production. Even the United States treasury has only estimates of its output. It is probable, according to the best unofficial information available, that Russian gold production is at the rate of around $210,000,000 a year.

Since it is the policy of the treasury to buy gold from any foreign government it would be no act of favoritism, it was said, if it increased its purchases from Russia.

Against gold production of about $210,000,000 in 1940, the department of commerce reports gold imports from Russia in 1940 amounted to only $30,850,598. None were reported for 1939 or 1938. But it is considered probable that in former years a considerable amount was transshipped thru London or Tokio for sale in this country.

May Have Huge Reserve.

The disparity between sales and production strongly suggested to experts, however, that soviet Russia may have a considerable accumulation of the metal which it could unload at $35 per ounce if it needed the dollars and could obtain transport.

Gold is regarded an important source of dollars to Russia in view of its merchandise trade balance with the United States. This country has consistently sold more to Russia than it has purchased, as the following commerce department figures indicate:

	Exports to Russia.	Imports from Russia.
1938	$69,691,498	$24,034,126
1939	56,638,051	25,022,681
1940	86,943,124	20,772,554

From January to March of this year, according to federal reserve statistics, 11 million 236 thousand dollars of Russian gold was sold to the United States. How much additional dollar balance Russia now has in the United States was not ascertainable. There seemed to be no doubt in official circles, however, that the soviet can easily provide dollar payment for what can be shipped.

Martin Plane Orders Mount to 646 Million

Baltimore, Md., July 2 (AP).—The Glenn L. Martin company disclosed today that its backlog of unfilled orders for combat aircraft for the United States and Great Britain totals approximately $646,000,000.

Glenn L. Martin.

This figure was reached with the award of an army contract for $166,000,000 for bombers to be constructed at a new plant in Omaha, Neb., to be operated by a new subsidiary known as the Glenn L. Martin-Nebraska company. Officers and directors of the parent firm and the subsidiary are the same.

Will Assemble Medium Bombers.

Fast Martin B-26 medium bombers will be manufactured and assembled at the Omaha plant. Construction work on the new plant is far advanced and it is expected to begin operations in November, the company said.

Under the so-called "Knudsen plan", the Glenn L. Martin-Nebraska company has selected the Chrysler corporation, the Hudson Motor Car company and the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company as sub-contractors. They will manufacture subassemblies which will be assembled into planes at the Omaha factory.

Sub Contracts 60 Per Cent.

"Under our contractural arrangements, our sub-contractors will do some 60 per cent of the work of manufacturing the bombers and we will do the other 40 per cent," Glenn L. Martin, president, said.

"It will be necessary to send a considerable number of experienced men to the Martin-Nebraska company from the parent organization, but we will depend chiefly on the Omaha and Lincoln communities to supply the manpower we shall need."

The Omaha plant, located on the Fort Crook military reservation, is a duplicate of the No. 2 Martin plant here which is expected to start manufacturing schedules July 15.

Ford Order Raised.

Detroit, Mich., July 2 (AP).—The Ford Motor company disclosed today that its original order for Pratt & Whitney 2,000 horse power aviation engines has been increased from 4,200 to a total of approximately 10,000.

Anticipating the increase in production, the Ford company never completed one end of the big $21,000,000 engine plant under construction at its River Rouge factory and several weeks ago began building an extension to the structure. The addition is expected to cost about $13,000,000.

Pullman Car Building Unit Reduces Use of Aluminum

The Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company announced yesterday that thru a complete replanning of its 1941 passenger car orders it has saved 3,350,000 pounds of aluminum and approximately 180,000 pounds of nickel for armament production. The company said it was using steel to replace aluminum where strength is a major requirement and nonmetallic materials such as plastics for interiors. Another type of steel has been substituted for chrome nickel steel.

3 FEDERAL OFFICIALS URGE COMMUNITY AND HOME FOOD STORAGE

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The government initiated today a nationwide program for the canning, drying, and storage of fruits and vegetables to prevent any food from going to waste this summer.

The plan for the saving of food, thru efforts of state and local defense councils, was announced jointly by Harriet Elliott, associate administrator of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, Paul V. McNutt, health and welfare coördinator, and Claude R. Wickard, secretary of agriculture.

Community leaders were urged to arrange for collecting, storing, drying, or otherwise preserving those fruits and vegetables which are not used in fresh form.

Vastly increased food purchases by the army, shipments under the lend-lease program, and increased consumer buying power will create a greater demand for canned foods than existed last year, it was stated.

RAIL CONFERENCE BREAKS UP OVER EXTRA MEN ISSUE

The Western Carriers' Conference committee representing western railways announced yesterday that negotiations with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, separate groups seeking wage increases and the employment of additional men on Diesel engines, had "broken up" over the latter demand. Both brotherhoods are seeking a higher basis for calculation of wages in addition to a 30 per cent wage increase.

Conferences between representatives of the carriers' group and the two brotherhoods had been held in Chicago since June 2 as the first step under provisions of the railway labor act.

"We see neither reason nor justice in the demands for the employment of additional and unneeded men on Diesel locomotives," said F. G. Gurley, chairman of the carriers' committee. "The demands would require, on a Diesel such as that used on the transcontinental 'City of San Francisco,' the employment of seven enginemen—one engineer, three assistant engineers, and three firemen. This train is now being operated safely and efficiently with two enginemen."

STOCK OF N. Y. ELECTRIC & GAS CORP. OFFERED

New York, July 2 [Special].—A syndicate headed by the First Boston corporation and Glore, Forgan & Co. offered today 120,000 shares of New York State Electric and Gas corporation $100 par 5.1 per cent preferred stock at 103½ a share and accrued dividends from June 1. It was learned late today that 60 per cent of the issue reserved for wholesale distribution had been sold.

Proceeds will be used to retire $6,000,000 of 5½ per cent preferred. The corporation's present financing also includes sale of $35,393,000 of 3¼ per cent first mortgage bonds due in 1971 to the Equitable Life Assurance society.

Kidder, Peabody & Co., Lazard Freres & Co., and F. S. Mosely & Co. headed an underwriting syndicate of 41 investment firms offering $13,700,000 of debentures and 56,000 shares of 5¼ per cent cumulative preferred stock of McKesson & Robbins, Inc.

TAX COMMITTEE FINISHES DRAFT OF RECORD LEVY

Estimates Exceed 3½ Billion Goal.

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The nation's biggest tax bill, designed to raise $3,504,400,000 and to dip into the pockets of uncounted thousands of new taxpayers, was tentatively approved today by the house ways and means committee.

Concluding more than nine weeks of effort, the committee put the final touches on the unprecedented measure's rate structure by voting to collect an additional $18,000,000 from corporations thru a higher capital stock tax.

Representative Jere Cooper [D., Tenn.], chairman of the tax subcommittee, said it had been agreed tentatively to raise the capital stock levy from $1.10 per $1,000 to $1.25.

Vote Cutlery Excise Tax.

At the same time the group approved a 10 per cent manufacturers' excise tax on cutlery, designed to yield $6,000,000, and decided to increase from 16½ to 27½ per cent the so-called withholding tax on United States earnings of nonresident aliens and nonresident foreign corporations. It was estimated to produce about $20,000,000.

In its present form the bill would raise $1,352,000,000 of the $3,504,400,000 total from corporations thru stiffer excess profits taxes, surtaxes, and miscellaneous levies; $1,154,500,000 from individuals thru a graduated system of surtaxes starting at the first dollar of taxable income; $113,700,000 from higher estate and gift taxes, and $884,200,000 from excise and miscellaneous taxes.

Altho the estimated yield already is 4 million 400 thousand dollars above the original goal of 3 billion 500 million dollars, some members expressed belief privately that the excess would be even larger because they said the treasury's estimates traditionally are most conservative.

Revise Coin Machine Levy.

The committee voted to revise the so-called slot machine tax it tentatively agreed upon yesterday. It eliminated a proposed $5 annual use tax on coin operated machines vending merchandise such as cigarets and gum. A proposed $25 annual impost on coin operated machines paying off in cash or redeemable tokens was revised to apply only to games of chance or pleasure.

"The object is not to tax bona fide vending machines," Cooper said, "because we have been informed that some of them do not take in as much during the course of a year as the proposed tax would amount to."

Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] expressed belief that the final drafting of the bill would take so much time that the measure could not be brought to the house floor for debate before the week of July 14.

CIO Miners' Union Buys $50,000 of Defense Bonds

Washington, D. C., July 2 [Special]. —The treasury received a $50,000 check today from the CIO United Mine Workers of America for investment in defense bonds. The check was signed by Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer of the union, and John L. Lewis, president.

GOVERNMENT GOES IN RED TO THE TUNE OF $5,167,678,471 IN YEAR

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—The government went $5,167,678,471 into the red during the fiscal year ended June 30, when military expenditures reached the unprecedented peace time figure of $6,047,929,292.

The treasury today listed expenditures at $12,774,890,323, a figure unrivaled except for World war years, and revenues of $7,607,211,852, the highest in American history. The revenue figures do not include social security taxes.

The federal debt at the year's end was $48,961,000,000. Armament costs in the current fiscal year are expected to aggregate $15,500,000,000 and reach $1,000,000,000 a month by October and more than $1,500,000,000 next May.

	'39-'40.	'40-'41.	'41-'42. [Estimated.]
Arms costs	$ 1,558	$ 6,047	$15,500
Total spending	9,665	12,774	22,269
Revenues	5,924	7,607	12,500
Deficit	3,740	5,167	9,769
Debt at year end	42,967	48,961	58,000

Factory Employment and Pay Rolls

F.D.R. Ends Army Rule

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., July 2—President Roosevelt today turned back to private management the North American Aviation corporation's plant at Inglewood, Cal., which was taken over by the army on June 9 after a strike, allegedly inspire dby communists, got out of hand.

[In Los Angeles army officers announced later that all troops had been released from duty at the plant, their "possession and occupation" ended.]

The President's action, taken thru an executive order relinquishing military control, was interpreted by many observers as a move to help force adoption of the draft property bill now pending in congress. The measure, sponsored by the war department, is believed to have a better chance of passage if the President can provide some evidence that property taken over by the government for armament production will not be held indefinitely.

Warns Against New Stoppage.

In returning the plant to its owners, Mr. Roosevelt warned, however, that the government will step in again if it becomes necessary to keep aircraft production going unretarded.

"The differences which existed at the plant have now been adjusted by the orderly democratic process of mediation," the President said in a statement accompanying the order.

"Both the workers and employers coöperated to attain this result. Should efforts be made again to interfere with this essential production, I will not hesitate to take whatever steps may hereafter be necessary to assure its continuance."

Mediation Board Defied.

The strike of the CIO local in the North American Aviation division of the United Automobile Workers of America was called on June 7 while a labor dispute was before the National Defense Mediation board, contrary to an understanding that workers would remain on their jobs at the plant during the negotiations. The plant had been producing 10 military planes daily.

After rioting broke out between pickets and Los Angeles police, the President on June 9 ordered the army to take control of the plant. Troops restored order. Since then an agreement between management and labor has been negotiated.

COAL CONSUMERS WARNED AGAINST 'PANICKY' BUYING

"Reports have reached this office," he said, "that consumers are being asked to pay unreasonably high prices on the theory that there will be a serious coal shortage in the fall. On the basis of present estimates, there is no reason to suppose that there will be any shortage of coal at the mines. Such local shortages as may occur would result from the increased burden on the transportation system of the nation in the fall. For this reason this office is urging consumers to buy and store their winter coal now."

In some cases, Dr. Harr said, consumers are being asked to pay as much as 35 to 50 cents a ton more than they paid last winter.

Ultimatum to Company

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The defense mediation board at Washington, D. C., yesterday set a time limit, 5 p. m. today, for the management of Western Cartridge company, Alton, Ill., to accept or reject the board's recommendation that it recognize the AFL Chemical Workers union for its smokeless powder workers, and thus avert a strike called for next Sunday.

Ralph Seward, board secretary, served this notice on John Olin, vice president of the company which holds about 100 million dollars in orders for small arms ammunition, and the company promised a prompt reply.

Recognition Only Issue.

The board declared that recognition of the union, as ordered by the National Labor Relations board, was the only point at issue, but that the company had indicated it would appeal to the courts.

Government officials said that "decisive" action was being considered in the event the company ignored the mediation board's request, but refused to comment on the rumored possibility that troops would be used, as in the case of the North American Aviation strike.

In St. Louis, meanwhile, more than 1,500 AFL construction workers stayed away from a 4 million dollar construction project at Jefferson barracks in what union leaders termed a test of the use of WPA workers at subunion wages. WPA workers were permitted to enter the military reservation and there were no picket lines.

Vote Press Wireless Strike.

Other labor developments included:

SAN FRANCISCO—Members of the CIO Communications union voted to strike against Press Wireless, newspaper wireless service, unless 20 per cent wage increases were granted. Present wages were reported to be $45 to $50 a week. The company has offered a 5 per cent raise.

TRONA, CAL.—The American Potash and Chemical corporation plant, idle since March 14 because of a CIO strike, reopened as 500 workers passed thru a picket line, with 100 sheriff deputies maintaining order.

The company said workers would be paid 78 cents to $1.20 an hour, the scale offered after the union demanded 92 cents to $1.35.

CLEVELAND—A strike of production workers at the two Cleveland plants of the White Motor company, turning out a new type scout car for the army, was authorized in balloting by members of the United Automobile Workers of America [CIO]. No date for the strike was set. The union asked a wage increase of 10 cents an hour, and asserted the strike vote was taken because of failure to reach an agreement with the company.

Halt Magazine Construction.

Savanna, Ill., July 2 [Special].—Work on construction of underground magazines for storing munitions at the Savanna ordnance depot was at a standstill today as a result of a strike of 200 carpenters and laborers employed by the Edward M. Rocho company of Freeport. The strike was attributed to the company's refusal to sign an AFL union contract.

Markets Thruout Country to Observe July 4 Holiday

Independence day will be observed tomorrow by security and commodity markets thruout the nation. It will start a long holiday for many as the New York Stock exchange, the New York Curb exchange, the Chicago Stock exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade will be about the only markets operating Saturday.

Tax Payments Double Firms' Dividend Total

Tax collectors took more than twice as much money out of American corporations last year as was paid in dividends to the stockholders whose investments helped make the enterprises possible. This was shown in a study made public yesterday by the American Federation of Investors, Inc., a nonprofit organization.

The compilation, which covered 165 representative corporations, disclosed also that taxes took 55.9 per cent of the companies' net earnings before taxes. That was a bigger proportion than the 53.5 per cent absorbed by taxes of all kinds, state, federal, and local, in 1939.

"That the fears of investors regarding the ever increasing tax burden imposed on American industry are well founded is indicated by the survey," the federation said.

Percentage Rise Continues.

"The percentage of total taxes to net earnings continued to rise despite the impetus given to industrial activity in 1940 by the spending of hundreds of millions of dollars in the [armament] effort, and appropriation of additional billions to be spent as rapidly as possible."

The study covered companies which in 1940 had $44,974,942,130 of assets, 653,815,300 common shares, 5,686,689 holders of common stock, and 3,490,601 employés.

The total of federal, state, and local taxes paid by the 165 companies rose to $2,565,356,532 last year from $1,979,837,898 in 1939, an increase of $585,518,634, or 29.6 per cent.

Profit Up 17½ Per Cent.

Net earnings after taxes, showing a much smaller gain than the taxes, totaled $2,022,987,658, against $1,721,354,505, an increase of $301,633,153 or 17.5 per cent.

Dividends paid to holders of common stock increased $170,390,245, amounting to $1,247,356,732 last year, compared with $1,076,966,487 in 1939.

The average of taxes per common share was $3.92, against $3.05 in 1939, but dividends per common share rose only to $1.91 a share, from $1.66.

The corporations' tax load was equal to $451 for each stockholder, compared with $354 in the preceding year, and to $735 for each employé, against $612.

Hits Unnecessary Spending.

Excess profits taxes paid by 73 of the 165 companies under the second revenue act of 1940 totaled 153½ million dollars. Less than half of the corporations covered by the survey were subject to the tax last year.

"It is to be regretted that our country came into a period of vast necessary expenditures [for armament] at a time when we had accumulated an enormous public debt, and when the federal budget had not been balanced for 10 years," the federation said.

"No one should complain of high taxes for national defense. Besides, high taxes tend to prevent ruinous inflation. But all unnecessary expenditures must be eliminated. Wasteful spending on unnecessary projects should be stopped immediately."

U. S. ALUMINUM PURCHASES FROM CANADA DOUBLED

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP). — Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, announced today he was doubling purchases of Canadian aluminum for the American armament program.

He said that the Metals Reserve company, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was buying an additional 170,000 metric tons of aluminum from Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd., for delivery in 1942, 1943 and 1944.

SWITCH IN ARMS ORDERS UPSETS TOOL INDUSTRY

U. S. Pays for Many Being Scrapped.

New Speed Up Order

Washington, D. C., July 2 [Special].—A new order designed to speed up production of machine tools was announced today by E. R. Stettinius Jr., Office of Production Management director of priorities.

The order extends limited blanket preference ratings to approximately 450 builders of machine tools and similar metal-working equipment. The builders must agree to terms of the order before they can use the ratings to speed up deliveries of materials.

One change provided is that subcontractors of machine tool builders may also extend the rating to their own suppliers. Also, various ratings are provided for various companies. Heretofore one rating has been applicable to all machine tool builders.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rockford, Ill., July 2.—The sudden administration switch from emphasis upon building of pursuit airplanes to production of long range four motored bombers has brought confusion, discord, and delay to the nation's important machine tool industry. The sudden about-face in airplane rearmament also is causing an enormous wastage of public funds, it was learned in a survey completed here.

Tool manufacturers of this city, in Cleveland, or Cincinnati [the three great toolmaking centers of the middle west] were reticent to speak for publication. Bound up with government contracts, and with every delivery controled by the Office of Production Management, the toolmakers said they did not dare to take any public stand. Nevertheless they are incensed over the situation which is not of their making.

Must Start All Over.

Most serious of the difficulties is the delay. The change in policy means a change in specifications for the precision lathes, drills, cutters, polishing, and honing machines that are required for building modern aero engines of 1,000 to 2,000 horse power. These changes in some instances mean a writing off of work commenced months ago and now nearing completion in tool shops. They mean starting again from scratch to build new tools.

All this of course means expense. It is not expense comparable to the building of wrenches, saws, chisels, and the tools with which most men

AIR LINE'S STOCK TO BE LISTED ON CHICAGO BOARD

Trading Expected to Start Early in August.

The executive committee of the Chicago Stock exchange announced yesterday that it has approved the application of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., to list 599,593 shares of $1 par common stock. After the usual 30 day registration period with the Securities and Exchange commission, the issue will be traded on the local board.

The issue, which is handled on the New York Stock exchange, will be in addition to the 20 for which the Chicago exchange has applied to the SEC for unlisted trading privileges. Trading in these is expected to start about Aug. 1 if the SEC approves the program.

Membership Price Rises.

Arrangements were made for the sale of a membership on the Chicago exchange at $550, up $50 from the preceding sale which was the lowest since 1915.

Midland Utilities 6 and 7 per cent prior lien stocks set new 1941 highs at 14 yesterday, up ¾ and 1, respectively. These issues started their climb in May following a SEC suggestion for settlement of claims between Midland Utilities and Midland United companies.

Reversing the recent trend, stocks in general turned upward in trading of 15,000 shares. A comparison of several dually listed issues, showing the changes from the New York close in the trading from 2 to 2:30 o'clock, follows:

N. Y. PRICES RISE.

New York, July 2 (AP).—The stock market unburdened itself of some war worries today and recaptured a part of the ground lost in the slow decline of the last week.

Recovery, altho held to modest proportions, brought a sizable list of gains in such groups as steels, rails, farm implements, chemicals and industrial specialties.

Best prices were shaded a little by some final hour profit taking. Up fractions to around a point at the finish were United States Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Anaconda, Du Pont, Union Carbide, Case, International Harvester, Santa Fe, New York Central and Pennsylvania.

Standard Oil [N. J.], Pepsi-Cola and Commonwealth & Southern preferred reached new 1941 highs. The last named soared 5 points.

ATTEMPT TO LIFT HOG PRICE FAILS; AVERAGE STEADY

An attempt by sellers to force hog prices upward met opposition yesterday and the average for the session was unchanged at $10.30 a hundred pounds. Another decline of 50 cents a hundredweight in some outs of fresh pork restricted buying of hogs.

Packers accepted $20.50 a hundred pounds for top light loins, the lowest return from this cut since June 6. The scant supply of lambs on the open market sold at steady prices. The best new crop natives brought $11.50 a hundred pounds. Old ewes were firm, at $4.75 and below.

EXTEND CHINESE CURRENCY FUND ANOTHER YEAR

Washington, D. C., July 2 (AP).—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. and T. V. Soong, financial representative of China, today signed a one year extension of the treasury's $50,000,000 currency stabilization credit to China.

Officials said the extension was necessary because the American stabilization fund automatically expired June 30 and was renewed by congress.

Under the Chinese agreement, the American fund buys Chinese currency to the equivalent value of $50,000,000 and pays for it with American money which China can use in world transactions.

SWITCH IN ARMS ORDERS UPSETS TOOL INDUSTRY

U. S. Paying for Many to Be Junked Unused.

are familiar. Modern turrent lathes that will take a steel forging at one end and turn out a complete six throw crankshaft for a modern V-12 aero engine at the other are 90 feet long. They may cost anywhere from $10,000 to $50,000 each, and require six months to build.

U. S. Pays for Wastage.

"Of course it costs money to write off work nearly finished and begin again," one precision machine maker said. "It costs us the engineering effort put into the plans for the first machine, the material, and the labor. And of course we charge the buyers for these costs, when cancellations come with replacement orders.

"The government takes the load from the plane maker or engine builder. Some of the recent guarantees of millions of dollars for tools, patterns, and dies have been made to cover wastes of money due to changes in plans by the OPM or the war department."

No production of planes, motors, propellers or other aircraft accessories can begin until the tools for the job are available. The motor builders in the east, the automobile manufacturers who now have aero engine orders, and the new government assembly plants cannot begin to function until they can get the machine tools from the relatively few concerns that produce them.

Most of the machine tool makers have been in emergency production on their lathes and stamping machines for more than two years. When President Roosevelt proclaimed a limited emergency and established the outline of the original armament program, the tool makers took many new orders for special machines to make airplane motor cylinders, pistons, connecting rods, crankshafts, etc.

Many of these are being delivered at this time and the makers are well started on the tools for the later orders from automobile makers who were given orders for airplane engines.

Change Upsets Program.

But the trebling of these orders and the switch from pursuit planes to four engined bombers has upset the entire program. Tool makers, already straining resources of their plants, are swamped by the changes required.

"One auto manufacturer who is to build plane engines in Chicago started out ordering tools for a 14 cylinder 1,600 horse power radial motor," a Rockford tool maker said today. "Within the last 48 hours he has been notified that he must double the capacity of the new plant he is building for this work, and that he will not build a 14 cylinder engine at all.

"Instead he must build a nine cylinder radial engine of 1,200 horse power. This change was made specifically to assist in the four engined bomber program.

"Both the long range bombers now in production here—the Boeing B-17 and the Consolidated B-24—utilize 1,200 horse power motors. The 1,600 horse power engine had been intended for pursuit planes and dive bombers when the automotive builder first was given his job. Now the pursuits and dive bombers are shelved for the heavy bombers."

Huge Tool Series Junked.

In another instance a whole series of special machining tools made for an engine builder was junked just before delivery because of an army or navy specification change. The military forces demanded a change in machining technique, in the depth of cooling fins, and in studs for holding the cylinder to the crank case. They were adamant even after learning of the production difficulties the change would produce.

"We just keep plugging along," a tool builder said. "When told to make the changes we go ahead and make them. We never worry about delivery dates, because the constant shifting of specifications prevents us from ever setting and keeping a delivery date.

"We go ahead with the engineering for the change, make up our new patterns and dies, and then go ahead and build the new machine. We also add the costs of all the extra work to the price for the tool. It's all we can do."

A great many of the tool makers said that they now have such large backlogs of orders that changes made at this time have little effect. Most orders placed now are for delivery in 8 to 12 months, they said.

Starts Delayed 6 Months.

"We don't even commence the engineering on such orders for another four to six months," they explained. "Changes that come in before this blueprint work begins don't bother us. It's the changes that come later that jam the shop."

One tool maker said that he had been told to build 40 special machines to make a special kind of propeller fitting. When he circularized his customers he learned that they could use only a fifth of that number. The machines were so efficient that 40 could turn out sufficient parts for 240,000 propellers a year. This number is far beyond new requirements because two large propeller companies are already turning out propellers at the rate of 19,000 and 21,000 each in a 12 month period.

"That is just a sample of the confusion into which the government has turned our industry," the tool maker said.

DOUGLAS PLANE EMPLOYES PAID VACATION BONUS

Los Angeles, Cal., July 2 [Special].—Vacation bonus checks totaling $750,000 will be distributed to 30,000 employes of the Douglas Aircraft company, Donald Douglas, president, announced today. Further, Douglas said, any wage increases which might result from conferences under way in Washington will be retroactive to today.

Douglas said the company, along with others in southern California, several weeks ago began a survey of living costs and government contracts with the view of adjusting and standardizing wage scales.

On March 31 a blanket wage increase was given Douglas workers. This increase amounts to more than 2 million dollars annually.
